RUMANIA ACTS TO SWEEP OUT FIFTH COLUMN

Italians Are Called Back Home.

BULLETIN.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 18, Saturday (AP).—The Stockholm newspaper Tidningen reported today from Moscow that it is rumored there that the Russian government had made representations to Berlin in the interests of preserving Jugo-Slavian neutrality. A Jugo-Slav representative yesterday visited Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov, the report said.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUCHAREST, Rumania, May 17.—Rumania acted tonight to sweep all possible "fifth column" agents out of the country. At the same time, the Italian legation here advised all Italians in Rumania to leave for home.

At least 2,000 aliens were affected by the ministry of interior decree ordering all foreigners who entered Rumania after Sept. 1 to leave immediately. The move was designed to clear out all persons who came into the country with permits entitling them to stay one month but have been getting them renewed from month to month. The order, however, will not affect those having legitimate reasons for being here.

Prepare for Parachutists.

Measures to ward off parachute attacks also were being taken as a result of Nazi blitzkrieg methods in Norway, Belgium, Holland, and France. Along with this security move, closer supervision of news sent abroad also is to be taken.

The government continued earlier moves to keep the army ready for action by storing reserves of fuel. All firms producing or distributing petroleum products in any form received warnings they must keep their storage tanks full. This is one way the Rumanians hope to accumulate ample reserves.

Belgrade Chiefs Worried.

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, May 17.—The unexpected deterioration of Jugo-Slav-German relations today was understood to be continuing, altho no further Nazi press attacks on this country were reported. Inner circles of the Belgrade government were reported puzzled and worried because there is no apparent reason for a change in the Berlin-Rome desire to keep war out of the Balkans and because of reports from Rome concerning imminent Italian intervention in the war.

As a result, still further measures were being taken to prepare this country for possible war. Every effort also was being made to eliminate acts which could be interpreted as provocative.

Call Up 60,000 Greeks.

ATHENS, Greece, May 18 [Saturday] (AP).—The war ministry early today called the 1935 military class to the colors. Composed of men 26 years old, the class will report May 25 and will number about 60,000. Observers said most of the men would be sent to the border of Albania to swell the already large number of Greek troops facing Italian forces there.

Set Up Antiaircraft Guns.

ZAGREB, Jugo-Slavia, May 17 (AP).—Additional antiaircraft guns were mounted today on Zagreb's highest building because of Jugo-Slav fears of being involved in the war. Troop train traffic thru this city was heavy.

Denies Cabinet Desertions.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 17.—Prime Minister Bogdan Philoff today denied reports that some members of the cabinet had deserted recently and told interviewers he saw no reason why Bulgaria should be involved in the war.

Ontario City Bars Teaching, Public Speaking of German

LEAMINGTON, Ont., May 17 (AP).—The town council today forbade the use of the German language in public and the teaching of it in schools for the duration of the war. German is heard frequently here since Leamington is in the center of a large settlement of German born people.

BOAST 100 MILE GUN WILL FORCE CITY TO GIVE UP

Louvain Captured by Nazi Army.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 17.—Nazis tonight boasted that the surrender of Paris is a "matter of 10 or 15 days at the utmost."

They made this prediction several hours after Adolf Hitler's army had smashed its way into Brussels, the Belgian capital, and after the German high command had announced that swiftly moving troops were driving deep into northern France along a 65 mile front with Paris as their goal.

"76 Miles from Paris."

Jubilant Nazis asserted the Germans were within 76 miles of Paris after a fierce drive between Maubeuge and Montmedy. The assertion, however, lacked both confirmation and details.

The high command announced Brussels was captured after Hitler's "blitz" army had swept thru Louvain, 16 miles to the east of the Belgian capital, and Mechelen (Malines), 14 miles northeast.

A threat to shell not only Paris but towns in England was contained in reports of the development of a giant gun which, the Germans said, has a range of at least 100 miles. The Big Bertha, whose shells struck Paris during the world war, had a range of 75 miles.

Hint Drive Toward Calais.

"Germany's new long range guns either can shell Paris, or they can be trained on cities across the English channel if the Fuehrer's main forces switch their advance northward to Calais," enthusiastic Germans said.

Nazis offered bets to foreigners that Paris will give up in two weeks and that "within" three months at the most France and England will have suffered the most spectacular defeat in history."

Take Brussels in Eight Days.

BERLIN, May 17 (AP).—German troops today marched into Brussels on the eighth day of Adolf Hitler's new blitzkrieg whereas Kaiser Wilhelm's troops in 1914 goosestepped into the Belgian capital on the 17th day of their invasion.

The whirlwind drive in Belgium and France also brought German troops pounding at the outer fortifications of Antwerp, 28 miles north of Brussels, while to the south of the capital they were reported to have pierced the Dyle river position between Brussels and Namur.

British Back Toward Coast.

South and west from the Namur region, the German advance on French soil pushed thru sections of the little Maginot line, where that defense system has been extended along the Belgium-French frontier, the German high command reported. Claims that German forces had punctured the main French defenses also were made.

Allies Plan Big Boost in U. S. Plane Orders

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 17.—The allied purchasing mission in the United States today announced plans to purchase more than 3,000 additional American fighting planes as congress began consideration of President Roosevelt's proposal to build the nation's air force up to 50,000 planes.

Arthur H. Ballantyne, secretary-general of the allied purchasing mission, said that orders for 500 million dollars' worth of new planes and engines probably would be placed in the next few weeks. It was estimated that the half billion dollars would get the British and French more than 3,000 planes.

An Unmentioned Factor.

Ballantyne refrained from discussing the new purchases in the light of the American rearmament program. In his message to congress yesterday Mr. Roosevelt said that nothing should be done to hinder plane acquisition by the British and French and their allies.

It was announced that the British and French have placed orders for more than 1 billion dollars of war necessities since the outbreak of the war last September.

More than 65 per cent of the total, or about 650 million dollars, represented orders for some 4,000 planes and aircraft equipment. Machine tools and munitions accounted for 200 million dollars. Electrical equipment, armaments, clothing, metals, boats, horses, and mules accounted for the balance of 150 million dollars.

He'd Fly Planes Across.

Ballantyne said that if the Anglo-French purchasing board could get delivery of some of the larger planes allied pilots would probably fly them over the Atlantic.

"But where are we going to get ships to fly over?" he asked. "Delivery is not what we should like it to be, altho everything is being done as rapidly as is humanly possible.

[Officials in Washington moved yesterday to build new airplane plants in more secure locations inland. Illinois senators and congressmen were seeking to have the proposed new engine research laboratory located in Chicago. Details on page 9.]

Enroll Marksmen for Defense

BY BOB BECKER.

Sportsmen of Chicagoland launched a movement yesterday to enroll the nation's seven million civilian club marksmen into a third line of defense. They will form the sportsmen's defense reserve, a patriotic civilian organization pledged to cooperate with the army in defense of the country if the need arises.

The reserve is to be purely voluntary. It is to provide an organization that will bring together the trapshooters, big game hunters, fieldshooters, and other gun experts of the country as a force to assist and augment, in case of crisis, the regular army and National Guard units. Events in Europe, and particularly the use of parachute troops, have emphasized the value of civilian marksmen to back regular forces.

Walter C. Peacock.

Calls Gun Club Officers.

Walter C. Peacock, State street merchant and a former officer of the Amateur Trapshooters' association, who is nationally known as a field and trap shot, issued invitations to officers of all Chicagoland trap and skeetshooting clubs to meet next Monday at 6:30 p. m. in the Hotel Sherman to speed organization.

"I believe sportsmen who are familiar with rifles or shotguns or both can do our country a real service if we form such a sportsmen's defense reserve," said Peacock.

It was pointed out that these civilian marksmen could be armed with such semiautomatic rifles as are manufactured by the Winchester and Remington arms companies because of their familiarity with similar hunting rifles and with pump guns. The Winchester company says it can make 150 semiautomatics of one type a day on its ordinary shifts, and the Remington company last night said it has 900 men at work, but declined to estimate how high its daily output of such weapons could be pushed. Machinery, of course, is available for making these guns to arm the civilian marksmen without competing with the supply of rifles to the regular army and National Guard.

Peacock said the plan materialized after sportsmen read of recent events in England where civilians in hundreds of towns and villages have been organized for defense against German parachute soldiers. The decision, he added, was inspired by a recent editorial in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE advocating the listing of the nation's aviation pilots for national defense.

Two Picture Pages

War pictures and maps fill two pages of today's Tribune—

On the back page: A map of the present battle front, showing also the day by day advance of the Germans in Belgium and France. Pictures by Clipper mail.

On page 7: Pictures by cable and by Clipper of German prisoners in London, war zone refugees, and destruction caused by German bombs.

Seven Million Strong.

There are approximately seven and a half million licensed hunters in the United States who are familiar with firearms, including 85,000 skeet and trapshooters. This huge unorganized army in hundreds of towns, cities, and small communities from coast to coast would be invaluable in a national crisis calling for guard and patrol work, Peacock said.

Officials of three of the leading skeet and trap shooting clubs in the Chicago area have pledged their support to the movements, Peacock said.

Herbert Chidley, Palatine, president of the Northwest Towns Sportsmen's club, said his group had discussed the value of sportsmen shooters in case of emergencies.

Confident of Coöperation.

"I am sure that every one of the 150 members of our club will be thankful for the opportunity to take part in the movement," he said.

"I think the idea is a splendid one," said James R. Anderson, vice president of the Illinois Skeet Shooters' association. "I feel sure every trapshooter, big game hunter, and other marksmen will feel it a patriotic privilege to get behind a movement that will bring all of us together in one big organization to serve in a civilian capacity in case our country needs us."

STRIKE BY LAND AND AIR TO CUT OFF FOE'S THRUST

BRITISH RETREAT; DUTCH GIVE UP 2 ZEELAND ISLANDS

BULLETIN.

LONDON, May 18, Saturday (AP).—Dutch troops were reported today making their last stand on their own soil—the left bank of the Scheldt river—after abandoning the islands of Beveland and Walcheren in Zeeland province on the North sea.

LONDON, May 17 (AP).—British troops withdrew tonight to the west of Brussels, occupation of which was announced by the Germans, while Dutch and French forces abandoned the Netherlands islands of Beveland and Walcheren, among the last of the Dutch fronts of resistance to the Nazi invaders.

Disclosure of the withdrawal from Brussels was made in a brief British war office communique following an appeal by an official source to Britons to keep "stout hearts and cool heads" in the face of German successes in Belgium and the deeper drive into northern France.

Abandonment of the Dutch islands, which are in Zeeland province, was decided upon after heavy bombardment by German planes and artillery, it was reported here.

No Question of Collapse.

The war office declared there was "no question of a collapse or breakthru" in the Brussels sector, where allied troops had fought bitterly to halt the Germans in the vicinity of Louvain.

During the night of May 16-17 certain adjustments to the front having become necessary, the B. E. F. [British expeditionary force] was withdrawn to positions west of Brussels," the communique said. "This readjustment was carried out without interference."

The cause of the withdrawal was said to be the fact that the German armored divisions which had penetrated into France were spreading fanwise, with one column swinging northwest toward the sea. The apparent reason for this move was to try to catch the British forces in Belgium in a pincer movement.

King Studies Maps.

It was explained that while the situation is grave, it is not irremediable, and that "shocks may occur, but the government are certain the people will prepare themselves to face any test with nerves and steel."

At midnight British general headquarters issued the following communique:

"Successful operations were carried out by the B. E. F. Several enemy aircraft were brought down by antiaircraft and small arms fire in addition to successes of the royal air force. Morale of the troops is very high."

The day's developments brought Britain and France face to face with the most dangerous menace to their existence since the dawn of March 12, 1918, when the Germans launched their attack against the British 5th army—an attack which almost won the world war for the kaiser.

King George VI. drove from Buckingham palace to the war office tonight and spent an hour studying western front maps. The king later received Prime Minister Winston Churchill at Buckingham palace.

Claim Air Successes.

One bright spot in the dark picture was an account of achievements by British warplanes which continued relentless bombing.

The air ministry claimed the Germans had lost more than 1,000 planes since the invasion of the Low Countries began and credited its own airmen with inflicting tremendous damage on communications in western Germany, on mechanized columns, tanks, transport, and gasoline reserves.

Deriding German claims of 1,462 allied planes destroyed, the air minister commented that the German high command "must have published their own losses in error." The allied losses, it added, were only a fraction of the figure reported by the Nazis.

Nevertheless, the air ministry's communique warned that Germany's reserves "are considerable and for the time being at least are able to sustain their effort."

Seek to Draw Death Knot on Nazis in Meuse Sector.

PARIS, May 18, Saturday (AP).—Spurred by the order of Gen. Maurice Gustave Gamelin to "conquer or die," the French army unleashed furious counter-attacks today, seeking to draw a hangman's knot about the ponderous advance of heavy German tanks into northern France.

In wooded ravines and open fields of the sector bounded by Avesnes, Vervins, Rethel, and Sedan the French closed in by land and air trying to strangle the Nazi thrust west of the Meuse. The Germans advanced daringly forward of their supply bases, which the allied warplanes bombed incessantly.

A "Veritable Melee."

The French high command called the action a "veritable melee."

The violent action came with the dawn of the ninth day of the advance of Adolf Hitler's gray-green legions into Belgium and France in a desperate try for a decisive victory.

To the north the German assault continued against lines the allies had established west of Brussels.

Report 80 Ton Tanks.

The spearheads of Germany's mechanized attacks into France today were reported to be 80 ton tanks armored to resist guns of every caliber short of the French 75 millimeter field piece.

The newspaper L'Epoque, which carried the report, said these giant machines clattered ahead of darting whippet tanks—light fast machines—and armored cars that mopped up in their wake.

Paris, now in the army zone, was quiet. Policemen patroled their regular beats with rifles slung over their shoulders.

"CONQUER OR DIE"

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 17.—In words reminiscent of those penned by Gen. Joseph Joffre during the battle of the Marne in the world war, Gen. Maurice Gustave Gamelin, allied commander in chief, tonight called upon French troops "to die on the spot" rather than yield any ground to the Germans.

As Gen. Gamelin spoke, giant German tanks, supported by low flying bombing planes, renewed their savage attack against allied lines thru which they already have driven a 35 to 40 mile pocket into northern France.

"Fate of World" at Stake.

Gen. Gamelin's order of the day said:

"The fate of the motherland, that of our allies, and the destiny of the world depend upon the battle now being waged. English, Belgian, and Polish soldiers and foreign volunteers are fighting by our side.

"British aviation, like ours, is engaged in its fullest capacity. Every unit which cannot advance should die on the spot rather than give up the parcel of national soil confided to it. As always in the grave hours of our history, the order today is: 'Conquer or die. We must conquer.'"

[Following is the text of the order addressed by Marshal Joffre to all French army headquarters and to troops on Sept. 6, 1914: "We are about to engage in a battle on which the fate of our country depends and it is important to remind all ranks that the moment has passed for looking to the rear; all our efforts must be directed to attacking and driving back the enemy. Troops that can advance no further must, at any price, hold on to the ground they have conquered and die on the spot rather than give way. Under the circumstances which face us no act of weakness can be tolerated."]

Every possible form of mechanized warfare was being employed both by the Germans to advance and the French to stop them. The battle, still raging tonight, was described as a veritable mêlée of unprecedented violence.

Break Military Laws.

Giant German tanks were striking out in small numbers, driving far from their bases in defiance of old established military laws of protecting the flanks of advancing forces.

The Germans, according to the French communique, pushed westward at Avesnes and Vervins. Vervins, directly east of Saint Quentin, is 30 miles northwest of Rethel, which is about 100 miles northeast of Paris. Avesnes is 20 miles further northwest than Vervins.

Allied airplanes were striking with their full forces, bombing the German motorized columns, road junctures and railheads. The French troops, it was reported, put up a stiff resistance. Where they were forced to withdraw, however, they blew up their stocks of oil and gasoline and did other damage. The German infantry was not able to advance at a speed commensurate with the advance of its assault tanks.

After reorganizing their lines, the French appeared to have retarded the German advance, at least temporarily. Some of the heaviest fighting occurred in the vicinity of Rethel, where the Germans increased the intensity of their effort with the aim of turning the left wing of the Maginot line.

Best Troops in Battle.

The renewed heavy fighting, coming after a comparative lull, involved some of the strongest and best German elements, which had been rushed up to reënforce the advance motorized columns.

The pocket which the Germans have driven into France extends from Rethel on the south to the Sedan sector on the east and to the Sambre river on the north.

A French high command spokesman referred to at least three German motorized columns pushing forward over the Meuse river, but he said that these movements were being carried out by the Germans under such harassing air attacks that they had suffered very heavy losses.

The Germans, it was said, now are crossing the Meuse almost entirely by pontoons, bombing attacks having destroyed almost all the regular bridges.

South of Sedan, where the Germans had driven a 10 mile salient into France, the battle raged fiercely, with both sides repeatedly attacking and counterattacking as the tide of conflict changed. Some villages and woods in that region have changed hands five or six times since the fighting started.

Maginot Line Quiet.

East of Montmedy, along the Maginot line proper, the situation was quiet.

It was disclosed today that Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain flew to Paris yesterday for a conference with Premier Paul Reynaud and Edouard Daladier, minister of national defense and war. Several British military experts accompanied Churchill.

Premier Reynaud was visited today by American Ambassador William C. Bullitt. The Spanish ambassador also called on Reynaud. Slightly less concern was manifest about the Mediterranean situation and the possibility that Italy might enter the war on the German side.

The government published a decree creating territorial guard units to protect against enemies behind the front, such as German parachute troops and fifth columnists. The formation is open to all nonmobilized men 16 years of age or older.

This unit, commanded by Vice Admiral Adolphus Andrews, is operating separately from the main body of the fleet, which is assembling for its first week-end anchorage in Lahaina roads.

ALLIES ROUT 30 NAZI RAIDERS IN AERIAL DOG FIGHT

German Bombers Caught Over Belgian Village.

BY H. TAYLOR HENRY.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY, Somewhere in Belgium, May 17 (AP).—Standing in front of a village church, I saw a squadron of some 30 German planes carry out a raid today.

In a nearby field, a farmer continued his ploughing.

About 10 miles away the Germans started dropping their bombs. French and Belgian antiaircraft guns opened up, adding puffs of smoke from their bursts to wisps of clouds.

Suddenly a French and British fighter squadron appeared, scattering the German planes. One plane dived toward our group, and we jumped to a stone wall for protection.

Attacked by 3, Downs 1 Plane.

One fight ended in death for a British pilot—but not before he had downed one of three German planes attacking him from the front, rear, and above.

The British plane crashed about four miles from us in a meadow. The Belgian peasants, with tears in their eyes, told us, "The poor lad. He was a hero. He fought with his plane to the very end to keep it from falling into the center of our village. He lost his own life, but he saved many of ours."

In one French town on the frontier, the official death list of an earlier German raid stands at 37, of whom 15 were children. But one bomb destroyed a café where several score others had taken refuge. Those are not yet accounted for.

Witnesses of the raid said that after the Germans dropped their bombs they returned and machine gunned crowds in the street who were trying to help the wounded.

AIR RAIDS KILL HUNDREDS

BY DREW MIDDLETON.

WITH THE BRITISH EXPEDITIONARY FORCES ON THE FRENCH-BELGIAN FRONT, May 17. (AP).—Altho the British forces have fought bitterly in the Louvain area and along the road to Brussels, three days of German bombings in Belgium and France have cost hundreds of lives.

The Nazi air offensive has been met with bravery by the British royal air force, but present R. A. F. strength is not enough to launch an offensive of its own.

British Shoot Down 21 Planes.

The British air force today shot down 21 more German planes and sent bombers over the lines to smash the advancing German columns. The Royal Air force now claims it has "conclusively" shot down 156 German planes.

There has been no relief for British pursuit squadrons fighting Nazi planes atacking British troops and positions on land.

Only this morning came word that German Heinkel planes dive-bombed a railway station where a trainload of Belgian refugees had just arrived. Twelve refugees were killed and scores were wounded.

Technically the bombing is confined to "military objectives"—a phrase which covers every town with a railway station or bridge.

Aircraft bearing high explosive, incendiary, and delayed-action bombs have attacked these "military objectives" at a dreadful cost of hundreds of human lives.

Burning Towns Light the Sky.

Last night the sky was alight with burning towns. The town we stopped in shook with the explosion of heavy bombs and anti-aircraft fire. The effects of the bombing were brought close when we passed thru a village which 15 minutes later was bombed by eight Heinkels. Incendiary bombs had turned the placid main street into a roaring bonfire when we returned. Refugees huddled in doorways or lying under ponderous farm carts had been wounded or killed.

Troops turned from their own tasks to rescue the wounded and extinguish the fires. An hour later the streets were cleared and the refugees—a 20 mile column of suffering and pain—again stumbled thru the town, past charred houses and broken bodies.

BELGIUM MOVES GOVERNMENT TO NORTH SEA COAST

But American Envoy Stays in Brussels.

PARIS, May 17 (AP).—A Havas [French news agency] dispatch from Brussels today said the Belgian interior minister informed Belgians by radio that the government had moved "elsewhere in Belgian territory."

Previous dispatches said the government moved to Ostend, on Belgium's North sea coast. However, Havas said, United States Ambassador John Cudahy, with some other neutral diplomats, had remained at Brussels, the capital.

The minister, Van der Forker, said it was "a painful decision to which we were resigned in the face of evidence of the necessity," altho allied troops were fighting foot by foot at various points.

Situation Like That of 1914.

Van der Forker spoke in the place of Premier Hubert Pierlot, who, it was said, was "busy."

"After several days of war," the interior minister said, "we find ourselves in a situation which, without being nearly as serious, recalls in certain respects that of the first weeks of the 1914-1918 war. We have conviction we will soon see the same improvement as then."

The following Belgian war communique, dated "somewhere in Belgium," was published tonight by Havas news agency:

Army's Morale Called High.

"Our troops accomplished methodically the movements foreseen by the plan of operations. On the afternoon of May 16 a regiment of foot soldiers participating in the defense of a canal particularly distinguished itself in repulsing with heavy losses German units which were trying to cross by foot bridges."

The Belgian day communique admitted allied withdrawals in Belgium, but said the Belgian army "remains intact and its morale is high.

Gen. Henri Denis, Belgian defense minister, insisted "the situation is reassuring" and warned against nervousness.

An earlier Belgian communique, dated Ostend, Thursday evening, said: "North and northeast of Antwerp enemy patrols made contact with our positions. Further to the south some local infantry attacks failed under the fire of our defense. In central Belgium violent attacks were delivered against positions occupied by the allied forces."

STORY OF FLIGHT FROM BRUSSELS BY TRIBUNE MAN

Once Busy Capital Turns Into Deserted City.

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 17.—I left Brussels late Thursday afternoon. Belgian and British censors told American newspaper correspondents at noon that no more news was going out of the Belgian capital.

Telegraph services were shut down in the early morning. The big post-office building had the same deserted look as other administrative buildings. Miscellaneous papers in heaps were lying around the courtyard. Some of the heaps were burning. A highly elated office boy told me that orders had been received not to accept telegrams of any kind.

Chute Troops Throw Scare.

On the hill near the royal palace in the fenced off district behind barricades and guards with loaded rifles—precautions against "fifth columnists"—I caught hold of the sleeve of a harassed cabinet minister. He related the story I had heard for five days—the situation was serious, but there was no good reason for people losing their heads as many appeared to be doing.

He talked about parachutists who apparently had thrown a bigger scare into the people than anything else. He said a few parachutists had been caught in the region of Brussels. He quickly added that the story of thousands being dropped in the forest of Soignes was false. The government, he said, probably would leave Brussels during the day, tho nothing definite had yet been decided.

Brussels that afternoon was a strange city. In the bright sunshine, rare for Belgium, the capitol appeared to have gone to sleep. The hum of a big city's activities was gone. The only loud noise—the whining of street car wheels at curves—sounded like profanation.

Stand Limply at Doors.

Many stores still were open. However, the proprietors and sales persons stood limply at the doors as if they never expected to do business again.

A steady stream of refugees traveled down the central avenue of Brussels, which runs from the north to the south railway station. They were as quiet as figures in a dream. It was the same spectacle that occurred at Warsaw a few months ago.

There were bicycles with children strapped to them; baby buggies with the bundles piled inside; little handcarts, dogs which had come along with the family, and farm carts piled high with mattresses, bedding, pots and pans.

Exhausted Fall Out of Line.

In the throng I spotted a flock of white crested ravens and found they were black robed and white hooded nuns—forty of them—from a convent at Aerschot, a town which had been bombed. Those who were completely exhausted fell out of line and sat on the curb until they felt strong enough to take up the march again.

One young woman carried all her possessions in a little bundle which she had tied with twine to her shoulders. She was leading two little girls by the hand. I judged the children were about 5 years old. The woman put each foot ahead wearily and mechanically like a marionette. She stared straight ahead. Her lips were closed tightly. She was sobbing.

TONI NOVISKA.

Toni Noviska, Polish ballerina, was en route to Hollywood yesterday on the Santa Fe Line's Chief to try out for one of the leading rôles in the motion picture production of Erich Maria Remarque's "Flotsam." Miss Noviska was a member of the Warsaw Opera ballet. She fled the city only a few days before the German occupation, made her way to Hungary and thence to Milan, Italy, arriving in New York three weeks ago.

Churchill Asks Chamberlain to Head Conservative Party

LONDON, May 17 (AP).—Prime Minister Winston Churchill today asked his predecessor, Neville Chamberlain, now lord president of the council, to continue his leadership of the Conservative party in the house of commons. As head of the new national government, Churchill said he preferred not to undertake the leadership of any party.

Sailors on Foreign Ships Barred from Swedish Soil

STOCKHOLM, May 17 (AP).—Sweden today forbade all sailors on foreign vessels to leave their ships while staying in Stockholm harbor as a further restriction on foreigners and safeguard against possible "fifth column" activity. The order marked "a significant increase of control over foreigners," said a high police official.

CHICAGO IS VAST FACTORY TO AID IN U. S. DEFENSE

2,000 Plants Ready to Speed Orders.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

Officials in more than 2,000 factories and machine shops of the Chicago area yesterday prepared estimates of the productive capacities of their plants as guides to the war department in the anticipated partial mobilization of industry for defense purposes. Considerable part of the 11 hundred million dollars asked by President Roosevelt for rearmament purposes is expected to be spent here.

Months ago the preliminary surveys and assignments of specific items for large scale production—from shell cases and telescopic sights to motor parts and time fuses—were completed by the procurement branches of the ordnance, engineering, quartermaster, signal, and medical corps here.

Ready to Speed Up.

Officers commanding these branches in the 6th corps area headquarters at the new post office building reported yesterday that most of the manufacturers would be ready to speed up on short notice. Educational orders placed during the last five years, and plans for shifting from peace time to war production will make the industrial mobilization easy, they said.

In every instance the war product assigned to a manufacturer would resemble the articles normally produced. For instance, the American Forge company, 2621 South Hoyne avenue, may be asked to forge 75 millimeter shell cases. The company's normal products resemble these forgings so the switch to the war orders should be easy, especially since the company just finished a test order for the 75 millimeter shell cases.

Available in Chicago for war production are 2,262 firms that produce goods which are essential to an army, a survey disclosed yesterday. And these companies employ 251,000 or approximately half of all the industrial workers in the Chicagoland area.

What Workers Produce.

These workers, according to Leverett S. Lyon, executive officer of the Chicago Association of Commerce, represent approximately 4 per cent of the nation's manufacturing employés. They are today producing 16 per cent of the country's rolling mill and steel works products, they refine 8 per cent of the nation's oil, make 13 per cent of the nation's electrical machinery, 12 per cent of the general machinery, and 27 per cent of the railroad cars.

These workers are skilled in processes necessary to manufacture artillery, tanks, planes, guns, engines, fuel, armor, uniforms, shoes, electrical, and radio appliances, and in the preparation of foods and the packing of meats. Chicago has facilities in an electrical power network that are second to none in the nation, and more than adequate water and coal supplies, Lyons said.

Adjustment of Chicago's 62 large machine shops that range in size from the Buda company at Harvey, employing several thousand men, to small shops where less than 100 employés are on the pay rolls, should take only a matter of weeks, the army officers said. Most of these shops would be used to machine shell casings, breaches of big guns, fuses, and similar items requiring precision work.

13 Large Forging Concerns.

The forging of steel, brass, copper, and other metals would be handled by 13 large concerns here, such as the American Forge company, the Great Lakes Forge company, 612 North Michigan avenue; Standard Forgings, 80 East Jackson boulevard, and the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company, 111 West Washington street.

Aluminum, iron, steel and zinc castings could be obtained from 80 companies doing this work. There are also six other companies that make bronze castings in this area. Other machinery manufacturers make conveyors, cranes, excavating machinery, foundry machinery, general machine tools, and screw machines. War requirements from these manufacturers mean no more changes than those that would follow new peace orders.

Procurement officers consider the presence of eight companies operating blast furnaces in the Chicagoland area, and the country's largest individual steel mills in the South Chicago, Whiting, and Gary districts, as important items in the industrial mobilization plan. All these mills would be given orders in time of war and probably all will receive some orders in the rearmament program.

Other Important Industries.

Important to this program also are the Chicago textile, chemical, and petroleum refining industries. Refining is the fifth most important of Chicago's basic industries. An investment of $226,000,000 infacilities turns out 9.3 per cent of the nation's refined petroleum products.

Chemicals in Chicago represent a $196,400,000 industry with a productive capacity of 11.3 per cent of the national total. Textiles, eighth most important Chicago industry, has an investment of $122,000,000 in mills here and produces 6.1 per cent of the nation's goods. In all more than 58 different types of industry here are available to make war materials.

Among those which have had large test orders in this area are the Electric Household Utilities corporation, manufacturers of boosters for the ordnance branch; Western Electric, radio builders for the air corps and the signal corps; Kellogg Switchboard and Supply company, makers of field telephones for the signal corps; Johnson & Johnson, medical supply house, makers of gas masks for the chemical warfare service, and the Elgin Watch company at Elgin, instruments for aircraft, artillery, and other branches.

Flee Bombed Area in Belgium

AMERICANS STAY DESPITE WARNING TO FLEE LONDON

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 17.—There was no rush of Americans to leave London today, despite the fact that the United States embassy here, acting on instructions from Washington, had advised all Americans in Britain to leave for home as soon as possible.

However, a steady stream of Americans seeking advice visited the embassy today. They were urged to go to Ireland and remain there while the state department investigates the possibility of sending a ship to take them across the Atlantic. An estimated 4,000 to 5,000 Americans still are in Britain.

This afternoon, the embassy said, "Americans who do not go to Ireland are advised to seek accommodations in uncongested areas as far as possible from metropolitan centers and points which might be considered strategic from a military viewpoint."

STUDY PLANS FOR WORLD'S BIGGEST DRYDOCK AT N. Y.

New York, May 17 (AP).—The world's largest drydock, designed for battleships of unlimited tonnage, has been projected in surveys of the port of New York authority, it was disclosed today.

Such construction, estimated to cost more than $15,000,000, was studied for two months at the urgent request of the navy department. Because the authority's report has not yet been given to the navy, the authority declined to discuss details.

Survey of charts and plans, both for construction and probable site of the superdrydock, was undertaken in line with the navy's policy of preparing for national emergencies, spokesmen said.

TELLS HOW NAZIS CROSSED MEUSE WITHOUT BRIDGE

Rafts and Pontoons Used Despite Heavy Gunfire.

BERLIN, May 17.—One of the third reich's reporter soldiers today described how the German army crossed the Meuse river after the retreating French had blown up a bridge.

The French had a strongly fortified position on the other side of the river extending from the heights of the Ardennes forest down to the river bank. German sappers armed with materials to build emergency bridges to enable tanks and artillery to cross otherwise impassable sections sprang into action. They were subject, the reporter said, to constant enemy artillery, machine gun and rifle fire while they frantically worked to construct a crossing.

Behind them their tanks and artillery awaited the order to cross to cover further German action.

Forced to Take Cover.

The job was difficult and dangerous, the reporter said, and the men frequently had to take cover when enemy fire became too hot. Nevertheless, the reporter said, the sappers carried their pontoons to the water, lashed them together and laid over planks.

Meanwhile, infantry men employing rafts and inflated rubber boats began crossing the river which was some 60 yards wide.

"A hot shower of glowing iron fell upon them, too. One raft reached land. Then another. A third sank, having been hit half way across. The fourth springs to its place. The fifth was hit just as it took off in the water," the soldier reported.

These troops which got safely across went quickly to work, the reporter continued.

Troops Under Strong Fire.

The enemy deserted his positions on the river bank. The bridge, meanwhile, had been completed. The Germans went to work cleaning up enemy troops in the woods and fields, but always under the fire of strong enemy positions on the heights.

"In order to prevent unnecessary sacrifice" of German lives, the reporter went on, diving bombers went to work on the enemy's fortifications. Following each dive there was a terrific explosion as heavy bombs blew earth, concrete, and bodies of men high into the air.

Before the survivors within the fortifications could recover from the shocks of the bombs German tanks and infantrymen were upon them. Hand grenades, heavy explosives, and machine guns completed the job begun by the diving bombers. Those enemy survivors who were able retreated quickly to their next line of defense while the Germans went after occasional enemy machine gun nests in the woods or small bunkers.

Thus, the German war correspondent declared, the Meuse was crossed.

TERRITORIAL GUARDS TO PROTECT FRANCE BEHIND FRONT LINES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 17.—"Military formations of territorial guards" will be provided for in a decree to be published tomorrow. The guards will "take part behind the front line in protecting the national territory against the enemy."

Each French community will have a branch of the guards. All nonmobilizable and unmobilized Frenchmen 16 years old or older and also reserve soldiers not now attached to an army unit may enlist.

Guards will serve near their homes, but only when the situation requires it. When on duty they will be subject to military discipline.

BRUSSELS TAKEN; PARIS IN 15 DAYS, GERMANS BOAST

Claim 100 Mile Gun Will Force It to Give Up.

concentrated in Belgium were heading for the coast while the French were backing toward Paris.

Evidently breaking thru the allied lines in the vicinity of Namur, the Germans were said to have penetrated a distance of 20 to 40 miles to a point south of the heavily fortified French city of Maubeuge, which is on the River Sambre, some 40 miles southwest of Namur, and about 120 miles airline northeast of Paris.

Namur, extreme right wing of the Belgian Dyle line, is believed here to be the scene of a terrific battle, after the Germans were reported to have taken the outer Namur forts.

Namur Well Fortified.

Namur is at the juncture of the Meuse and Sambre rivers and, according to the Germans, is equipped with all modern defensive weapons.

North of Namur the Dyle river fortifications extend into Belgium; south of Namur, the Meuse defenses extend to Sedan, thence southeast to the main Maginot line.

This seeming breach in the allied lines now is being exploited by the Germans.

It now is France's turn to experience what it means to hitch her wagon to England's star, after Poland, Norway, Denmark, the Netherlands, and Belgium, authorized Germans said.

Claim Allies in Dispute.

The advance into France, on a 65 mile front, was one of the fastest in the current campaign, and apparently the Germans occupied a position along the French-Belgian frontier region from the outskirts of Maubeuge to the west end of the main Maginot fortifications east of Sedan.

Germans asserted that the French and British were in dispute over where to make a stand against the German assaults.

The French, they reported, insisted on holding against a drive on Paris, while the British demanded that the Germans be kept from gaining a foothold along the channel ports, from which they might launch a killing attack against England herself or cut the way for strengthening the expeditionary force in France.

Praise Air Force.

"We have made progress of a magnitude almost beyond comprehension" in France, an authorized source said.

German successes were attributed largely to the air force, which Berlin officials contended had unnerved the allied armies with constant pounding by dive-bombers and ground strafers.

At one point, an authorized source said, a French battalion [of about 800 men] marched into captivity to escape further bombing, while at another point two generals surrendered with 12,000 troops.

Mass application of the air force, it was reported, has netted 1,500 enemy planes destroyed on the ground or shot down, and airports to a large extent paralyzed by bombs.

[A British source in London reported more than 1,000 German airplanes had been destroyed since the invasion of the Low Countries.]

Report 2 Warships Sunk.

For the air arm, the German high command communique today also claimed these successes in the war at sea:

Sinking of one enemy cruiser and one gunboat off the Netherlands-Belgian coast; damaging of two French destroyers; heavy hits on a transport which had to be stranded; a bomb hit on a battleship near Narvik, far northern Norway, and on a light cruiser, and setting fire to a 1,500 ton tanker. Also, in the North sea, a submarine presumably was destroyed by an air bomb.

In the land warfare the Germans estimated the French forces in Belgium totaled 100 divisions, or approximately 1,500,000 men; the British 350,000 men and the Belgians 300,000.

Namur Still Holds Out.

Government spokesmen used the term "catastrophe" to describe what is happening to these masses of allied forces in the face of the combined German air and ground attack.

In the advance thru lower Belgium, Namur apparently still held out altho the high command said "the northeastern front of Namur fortress was taken."

The fall of Louvain and Mechelen [Malines] and entrance of German forces into Brussels was announced in a special night communique, which stated:

"After the collapse of the British-French position to the south of Louvain, the German troops have entered Brussels this evening. Louvain also has fallen today to encircling attack.

Penetrate Dyle Line.

"After fierce fighting, German forces have penetrated the Dyle line north of Louvain and have taken Melcheln.

"North of Antwerp, the advancing German forces have reached the north side of the water.

"Yesterday, the allies attempted to effect a landing in the immediate vicinity of Narvik [in Norway]. Enemy troops, assembled in cutters, tried to take the German mountain troops by surprise under cover of darkness. The attack was, however, repulsed with heavy losses for the enemy."

ROYAL NORWEGIANS VOICE VICTORY HOPE IN RADIO BROADCAST

STOCKHOLM, May 17.—Addressing the Norwegian people over the radio from a snowy mountain fastness somewhere above the Arctic circle, King Haakon, Crown Prince Olav, and officials of the Norwegian government and army today broadcast messages of hope and faith in ultimate victory.

They also expressed an iron determination to continue their struggle until the German invader and domestic traitors are driven out and Norway is restored as a free and independent nation.

The broadcasts formed the main part of Norway's observance of her constitution day, commemorating the establishment of the Eidskoll constitution under which Norway lived in peace for 126 years. In happier times this day was celebrated much as the Fourth of July in the United States. Today a major part of the country, under German occupation, passed the day in silence.

HURT AS TORCH EXPLODES.

William H. Weber, 54 years old, of Lockport, was seriously burned yesterday when a blowtorch exploded in his hands while he was helping a neighbor repair plumbing.

CHRONOLOGICAL TABLE OF NAZIS' DRIVE IN FRANCE

PARIS, May 17 (AP).—The French calendar of the German drive into France follows:

MONDAY—The Germans, after rushing 60 miles thru Belgium, reached the east bank of the Meuse and occupied French Sedan.

TUESDAY—Three passages were forced by the Germans across the Meuse on the 55 mile front from Sedan north to Namur, Belgium.

WEDNESDAY—German tanks, fanning out from bridgeheads on the west of the Meuse, raced into the French interior.

THURSDAY—The German columns camped off the highways, awaiting reënforcements and supplies of food, gasoline and ammunition.

FRIDAY—The German blitz patrols resumed their rush, but French and British air forces were counterattacking and French infantry, armed with antitank guns, lay in ambush. Overnight, south of Sedan, villages changed hands five or six times in violent, isolated engagements.

TROOPS RAID GERMAN SECTION IN REGINA; BATTLE WITH POLICE

REGINA, Sask., May 17 (AP).—Soldiers and civilians clashed with police in the streets here tonight as the officers attempted to halt a demonstration in which the windows and furnishings of several buildings were damaged.

The disturbance apparently was a sequel to last night's disorders, when it was reported that pro-German elements were planning to meet.

The Metropole hotel, a landmark; a beer parlor, and a barber shop were among the establishments damaged tonight.

In last night's disorders soldiers from the Regina garrison were said to have been in the body of men which stormed the German section of the city.

Shortage of Beauty Supplies Sends Geisha Girls on Strike

TOKIO, May 17 (AP).—Irate over a war engendered shortage of beauty supplies, 300 geisha girls struck today for higher pay. Thousands of others threatened a sympathy walkout. The strikers, highly organized, asserted geisha houses were profiting enormously, but their wages remained stationary.

BRUSSELS EIGHTH CAPITAL SEIZED BY HITLER ARMY

Brussels is the eighth of Europe's capitals into which German troops have marched in recent years. In succession, Adolf Hitler's legions have rolled into Vienna, Austria; Prague, Czecho-Slovakia; Warsaw, Poland; Copenhagen, Denmark; Oslo, Norway; Luxemburg, duchy of Luxemburg; Amsterdam, the Netherlands, and now Brussels, Belgium's historic capital.

Brussels, which fell to Hitler's forces after eight days of fighting, fell to invading forces of imperial Germany on Aug. 20, 1914. The city was reoccupied by the Belgian army on Nov. 18, 1918, a week after the armistice was signed. King Albert and his queen entered it four days later.

Brussels is about 70 miles from the North sea port of Ostend, where the Belgian government has established itself. Built by the Gallo-Romans centuries ago on the islands of the vast marshes of the Senne river, the city's name means "village of the marshes." Besides being a center of culture, Brussels, with a population of 910,000, has been a thriving shipping center for exports of plate, glass, iron, marble, sugar, and coal.

ALLIED FIGHTERS REPORTED READY TO ENTER NARVIK

STOCKHOLM, May 17 (AP).—Allied and Norwegian troops were reported tonight about ready to enter Narvik, far north Norwegian ore port which has been besieged by the allies since shortly after German troops captured it more than a month ago. Reports from the Narvik sector said French Alpine troops were pounding ceaselessly against confused German resistance in mountain areas east of Narvik.

Say Germans Withdraw.

LONDON, May 17 (AP).—The British war office said today that parties of German troops were seen withdrawing eastward from Narvik toward the Swedish frontier. The admiralty announced that naval aircraft destroyed fuel tanks at Slorgaaspynt, blew up two tanks at Strudshaven and fired two more at Knarven, all in the Bergen area of Norway. All the British planes returned safely, the admiralty said.

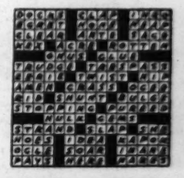
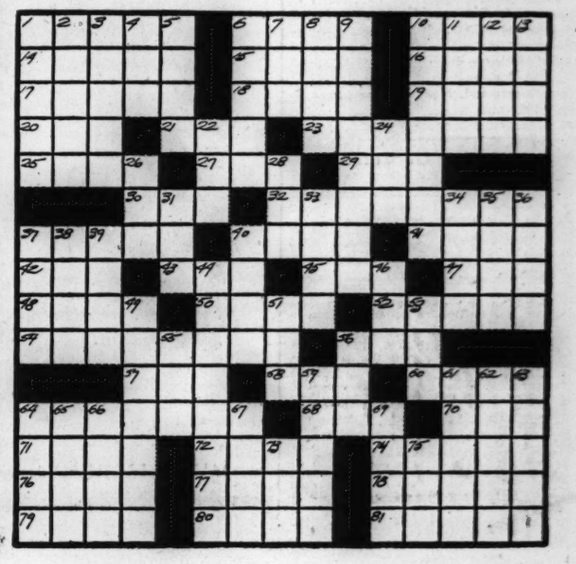
PUZZLE OF FRIDAY MAY 17, SOLVED





BIG BRITISH CITIES SPROUT GUNS IN DEFENSE FLURRY

Guard Against Sabotage and Chute Troops.

BY JOSEPH CERUTTI.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 17.—London and other big cities in Britain are being converted into armed camps as a precaution against sabotage or a lightning invasion by German parachutists.

Armed guards at government offices and important buildings have been heavily reenforced, and machine guns and barbed wire entanglements set up at strategic points.

Flying columns operating autos and trucks equipped with radio have been organized to coöperate with the newly formed "parashooter" corps, and police and the military stationed on main highways have been checking the identity of automobile passengers.

Scotland Yard Active.

In the London area Scotland Yard is coöperating closely with the military in the new precautionary measures. Every night 100 police radio cars are detailed to patrol duty.

At Folkstone, on the southeast coast, a military guard opened fire on an auto which ignored an order to halt. The motorist said he failed to stop because he had not heard the challenge.

The government today put the finishing touches on a new scheme to evacuate school children from London and 26 surrounding districts as soon as air raids begin. So far only 50,000 of 500,000 children still in London and the outer districts are registered for evacuation, but recent events have shaken the confidence of parents and new registrations are increasing.

Spread Over Eight Days.

The new evacuation will be spread over eight days. When the signal is given the children will assemble at schools at 7 a. m. and march with their teachers and voluntary workers to the nearest subway, from where they will be removed to the outskirts of London to await trains to take them to safety zones in the provinces. In addition to being labeled, every child will be ordered to take his identity card, ration book, a change of underclothing, a day's supply of food, a coat, a spare pair of boots, and night clothes.

It was announced today that 10,000 school children who had been removed to east coast areas will be transferred immediately to South Wales. Since a German bomber recently crashed at the holiday resort of Clacton, parents of the evacuees have protested against children being billeted on the east coast, which many regard as more dangerous than London.

Changes in Food Control.

Drastic changes in the government's system of food control in wartime were foreshadowed in a report issued by the committee on national expenditure. The committee suggested the government set up an authoritative body of scientists and experts to work out a basic plan for the food policy of the future.

It warned that the plan should provide for the possibility that Britain may have to face conditions "where we shall have to make full use of every ounce of our available resources." Dealing with the food ministry's trading operations, the report said the present system of controling meat prices involves the government in a loss of 20,500,000 pounds yearly [about $66,800,000]. "It appears questionable," the report added, "whether this should not properly be regarded as a subsidy to British farming rather than as a contribution to keeping down the cost of living."

The ministry of labor index showed that from the outbreak of the war to May 1 living costs had jumped 35 points.

NAZIS GET 390,000 TONS OF GASOLINE IN NETHERLANDS

BERLIN, May 17 (AP).—Germany fell heir to 300,000 tons of gasoline in the Netherlands exclusive of Amsterdam and an estimated 90,000 tons more in Amsterdam as a result of the Dutch army's capitulation, informed sources said today.

[The Dutch set fire to their Amsterdam storage tanks on the day of the army's surrender.]

These quantities, German sources said, were far in excess of what German, planes, tanks, and other motorized war machinery consumed during the five day blitzkrieg which, therefore, was "good business." In Norway, it was said, Germany also inherited much more gasoline than was expended there.

Americans in Gibraltar Urged to Leave Quickly

CIVILIAN BOMBING CALLED HORRIBLE BY ANNE MORGAN

Air Attackers Rout Ambulance Unit.

PARIS, May 17 (AP).—Miss Anne Morgan, sister of J. P. Morgan, American financier, today said German bombardments of civilian refugees in northern France are "utterly horrible."

Anne Morgan.

Miss Morgan, organizer of the Friends of France committee, yesterday was forced to flee from northern France by German aerial bombardments while her ambulance unit, accompanied by cars of the American Volunteers' Ambulance corps, was trying to rescue civilians.

[Taking cognizance of reports of German bombardments of American ambulances in France, the official short wave broadcast of the German government said the "honor of the German air force is too high to be defamed by such atrocity stories, which clearly betray the intention of allied propaganda to incite public opinion in the United States."]

Nazi in British Uniform.

Miss Morgan refused a formal interview saying: "I'm too busy getting my girls out in the field again after that horrible experience." However, she delegated Miss Ophelia Tiley of Essex, Conn., to speak for her.

One of the most startling things that the women drivers discovered, said Miss Tiley, was a German pilot who had been shot down while wearing a British royal air force uniform.

His back was broken and he was dying in a French shelter when the women arrived in a little northern French town.

"How can you justify the bombing and machine gunning of women and children?" one woman asked him.

Miss Tiley said the pilot replied: "This is war. Heil Hitler!"

He asked, however, that his wife and family be notified after his death.

Rail Centers Suffer Heavily.

Many of the casualties among the civilian population were caused by bombardments of railways and stations which are regarded as military objectives, said Miss Tiley.

Three American ambulance corps drivers reached Paris today with sick and wounded French civilians from northern France. The Americans were Sam Pierce of Dallas, Tex.; Phil Coniglio of Lincoln, Neb., and Julius Berger of New York City.

Pierce said 9 of the 10 ambulances which originally set out hid in the woods to escape bombers.

PRESIDENT GLUES EYE ON THE WAR; VACATION IS OFF

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 17.—President Roosevelt today canceled a projected week-end visit to his boyhood home at Hyde Park, N. Y., because of the pressure of the European situation and his program to rearm the United States.

He joined with state department officials in a vigil on European cables to follow the progress of the great battle along the western front.

Mr. Roosevelt also said that his proposed 21 day transcontinental tour next month is probably off. The tour was to have carried him to the San Francisco fair by a southern route and back to the capital by a northern route, including a cruise on the Great Lakes.

2 Communists Sentenced to 10 Year Terms in France

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 17. — Convicted of spreading defeatist propaganda among French troops, two communist workers today were sentenced at Versailles to 10 years in prison and fined 1,000 francs [about $18.20] each. These were the most severe sentences imposed thus far in trials of this nature. Three other men charged with making "antinational remarks" were sentenced to three year prison terms.

ARMY ZONE RULE GIVES PARISIANS A TASTE OF WAR

All Traffic Placed Under Military Control.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 17.—When Paris awoke this morning it found itself—legally—in the French army zone and subject to all the restrictions that this implies. The control of all travel by train, automobiles, and motor bus has been taken over by the military authorities.

To leave the French capital it is now necessary to have a safe conduct permit, which can be granted only upon presentation of proof that the trip is necessary. Obviously, persons with legitimate reasons for travel will have no difficulty in getting this permit and there will be no attempt to make Parisians stay in the city if they wish to get out.

Buses continued to be absent from Paris streets, but the subway was running as usual, with its traffic doubled, and there were hundreds of taxicabs.

Close Roads to Civilians.

Five Paris gateways facing north and east have been closed to all except military traffic. Civilian trucks also are required to stay off many French roads. In the Paris area these included the highways from here to Rouen, to Havre, and to Amiens.

Many other French highways also have been placed on the forbidden list, including those from Nantes to Rennes, Lyons to Grenoble, Bordeaux to Limoges, and Toulouse to Montpellier. This action was taken to expedite military traffic.

Rail traffic on certain lines in eastern France, except for the army, was canceled today. Increased train services, scheduled to begin next Sunday, have been postponed until further notice, it was announced.

Be Calm, People Urged.

All these facts indicate that Paris is living in an atmosphere of war. A proclamation urging the population to remain calm and resolute was voted by the municipal council. It stated that steps have been taken to assure the protection and food supply of the capital. In addition it urged Parisians to keep watch "for persons spreading false news, defeatists, and traitors."

Paris papers continued to publish editorials urging vigorous action against the fifth and sixth columns. Grouped under the sixth column term are persons who express admiration of Germany and exaggerate German successes, thereby causing dismay and doubt in many minds.

Watch for Parachutes.

From the Seine-et-Oise department near Paris, it was announced today that the first detachment of "parashooters" had been organized. The job of this local militia will be "to be on the lookout for enemy parachute troops, to ferret them out, and to neutralize their activities." Members of the new civic guard to be organized in every French hamlet will be armed, but for the present will not wear uniforms.

The ministry of education was busy today making plans to provide school facilities for the 150,000 Belgian child refugees now estimated to be in France.

Until further notice it will be impossible to buy firearms of any kind in Paris without first obtaining a special permit, it was announced tonight by the prefecture of police. This decision has the approval, it was said, of the military governor of Paris.

NEW AUSTRALIAN FORCES BOLSTER NEAR EAST ARMY

CAIRO, Egypt, May 17 (AP).—Great Britain's army in the near east was bolstered today by arrival of a big convoy of Australians.

Many of them sons of men who fought at Gallipoli in the world war, they formed the second contingent of Australian troops sent overseas since the war began. Some of the Australians traveled in a big liner which was painted a drab gray. Others came in troopships which have been moving imperial regiments.

The first contingent of Australians landed here about two months ago and now they are part of the allied forces assembled to guard the lower Nile valley.

Resume Cable Services to Allied Belgian Points

New York, May 17 [Special].—Cable service to all points held by the allied forces in Belgium was resumed today after a disruption of several days, the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies announced. The service is being relayed to Belgium thru London. Since Wednesday the only direct link with Belgium had been the radio telephone service of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, and that has been used only for governmental messages.

FRENCH BLOW UP BRIDGE ON RHINE; GUNS JAR BASEL

Shell Span to Prevent a Crossing by Nazis.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BASEL, Switzerland, May 17.—This corner of peaceful Switzerland felt its first physical shock of the war at 5 o'clock this morning when French artillery blew up a railway bridge across the Rhine at Huningue, France. The blasting was more of a precautionary measure than a necessity because the bridge had not been used since the war began and was in need of repairs. Observers said the bridgehead might have been used by the Germans as a base for an army pontoon bridge.

The destruction of the bridge was only a small part of the morning fireworks. Big guns from the direction of Colmar, France, were heard during early hours.

However, the state of alarm which existed in this border city during the last two days lessened considerably today.

Seek to Quiet Fears.

The army staff issued a bulletin advising the public not to fear enemy parachute troops as an efficient defense organization had been completed.

Swiss refugees from Belgium are returning. There were approximately 6,000 Swiss in Belgium when that country was invaded. German diplomats who are returning home from Belgium are being detained in Valdorbe pending the arrival of Belgian diplomats from Germany. The exchange then will be made.

The Swiss franc, which dropped to 5.60 francs for an American dollar yesterday, bounced back to 5 bid today. A few Swiss banks reported mild runs, but such action in Switzerland causes no alarm. Bank failures seldom occur in this country.

World Bank Moves.

However, the Bank for International Settlements and some other business houses moved to Chateau d'Oex, Switzerland, yesterday. An estimated 25,000 persons have left Basel in the last week.

Certain Swiss authorities said they were provoked because English radios have been broadcasting alarming news about the likelihood of a German invasion.

HORNER'S PRESS AGENT ORDERED BEFORE INQUIRY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 17.—The invalid Gov. Henry Horner's press agent, Milbourn P. Akers, sometimes called the voice of the sick room regency, this afternoon was subpenad to appear on Monday night before an investigation committee of the house of representatives. He was commanded to produce pay rolls and expense accounts of his bureau, known officially as the division of the departmental reports, under Finance Director Samuel L. Nudelman.

The four Republican members of the committee of seven appointed by Speaker Hugh W. Cross [R., Jerseyville] are particularly curious about political activities of this tax supported press bureau. Their appetites were whetted by an admission yesterday by William B. Walsh, patronage boss of the state house machine, that his staff of 13 in his hotel headquarters is distributed among various department pay rolls.

Akers has his own office and staff at this Democratic headquarters during political campaigns. He is also a publicity aid to Democratic candidates as well as to the public offices under Gov. Horner.

HITLER REDUCES KAISER'S TIME IN WAR ON BELGIANS

Germany's march into Brussels, Belgium's capital, yesterday cut more than in half the time in which the armies of Kaiser Wilhelm II. accomplished the feat in 1914, while Nazi penetration to at least 35 miles beyond the French border was weeks ahead of the world war time table. The Germans crossed the border into Belgium on Aug. 4, 1914, and moved into Brussels Aug. 20—on the 17th day.

Adolf Hitler's army required only eight days to enter Brussels.

The kaiser's armies rolled on thru Belgium and into France but it was early September—a month after the war started—before the battle of the Marne was fought and the Germans halted.

Today—eight days after the start of this blitzkrieg—the Germans are in Rethel, 35 miles south of Sedan on the French border, and are well ahead of the 1914 advance.

At the start of the world war, the French advanced into Alsace, then a part of Germany. This move soon was abandoned, however, and fighting continued in France.

Four Canadian War Flyers Killed by Crash in Ontario

COBOURG, Ont., May 17 (AP).—Four Royal Canadian Air Force flyers were killed when their plane crashed in a swamp 15 miles north of here today. The airmen were identified as Flight Lieut. Harvey Jasper of Winnipeg; Flying Officer G. E. Auld of Toronto, Flying Officer J. E. Pidcock of Montreal, and Aircraftman John R. Kean of Windsor.

GUNMEN SEIZE $484 PAY ROLL.

Two masked gunmen yesterday invaded the fourth floor office of the Frederick Post company, 155 East Ohio street, dealers in drawing materials, threatened 20 employés, and seized a pay roll of $484. The robbery occurred two minutes after the money had been delivered in an armored truck.

Baltimore, Md., May 17 (AP).—Horace J. Dodge Jr., 40 year old automobile millionaire, is honeymooning with Martha [Mickey] Devine, 27, former Vanities show girl. They were married here after obtaining a waiver of Maryland's 48-hour marriage license law.

The brief ceremony was performed in the dining room at the home of the Rev. Dr. John Henry Day, pastor of the Seventh Baptist church. It was Dodge's third marriage. In 1921 he married Miss Lois Knowlson and they were divorced in 1927. She reportedly received a settlement of $10,000,000. In 1928 he married Mariel Sisman in London. They were divorced in 1938.

Dodge is the father of two children by his first wife.

ANCESTRAL ISLE OF ROOSEVELTS TAKEN BY NAZIS

Washington, D. C., May 17 (AP).—Surrender to German invaders of the Island of Tholen, Holland has brought within the hands of Hitler the supposed ancestral lands of President Roosevelt.

"Ancestral Island."

Dispatches today told of the fall of the island in the province of Zeeland, in southwest Holland. Zeeland was the only portion of Holland where soldiers were not ordered by the Dutch high command to cease firing this week.

From the island of Tholen, so some historians say, Klaes Martenszen van Roosevelt, lineal ancestor of two American presidents, came to New Amsterdam [later New York] in 1649.

His other presidential descendant was Theodore Roosevelt, who visited the island when he made a tour of Europe after retiring from office.

BRITISH LIST AIR CASUALTIES; 268 KILLED IN ACTION

LONDON, May 17 (AP).—The first air ministry casualty list since total war burst over the western front today showed the following British air service losses:

In action—16 killed, three wounded, and 96 missing.

On active service—11 killed, five wounded, and 10 who died.

The list, which failed to specify dates, brought the announced totals to 268 killed, 48 wounded, and 332 missing in action and 466 killed and 80 wounded while 234 died on active service.

BRITISH RELAX BLOCKADE FOR ITALIAN LINER

Rex Passes Gibraltar Without Stop.

ROME, May 17 (AP).—The violent Italian campaign against allied contraband control apparently bore fruit today as the Italian liner Rex, eastbound from New York, passed Gibraltar without being stopped.

The Italian Line reported that the westbound Conte di Savoia stopped at Gibraltar earlier in the day, but was not specific on whether it, too, had been exempted from the customary British search.

That anti-allied feeling persisted, however, was indicated when Lionel Green, a New York photographer, was attacked by Italians.

New Posters Appear.

Green said the Italians asked him if he were English. When he replied that he was American, they tried to smash his camera, but did him no physical injury.

Two new antiallied posters appeared on walls, one a mock obituary notice for the British fleet. The other reminded Italians of the "Italianity" of French Corsica.

The Italian senate, which heard today a report that extraordinary military expenses would put the country 26,000,000,000 lire [about $1,300,000,000] further into the red this year, went into secret session, presumably to hear more confidential war reports.

Officials Enthusiastic.

Official enthusiasm ran high for German war successes against the allies.

The Vatican City paper, L'Osservator Romano, subject of angry criticism in recent days by pro-German elements because of its war reports and comments, dropped political matter today.

The Fascist Catholic paper Lavvenire, however, broke the press' silence on the matter of Italian-Jugo-Slav tension, remarking:

"In the Balkans, Jugo-Slavia seems to be giving way to restlessness, which, if it has a precedent in the traditions of the tripartite kingdom, furthers neither Danubian equilibrium nor Mediterranean peace."

SCHEME TO TRAIN 10,000 AS PILOTS CALLED ILL TIMED

Washington, D. C., May 17.—Plans for organization of nine camps for training an estimated 10,000 civilians as airplane pilots, said to have direct authorization of President Roosevelt, were dismissed as premature late this afternoon by the army, navy, and the Civil Aeronautics authority.

The army and navy air units said their training facilities would be taxed to the limit by the aviation expansion contemplated in President Roosevelt's 1 billion 182 million dollar defense program. Under the program 7,000 pilots are to be trained in the coming fiscal year.

The Civil Aeronautics authority said that its civilian pilot training program is at the expansion peak under present conditions. The CAA will graduate 11,000 college flyers in the next two months and begin training another 11,000 next September.

Officials in all three centers of air training said that they had not personally heard of the plan to train 10,000 additional pilots.

BEACH A FORMER U. S. LINER HIT BY AERIAL TORPEDO

LONDON, May 17 (AP).—A hoodoo seemed to dog the Belgian liner Ville de Bruges, formerly the United States liner President Harding, from the time she left New York until she became a battered and burning wreck at the mouth of the river Scheldt, Canadian survivors said today.

The 13,869 ton liner was beached after a German aerial torpedo struck her and killed four members of the crew as she headed out of Antwerp with 64 passengers last Tuesday. The passengers were saved.

Crewmen said misfortune began a day out of New York last November when a seaman died. As the liner neared Europe, the engines broke down and she had to be towed to Falmouth, England. Later another crewman died of a mysterious illness—and then came the bombing by the German plane. The ship was one of eight sold to the Société Maritime Anversoise, a Belgian company, soon after American neutrality regulations closed most European waters to American ships.

U. S. WIFE TELLS OF NAZI CHUTE DRIVE IN HAGUE

LONDON, May 17 (AP).—Mrs. J. M. De Booey, American wife of the Dutch general manager of an oil firm, who escaped in a fishing trawler during the German siege of The Hague, today said, "It was simply impossible for us to hold out longer in the face of such great odds." With her two daughters and husband, Mrs. De Booey made her way across the English channel. They started last Tuesday night, navigating by dead reckoning because of lack of instruments.

Gen. Henri Gerard Winkelman, commander in chief of the Dutch army, "ceased fighting only when he saw what inevitably would happen should he attempt to hold out longer," she said.

Mrs. De Booey said the Germans arrived first at 3 a. m. on Friday. On landing, the Nazi chutists used buses, motorcycles and other means to get to their designated stations. "Grenades, incendiary missiles, and rifles were used from points our troops could not see," Mrs. De Booey added.

NEW ARMY BILL PLANS FOR ONLY 2,400 AIRPLANES

Defense Program Funds to Build Plants.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 17.—A bill providing a total of 1 billion 696 million dollars for the war department during the next fiscal year was approved today by the senate military appropriations subcommittee.

This was more than twice the amount previously voted by the house. The senate group added 865 million dollars to the house bill after hearing President Roosevelt's billion dollar defense program explained briefly by Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, and Maj. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the air corps.

Calls for 2,400 Planes.

While there is much confusion in the minds of committee members as to details of the national defense program, the following outstanding facts were made clear at the hearing.

1 The program does not call for an increase of the army and navy air forces to 50,000 planes, as most members of congress and perhaps the whole country believed after hearing President Roosevelt's address to congress yesterday. In fact, the funds requested for the army will provide for only 200 combat planes—all giant four motored bombers—and 2,200 training planes. The new funds requested for the navy and marine corps—250 million dollars—will provide for no additional planes. This money will be used for expedition of warship construction.

2 The program, according to Gen. Marshall, is intended to provide equipment by the end of 1941 for an army of 1,000,000 men.

3. The regular army is to be expanded as soon as possible from its present strength of about 227,000 to its authorized peace time strength of 280,000; the National Guard is to be expanded from its present strength of 235,000 to approximately 320,000, which will bring existing units up to full peace time organization strength. This will provide an initial protective force of about 600,000 men, excluding the regular army garrisons stationed outside the continental limits of the United States.

This is the force that could be mobilized immediately in case of war. The war department's program, however, provides for the acquisition of equipment for an army of 1,000,000 men on mobilization day.

Committee Adds Troops.

President Roosevelt's program called for an increase of only 15,000 in the strength of the regular army, but the senate subcommittee, at the request of Gen. Marshall, added 50 million dollars for the enlistment, preparation and maintenance of additional troops to bring the army up to its full peace time strength of 280,000 men.

The bill approved by the subcommittee includes funds for 200 bombers, 2,200 training planes, and in addition 166 replacement combat planes or a total of 2,566 aircraft. The original budget provided for 166 replacements, the house cut it to 57 and the senate subcommittee put it back to 166.

The army today has 2,709 planes, of which all but 52 large bombers are regarded as obsolete. The army has approximately 3,100 planes on order, of which number about 2,800, including 1,960 first line combat planes, are scheduled for delivery by July 1, 1941. The navy has a total of 1,780 of what it calls "useful" planes and enough on order or appropriated for to bring its air strength up to the authorized limit of 3,000.

New Defense Budget.

Senate committee additions to the bill under the new national defense budget included 647 million dollars in cash and authorizations to let contracts aggregating 218 million dollars. Major additions were: Air corps, for new planes and equipment, 89 million cash and 73 million in contractual authority; ordnance, 204 million cash and 100 million in contractual authority; signal corps, 31 million cash; sea coast defenses [domestic], 9 million cash, 5 million in contractual authority; Panama canal defenses, 5 million cash, 4 million in contractual authority.

The subcommittee took no action on President Roosevelt's request for a 200 million dollar blank check appropriation, but part of this is to be added to the bill when the full committee meets on Monday and the remainder will be added to the naval appropriation bill. This money is to be used primarily for the expansion of aircraft production capacities.

Gun Information Incomplete.

The subcommittee did not receive complete information as to the number and sizes of guns to be acquired. However, Senator Elmer Thomas [D., Okla.], chairman, said the program would provide for a total of only 240 of the army's new 90 millimeter antiaircraft guns; 1,103 37 millimeter antiaircraft and antitank guns; 730 light and 194 medium weight tanks; 340 scout cars, and 235,000 Garand semiautomatic rifles.

Figures were not available as to the number of 105 and 155 millimeter howitzers to be acquired, but it was announced that the program will give the army a total of 1,439 modernized French 75 millimeter guns, out of a total world war stock of 3,500 of these obsolete weapons.

The Springfield, Mass., arsenal is to be expanded for the completion of the semiautomatic rifle program. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. [R., Mass.] said it appeared that instead of placing contracts or educational orders with private manufacturers, for the purpose of gearing their plants to meet the army's requirements in an emergency, most if not all the artillery weapons are to be manufactured in government arsenals. However, the arsenals are to be expanded and operated by private manufacturers, who will act as agents of the government.

The army appropriation includes funds for the training and equipment of 7,000 airplane pilots. If the national defense program contemplated an air force of 50,000 planes for the army and navy, a much greater pilot training program would be required.

Thus it is apparent that when President Roosevelt said the nation "should plan at this time a program that would provide us with 50,000 military and naval planes" he was talking about planning—that is, expanding the productive capacity of aircraft plants—and not about acquiring the planes at any given time in the future.

The President in his defense message also asked congress not to take any action "which would in any way hamper or delay the delivery of American made planes to foreign nations." The American army and navy therefore will get the production capacity, while Great Britain and France will get most of the planes so long as they need them.

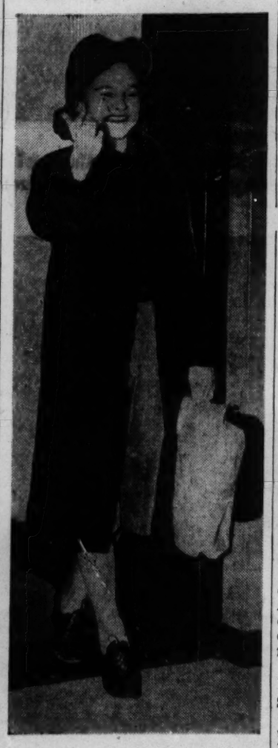
Freed by Jury

(Story in adjoining column.)



Mrs. Aino Tossevainen leaving the county jail after acquittal.

YOUNG MOTHER IS ACQUITTED OF COURT SLAYING

Jury Takes 7 Hours to Reach Verdict.

A jury in the court of Judge Joseph A. Graber late last night acquitted Mrs. Aino Orgo Tossevainen, youthful mother, of the murder of Mrs. Mabel Buchanan. The seven men and five women jurors deliberated nearly seven hours before reaching a verdict.

Mrs. Tossevainen admittedly shot and killed Mrs. Buchanan in the Juvenile court building on March 13. At the time they were awaiting a legal ruling on the possession of Mrs. Tossevainen's daughter, Taimi, 4 years old. The child, a ward of the court, had been placed as a boarder in the Buchanan home.

Jury Takes Five Ballots.

The defendant took the verdict calmly, saying only, "I'm so happy." Earlier she had asserted she was glad the methods of the Juvenile court in dealing with mothers had been exposed.

The jurors disclosed that five ballots had been taken and that the first vote was nine to three for acquittal. The others, until the last, showed an 11 to 1 division.

Irwin W. Johnson, superintendent of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society, said the acquitted mother probably would be able to get her child now, but that it was a matter for the court to decide.

State Asks Punishment.

In closing arguments Assistant State's Attorneys John Long and Irwin Clorfene contended that the killing was premeditated and that the slim Mrs. Tossavainen, only 25 years old, should be punished for ending the life of a good citizen.

For the defense Attorney Robert Romano asked that the jury take into account Mrs. Tossavainen's ill health, poverty-stricken life and mental instability. He asserted that while she was sane at present, she was not mentally capable at the time of the shooting. He blamed social workers for driving her to distraction.

"If some one had put an arm around this girl's shoulders and talked to her in a friendly manner," he said, "she wouldn't be here charged with murder. Social workers are to blame for this tragedy. If they could have felt the pulsations of a mother's heart, instead of treating her troubles in their own smart way, there would have been no murder."

G. O. P. NAMES PRYOR NEW ARRANGER OF CONVENTION PLANS

Philadelphia, Pa., May 17 (AP).—Samuel F. Pryor Jr., Republican national committeeman from Connecticut, today was appointed to succeed Ralph E. Williams of Oregon as head of the committee on arrangements for the Republican national convention here next month. Williams died last night.

Pryor, 41, lives in Greenwich, Conn., and is assistant vice president of the American Brake Shoe and Foundry company. He flies his own plane and will commute to Philadelphia daily to further plans for the convention starting June 24.

The committee on arrangements adopted a resolution inviting former President Herbert Hoover to address the convention.

DINNER HONORS GEN. LAWTON AS GUARD CHIEFTAIN

Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton was guest of honor at a dinner last night signalizing the beginning of his service as commander of the 33d division, Illinois National Guard. The dinner, attended by Maj. Gen. Roy D. Keehn, his predecessor, and division staff officers, was in the division headquarters at 208 South La Salle street.

Gen. Lawton was named by Gov. Horner on May 4 to succeed Gen. Keehn, whose retirement was reported to have been inspired after a series of differences with Gov. Horner on political and military points.

Earlier in the day Gen. Lawton announced the appointment of Lieut. Col. Frederick B. Skeates as colonel in command of the 124th field artillery. Col. Skeates succeeds Col. C. C. Haffner Jr., who recently was appointed a brigadier general, in command of the 58th field artillery brigade.

HOLD UP DIVORCE OF WOMAN TO FIX RESIDENCE

Judge Oscar F. Nelson withheld his signature from a divorce decree which he indicated on Wednesday he would grant to Mrs. Marian Reynolds. He said he would leave the decree unsigned pending an investigation of her legal place of residence.

Mrs. Reynolds, who is 30 years old, gave her address as 10 West Elm street when she asked a divorce from Jay Sterling Reynolds. Mrs. Frances Slone testified that Mrs. Reynolds had lived with her since April of 1939. But Joseph Vieckman, manager of the the building at 10 West Elm street, protested later that Mrs. Reynolds did not live there, but had only visited there. Judge Nelson thereupon got in touch with Mrs. Reynolds' attorney, Thomas J. Downs, an associate of the law firm of Schuyler & Hennessy. The judge ordered Downs to prepare subpenas for Mrs. Reynolds, Vieckman and Mrs. Slone, and called for another hearing.

1939 Tax Payments Exceed 16 Million; Deadline June 1

Collections of 1939 taxes now total $16,132,305, County Treasurer John Toman announced yesterday. Of this amount, $13,342,305 was for real estate taxes and $2,790,000 for personal property bills. Toman reminded taxpayers the first tax penalty date, June 1, is less than two weeks away. The entire 1939 personal bills and the first instalment on realty bills are due June 1.

BERLIN REGARDS U. S. DEFENSE AS DOMESTIC ISSUE

BERLIN, May 17 (AP).—Berlin official quarters today generally regarded President Roosevelt's preparedness message as a domestic American matter. Germany, they said, is the last country to object to any other nation building up its defenses.

Foreign office circles were especially interested in President Roosevelt's renewed assurance that the United States wants to stay out of war. They expressed no opinion on the President's reference to the proximity of foreign forces in the Antilles and Iceland, explaining Germany is not interested in the western hemisphere.

President Roosevelt's mention of "fifth column" activities prompted German officials to remark that evidently he had listened too much to British and French radio commentators and had concerned himself too little with real facts.

All 21 American Republics Protest German Invasions

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, March 18, Saturday (AP).—All 21 American republics have approved a joint declaration protesting German invasion of neutral countries, Uruguyan officials said today, adding specifically that the United States had agreed to its terms. It was announced that the text of the declaration would be released at Panama later today.

TRIPLE CAPACITY NEEDED TO REACH AIR ARMADA GOAL

New Capital Required Set at Half Billion.

The American aircraft manufacturing industry, with an invested capital of more than a quarter billion dollars, would have to triple its present productive capcity to build 50,000 fighting planes a year as urged by President Roosevelt. Plant expansion, tools, and personnel training to reach this goal would require about one-half billion dollars in new capital, it is estimated.

Working at present capacity with three shifts a day, the nation's airplane factories are believed capable of producing a maximum of 20,400 ships yearly, of which 16,000 would be of the type suitable for combat, pursuit, and bombing purposes.

Precision Shows Output.

Accelerated output, however, cannot be achieved merely by building more factories or obtaining the necessary funds. The industry last year increased its capcity 30 per cent, and many of the companies had expansion programs under way or on blue prints at the start of this year.

The difficulty of speeding production is encountered in the slow precision work involved in making planes. Altho the large airplane factories have adopted certain mass production methods, they have not been able to attain the speed of the automobile assembly line.

Adequate skilled labor, machine tools, and engines are the primary needs of the aircraft industry. Because engine making is much slower than the manufacture of the framework and equipment of an airplane, the industry must move at the pace set by the engine plants. Once the engines are ready, the manufacture of fuselages, propellers, and instruments are relatively minor jobs.

Two Major Plants Active.

The Pratt & Whitney division of the United Aircraft corporation and the Wright Aeronautical corporation, a subsidiary of the Curtiss-Wright corporation, have been the major producers of high powered airplane engines in this country. A third large engine maker is the Allison Engineering company, a division of the General Motors corporation, which has developed a liquid cooled engine approved by the army for speedy combat planes.

If engine production increases as indicated by present plant construction the industry may be able to manufcture 25,000 units of the 1,000 horse power type annually by the end of this year. About 16,000 units of this type a year are possible at present plant capacity.

Huge purchases by France and England have been the primary force behind the fast growth of the industry.

Smaller Plants Benefit.

The intensity of the drive to increase deliveries of airplanes has prompted several of the large manufacturers to farm out their work to subcontractors. This development has helped some of the smaller plants.

The industry is now working with an estimated backlog of about $850,000,000 in unfilled orders. This accumulation compares with $700,000,000 at the start of the year and $175,000,000 at the start of 1939. Output of planes and engines in 1940 is expected to exceed $600,000,000, compared with the peak of $225,000,000 set in 1939.

Aeronautical exports this year are expected to total $420,000,000, or about two thirds of the total airplanes and equipment produced. This would compare with $117,081,212 in aeronautical products sold abroad in 1939, a new peak; $68,209,000 in 1938, and $39,405,000 in 1937.

Exact Capacities Secret.

Because the war department has prohibited airplane makers since October, 1938, from revealing operating statistics, exact capacities of the various manufacturers are not known.

Current estimated annual plant capacity on a two shift basis of the leading aircraft manufacturers and the kind of products each makes follow:

	*Annual Capacity.
Aero Supply [Screws, bolts, rivets.]	$ 1,400,000
Aviation Corp. [Commercial, military.]	3,500,000
Beech [Commercial, private.]	1,500,000
Bell [Interceptor, pursuit.]	10,000,000
Boeing [Bombers, trainers, com'l.]	24,000,000
Brewster [Pursuit, bombers, parts.]	10,000,000
Consolidated [Large bombers, patrol.]	48,000,000
Curtiss-Wright [All types, engines, propellers.]	120,000,000
Douglas [Bombers, transports.]	100,000,000
Fairchild [Instruments.]	2,300,000
Grumman [Amphibians, pursuit.]	12,000,000
Lockheed [Bombers, interceptors, com'l.]	48,000,000
Martin [Bombers, transports.]	60,000,000
North American [Trainers, bombers.]	48,000,000
Republic [Pursuit, trainers.]	10,000,000
Sperry [Instruments.]	50,000,000
United Aircraft [Engines, propellers, all types.]	96,000,000

Curtiss-Wright, Douglas, Martin, Lockheed, North American Aviation, and United Aircraft have received most of the foreign orders for military planes. Boeing, Douglas, and Lockheed are the leading producers of commercial transport ships.

MAKERS URGED TO BUILD PLANE PLANTS INLAND

President for Move from Exposed Seaboard.

'Five Years Too Late'

New York, May 17 [Special].—President Roosevelt's defense proposal for raising the yearly productive capacity of the United States' aircraft plants to 50,000 fighting planes was broached "five years too late," Capt. Edward V. Rickenbacker, president and general manager of Eastern Air Lines and American world war ace, said today.

Such a goal, calling for unprecedented production schedules, Capt. Rickenbacker said, could not possibly be attained before the end of 1941. Such high speed production, he added, would require 250,000 workers in aircraft factories. Another tremendous problem, he asserted, would be that of training the 100,000 pilots which would be required.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 17.—President Roosevelt today disclosed that army, navy and administration officials are exerting pressure on airplane manufacturers to move their new plants away from exposed seaboard areas to more secure locations between the Rocky and Alleghany mountains.

These revelations were made as Illinois senators and congressmen were seeking to gain the primary engine research laboratory, shortly to be authorized by congress, for Chicago. A large number of cities are competing for the development.

The President indicated also that government funds may be used to build new airplane plants for construction of some of the 50,000 planes he has set as a defense goal.

Stress Advantages of Chicago.

The members of the national advisory committee for aeronautics will choose the site of the research laboratory. Illinois congressmen and senators are stressing the central location of Chicago, its security from the more dangerous seaboards, proximity to raw materials and other advantages.

The members of the Illinois congressional delegation of the Chicagoland area are following thru a campaign initiated by Chicago city officials, business leaders and civic organizations. For years public spirited leaders have been working to induce manufacturers in all branches of the airplane industry to erect plants in Chicago, which is the nation's air center as it is the nation's rail center.

A part of this general campaign has been to secure the engine research laboratory for Chicago. In this effort Chicago faces formidable opposition as virtually every major city in the nation is working to influence the advisory committee in the selection of the site.

Will Recommission Destroyers.

In reviewing the request for a 1 billion 182 million dollars expansion of the national defense which he made in his message to congress yesterday, Mr. Roosevelt told his press conference this morning that he is planning to recommission 35 more world war destroyers.

Only 35 decommissioned destroyers remain tied up in various navy yards. These can be put in service at a cost of approximately 6 million dollars. To date world war destroyers have been recommissioned for the neutrality patrol.

In indicating the possible use of government funds to build plane plants, the President said that conceivably some of the 200 million dollars which he asked in his message to be left to his discretion may be used for this purpose. He said he had asked for a "blank check" on this sum to meet emergencies which cannot be visualized at present.

May Be Privately Operated.

Such plants, he added, will probably be operated privately altho title would be retained by the government. In the case of private plants he said that expansion can be handled in part by private funds and also thru Reconstruction Finance corporation loans.

It was in this connection that he disclosed pressure is being exerted on airplane manufacturers to locate all new plants away from the nation's seaboards. He said he seriously doubts if it will be wise to locate any additional airplane production units near the seaboard.

He said he would rather not answer the question now as to how quickly his objective of 50,000 planes might be reached. He said he may have a better picture of the situation in two or three weeks.

Hits at Critics.

The President struck at defeatist critics of his defense program, declaring that if people say this program cannot be carried out, all plans for defense might as well be scrapped. In the event of an immediate attack, he said, the country would have to expand its defense program far beyond the program he gave congress and spend infinitely beyond the sum he suggested.

Late in the afternoon the White House announced that a meeting between war, navy, and treasury officials and representatives of the airplane industry will be held Monday in the office of Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau. A meeting with 40 manufacturers of planes and accessories had been called earlier in the day for Monday by Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson in his office.

Mr. Roosevelt said the multitudinous details of the defense will force him to obtain additional assistants. He said he has not decided whether these will come under the classification of administrative assistants—"the men with a passion for anonymity"—or get into the White House setup under some other title.

Senn Stunters

Verne Landahl garbed herself as an Indian for senior stunt day at Senn High school yesterday.

Betty Carlson wore a dress adorned with match folders and Al Descamps dressed as a hillbilly.

Fabulous feathers made strange birds of 800 senior classmen yesterday at Senn High school, 5900 Glenwood avenue. It was senior stunt day and the carnival spirit held sway. Hoop skirts and pantaloons, patched pinafores and overalls, clown suits and ballet skirts were sported by the boys and the girls came in equally fantastic regalia. To the blast of trumpets and whirl-a-gigs the pranksters paraded about the building in the early afternoon, and then repaired to the gymnasium, where they danced until the dismissal bell rang.

REFERS AURORA STRIKERS' PLEA TO U. S. COURT

After much legal maneuvering, Judge William J. Fulton in the Circuit court at Geneva yesterday transferred an injunction plea by striking employés of the Western-Austin company of Aurora to the federal District court. The 650 employés have been out for five weeks and the plant, which makes excavating machinery, has been shut down.

Recently the company obtained an injunction preventing mass picketing and intimidation and filed suits for $500,000 damages against several A. F. of L. unions. The striking unions on Thursday asked an order to restrain the company from soliciting their members to return to work.

Judge Fulton indicated he would grant a temporary injunction, but referred the matter to federal jurisdiction when company attorneys argued the plea of the unions was based on a clause of the Wagner act.

RAID BASEMENT, CONFISCATE 105 SLOT MACHINES

Lieut. George Le Grue and a squad of Morton Grove county highway police yesterday raided a large basement at 8105-9 Cicero avenue, Niles Center, and seized 105 slot machines. No one was on the premises when the raiders arrived. Police said that they had confiscated several machines in resorts and taverns in northern Cook county. On them, tags were found indicating they came from the basement.

NEW DEAL WILL BUNGLE DEFENSE TOO!—WILLKIE

Record of Failures Cited in Warning to Nation.

Des Moines, Ia., May 17 [Special].—Wendell L. Willkie, utilities executive and "dark horse" candidate for the Republican nomination, tonight charged that President Roosevelt's national defense program is impractical of achievement altho "theoretically correct, because the New Deal's blundering domestic policy has hamstrung industry and left it without sufficient skilled workers or plant equipment to carry out the program recommended."

Willkie said the nation is united in wanting adequate defenses, but that the Roosevelt administration "has exhibited in sharp relief that it can neither sustain recovery nor effect rearmament."

Likened to French Setback.

"Like the Popular Front government of France from 1935 to 1938, which played such havoc with French economic and defense power, our administration must be replaced by an administration which has the confidence of American business and can bring rationality and efficiency to our industrial economy," Willkie asserted.

His address was made at a rally sponsored by George Olmsted, Republican committeeman from the 6th Iowa district.

Under the New Deal régime, Willkie asserted, the nation presents a "spectacle of a frustrated internal economy and a relative unprotected country."

Wishes Aren't Airplanes.

"Fifty thousand airplanes will not be produced by mere wishful declaration that they are needed. Airplanes, as well as all other equipment, are produced only by skilled men in adequately financed industries. Due to the misapplication of our wealth, resources and man power in uneconomic activities and deficit financing, we are up against the limiting factors of plant capacity and skilled workers."

Willkie said necessary materials and labor capacities for such a defense program could be developed only by removal of an administration which obstructs employment and the flow of capital into business.

"The tax structure should be modified to give incentive to the flow of capital into productive enterprises rather than into tax exempt securities," he added. "We should discontinue the artificial reduction of the skilled labor supply in the midst of enormous unemployment."

Offers "Rational" Program.

As a practical example of what "rational and economic minded policies" could do—instead of exploiting an emergency for deficit financing and restrictive taxation—Willkie proposed this defense program for encouraging private investment:

1. The treasury would permit amortization over two to three years of all capital investment in plant and equipment for defense.

2. Employers thus providing increased employment would have the right to a credit against their taxable income equal to the amount of labor involved, up to 25 per cent of the cost of such investment.

3. These employers also should have the right to a depreciation credit against taxable income double that normally allowed on new plant and equipment.

4. Employers coöperating in training skilled workers should be permitted to apply part of the cost as a tax deduction.

Dewey, Hoover, Landon Back Plan.

Washington, D. C., May 17 (AP).—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, Herbert Hoover and Alf M. Landon threw their united influence today behind gigantic plans for arming the nation.

Dewey said he joined the President "in the hope that our [military] needs can be filled without in any way interfering with the shipment of airplanes and supplies to nations which have contracted for them."

Mr. Hoover indorsed the defense program, saying:

"The President is right that our defense armament should be revised in the light of experience from this war. There can be no partisanship upon the principle of national defense."

President Roosevelt, it was announced today, has invited Landon to luncheon at the White House next Wednesday. The invitation was generally viewed as part of a movement for bipartisan support of the President's defense program.

Stephen Early, the President's secretary, welcomed as "an indication of national unity" the declaration by Hoover that the President "is right that our defense armament should be revised." Early added:

"It is a further indication that political differences are being cast aside in an emergency."

Debut Tonight

JEANETTE GODLEY.

More than 4,000 employes of the park district and their guests will gather tonight in the Chicago Towers club for the first all-employés' social event since the 22 park districts were consolidated in 1934 There will be a dinner, a first showing of the park motion picture, "The Garden in the City," and a costume ball. George T. Donoghue, superintendent, said that the party was suggested by the employés' Camera club and Voluntary Welfare association. Bill Anson will be master of ceremonies, and Jack Russell's orchestra will play. Miss Jeannette Godley will make her debut as a singer with the orchestra.

INDIANA BOSSES MUST PAY TAXES ON SLUSH FUNDS

Washington, D. C., May 17 [Special].—Indiana Democratic leaders involved in the Hoosier Democratic slush fund scandal will have to pay income taxes on the revenues of their 2 per cent club, it was reliably reported today.

But they probably wil lescape prosecution for neglecting to make returns on the income they exacted by a 2 per cent levy on the pay of state employés thru the club organized by Paul V. McNutt when he was governor of Indiana. Their names will not even be divulged by the treasury department.

The government's largest claim is said to have been against Bowman Elder, a leader of McNutt's campaign for the nomination for President and former treasurer of the 2 per cent club. McNutt and Pleas E. Greenlee, a former director of the club and McNutt's patronage secretary when McNutt was governor, were said not to be involved.

Frank McHale, Democratic national committeeman from Indiana and chairman of the McNutt for President campaign committee, also is known to be cleared.

JUNIOR A. OF C. PLANS TO FORM FLYING SCHOOL

Twenty young men and eight young women gathered last night in the La Salle hotel to discuss the formation of an aviation ground school under the direction of experienced flying instructors and the Junior Association of Commerce.

W. E. Barton, flying specialist for the Civil Aeronautics authority, outlined the requirements for obtaining private pilots' licenses. In order to qualify for flight training, applicants must complete the ground training and pass examinations. If the course is carried on under CAA sponsorship, the 10 highest ranking members of the class win flight scholarships.

Frank Collins Jr., president of the association flying club and leader of the group, said several of those present have held private licenses.

CALL ON SENATE TO PASS BILL TO NIP SUBVERSION

Cite Secret Navy Reports on Red Activities.

Washington, D. C., May 17 (AP).—Confidential navy reports of attempts to subvert "fighting men" of the United States were used by a house member today to urge speedy senate action on legislation to curb such activities.

Representative Sam Hobbs [D., Ala.], slapping down a thick document before a senate judiciary subcommittee, said this "confidential navy report shows that naval vessels can't be moored in some ports here without a swarm of propagandists telling our fighting men that its's wrong and un-Christianlike to fight."

European Nations Cited.

Recent collapse of internal defenses of European nations were cited by both Representative Hobbs and Representative Howard W. Smith [D., Va.], author of the bill already passed by the house, as reasons for prompt senate action.

The Virginia representative said his bill would make it unlawful to interfere with discipline in the armed forces; require the deportation of aliens advocating overthrow of the government, including members of the communist party, and require fingerprints for all aliens entering or visiting this country.

Opposition to broad terms of the bill was voiced by Miss Mary E. Bodkin, Washington, who said she appeared for the descendents of the American revolution.

Called Attack on Rights.

Miss Bodkin said "restrictive" provisions of the measure were a "concerted attack upon the civil rights of all citizens as well as aliens."

John F. Finerty, representing the American Civil Liberties union, testified that provisions of the bill were "clearly unconstitutional."

In an hour's speech in the house, Representative Martin Dies [D., Tex.] called on the justice department and other government agencies today to enforce existing laws against aliens to help defeat the "Trojan horse" and "fifth column" tactics such as those he said had brought about the downfall of some European nations.

COURT DEFERS ITS SENTENCING OF RED EDITOR

New York, May 17 [Special].—Sentencing of Clarence A. Hathaway, editor of the Daily Worker, a communist newspaper, for his conviction on criminal libel charges, was postponed until May 24 by Judge John J. Freschi today. Sentencing of the Comprodaily Publishing company, publisher of the Daily Worker, also was postponed.

The libel charges were brought by Mrs. Edith F. Liggett, widow of the slain Minneapolis editor, Walter Liggett. He was a victim of machine gun bullets in December, 1935, at the height of a crusade against alleged politico-criminal-communist alliances in the Twin Cities.

Mrs. Liggett's charges were based on a series of articles published in the Daily Worker in February, 1936, attacking her, and she contended, libelling her late husband.

Today's postponement was based upon the request of probation officers who said they had not completed their investigation of Hathaway.

IOWA GOVERNOR ORDERS QUIZ ON PENSION SCHEME

Des Moines, Ia., May 17 [Special].—Gov. George A. Wilson today instructed state agents to investigate the activities in Iowa of an old age pension organization, particularly in the vicinities of Mason City and Forest City.

The governor based his order on the receipt of two affidavits identifying the organization as the National Old Age Pension League, Inc., and naming Lloyd R. Smith, a refund investigator in the state treasurer's office, as head of the league.

Gov. Wilson said he was informed the organization has been representing itself as a state bureau and has been soliciting $1 each from aged persons, telling them the money would aid them in obtaining a $5 a month increase in their pensions.

Wilson, who is a Republican, said he also was informed the pensioners were told the money was to assist the governor's campaign for reëlection.

NEW DEAL MAKES WAR A POLITICAL BOGY, SAYS TAFT

Clouds Branded Effort to Obscure Issues.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio said last night that no reason exists for involving America in Europe's war and that the presidential election in November will be determined on domestic affairs. He said the New Deal is playing up the war situation as a political strategy to take the people's minds off troubles at home.

Senator Taft.

Taft, one of the leading candidates for the Republican nomination for President, spoke at the Union League at a dinner planned for national convention delegates from northern Illinois and for other Republicans. Eighteen delegates accepted invitations to the dinner, which was sponsored by Ferre C. Watkins. The avowed purpose was to get acquainted, with no proselyting in view.

Taft Confers with Lowden.

Earlier in the day Taft visited former Gov. Frank O. Lowden at his Sinnissippi farm near Oregon, Ill., for counsel on the political situation and especially on the farm problem. Lowden, for years a leader thruout the cornbelt states, said the Republican party has excellent chances of winning in November and that the European war will not be a determining factor in the election.

"This year is a do-nothing year in congress," Taft said at the Union League club dinner. "The policy of the administration has been to avoid controversial issues and keep the people's minds off troubles at home by playing up the war.

"I am convinced the people are against the New Deal and that the Republicans are on the road to success in November. If the New Deal should be returned this year there would be no limit to the deficit. If this government is returned to power there would be nothing in sight but national bankruptcy.

Urges Action Based on Reason.

"If we should become involved in war the government would take over railroads, industries and services. It would be going a long way toward delegating to Washington power to run all business affairs. We should consider the situation in the light of reason, not emotion, such as the President seems to desire to stir up."

Among others at the dinner were Dwight H. Green, candidate for governor; Justus Johnson, former Republican state chairman, C. B. Goodspeed, national treasurer of the Republican party; Hill Blackett, national committeeman, and Clement E. Nance, Deneen Watson, an' Silas H. Strawn.

During the morning visit to former Gov. Lowden, the sage of Sinnissippi talked with Taft while confined to his bed with a cold, and the two had lunch at the bedside. Lowden, who except for the cold appeared a picture of health, held a press conference during the visit.

Cites Rural Trend to G. O. P.

"The Republican party," he said, "has fine prospects of carrying the election next November. The rural regions have demonstrated they are headed toward the Republican party. Two years ago the midwest swung toward the Republicans, and this trend has kept growing in succeeding elections.

"The war situation will not affect the campaign as a determining matter. For the last week or two the minds of the people have been diverted to the situation in the European war, but this has not affected their opinions and beliefs on national questions. The election will be determined on domestic questions, and these will not be shelved by the European war situation. Politics is not going to be adjourned."

"If Roosevelt runs for a third term, what would be the effect?" he was asked.

"I think the Republicans would have an excellent chance of winning," replied Lowden.

Lowden said he has no desire to be a delegate at large to the Republican national convention, which opens June 24 in Philadelphia, Pa. He said he is not putting himself to any extra strains on his strength. He has had a cold for a week or two, has been out in the open on his farm in the mornings, and his doctor has told him to take it easy.

In discussing agriculture with Taft, Lowden put stress on conservation and soil erosion. Taft later said Lowden was in substantial agreement with some views Taft expressed in his Springfield, Ill., address in February.

New Deal Program Assailed.

In this Taft said arbitrary crop control plans of the New Deal are a suicide theory for farming, mining, and industry. Taft was for applying to surplus crops some device that would give agriculture the advantage of the tariff.

One of the policies then advanced by Taft was that a system be devised based on the old McNary-Haugen surplus control bill [twice vetoed by President Coolidge], to enable the farmer to retain the foreign market at one price while receiving an American price—a higher one—for most of his crop.

As leader of the agricultural movement in the corn and wheat belt, Mr. Lowden refused to let his name go before the Republican national convention as a presidential candidate in Kansas City, Mo., in 1928, after the convention had rejected a plank based on the McNary-Haugen principles.

TRAIN HITS AUTO; PHYSICIAN, WIFE, AND SON KILLED

Speeding to Bedside of Stricken Father.

A Peoria physician, his wife, and their small son were killed by a train yesterday as they were speeding to the aid of the physician's stricken father in Chicago. The accident occurred at Benson in Woodford county.

The victims were Dr. Albert J. Vesely, 32 years old; Mrs. Mary Vesely, 30, and John, 4. Another child, Barbara Ann, 6 months old, suffered a neck fracture, and is in a critical condition in a Peoria hospital.

Notified Father Is Stricken.

During the afternoon Dr. Vesely and his twin brother, Dr. Harry C. Vesely, were notified that their father, John J. Vesely, 66, of 3301 Cermak road, had suffered a heart attack. It was decided that Dr. Albert Vesely should make an emergency trip into Chicago to attend him.

The family packed a few necessary belongings and started out. At Benson their car was struck by a Santa Fe train and carried 150 yards. Dr. Vesely, police said, apparently had failed to see the train. Ald. Henry Sonnenschein [22d], a family friend, was notified. News of the tragedy was withheld from the elder Vesely.

Hit-Run Car Kills Cyclist.

One bicyclist was injured fatally and another was injured last night when they were knocked down by a hit and run automobile in Skokie highway just south of Willow road and west of Winnetka. The victim was William Andreasen, 18 years old, 5258 Kimball avenue. He and Edward Curran, also 18, of 6416 North Hamilton avenue, were pedaling south in Skokie highway on their bicycles when they were run down from the rear. Andreasen died later in the Evanston hospital. Curran incurred bruises.

Ernest Sirloin, 46 years old, a salesman, died early today in the St. Francis hospital, Blue Island, of injuries suffered Thursday when his automobile was struck by an Illinois Central railroad suburban train at Burr Oak avenue and Lincoln street, Blue Island. Sirloin lived at 17509 South Halsted street, Homewood.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 317 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 242 were killed in Chicago where 7,880 were injured in the same period.

EX-POLICEMAN GETS PROBATION IN GIRL'S DEATH

Rex Flach, 44 years old, a former state highway policeman from Amboy, Ill., was placed on one year's probation yesterday on a charge of manslaughter by Judge Joseph A. Graber in Criminal court. Flach was convicted several weeks ago by a jury in the death of Virginia Rudd, 5 years old, 8540 Bennett avenue. She was killed on Dec. 28, while watching some children at play at 87th street and Jeffrey avenue. Flach's automobile collided with another and rolled over the curb, striking the girl. The driver of the other car, Harold Moberg, testified that Flach failed to heed a stop sign. Flach denied this. William Rudd, father of the girl, said he was not opposed to leniency.

EDITOR ASSERTS RADICALS STRIVE TO FETTER PRESS

Warns of 'Fifth Column Disguised Marxism.'

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 17. — A warning against the "fifth column of disguised Marxism" operating in burocratic Washington and aimed at destruction of the free press in the country was delivered today before the 23d annual meeting of the American Association of Advertising Agencies.

Fulton Oursler, editor of the McFadden publications, asserted the attack of radicals upon advertising was only a camouflage for the real objective which he charged was "the control of the means of production and distribution in the United States." He urged the assembled advertising executives "to halt this march in the direction of a totalitarian state."

Author Demands Purge.

Before this broadside, Stanley High, editor, author, and erstwhile supporter of the Roosevelt administration, called for a "crack pot purge" in Washington. He asked whether the so-called "consumer movement" was out to spread enlightenment or "indoctrination." High organized the Good Neighbor league for Roosevelt in the 1936 campaign, but has since parted ways with the President.

The two speeches touched off a heated debate. Representatives of "consumer" interests, sharing the platform at the symposium, protested the remarks. Charges have been made before the Dies congressional committee that leaders of various consumers groups were communists bent on scrapping the American system.

Counsel Makes Retort.

Donald E. Montgomery, consumers' counsel for the Agricultural Adjustment administration, declared with warmth that if this kind of "name-calling" and "looking for bogies under the bed" continued the nation might meet the dire fate critics of the Roosevelt administration were predicting. High retorted the nation could no longer "laugh off crackpots as a minority—not after Hitler."

Both Montgomery and Colston E. Warne, president of the consumers' union, defended control of advertising by the federal trade commission and scoffed at the results of self regulation. Warne went further to demand expansion of the regulatory powers of the F.T.C.

To this Oursler replied that instead of pusuring inquiries into advertising it might be a good idea for the government to investigate the "consumers" groups to find out how much they represented the consumer and how much they represented "exploitation." He observed that some of the "starry-eyed regulators" of advertising in the government were politically appointees.

Oursler recalled how much self-policing the field of advertising had accepted at the hands of better business bureaus and trade associations. He pointed out advertising was regulated by Printers' Ink statutes in 25 states, by the Wheeler-Lea act thru the FTC, thru enforcement of the food and drug act, by postoffice laws and rules, and by the Federal Alcohol administration.

Raps Capital Regulators.

"The capital is creeping with starry-eyed idealists, men and women with a passion for regulating lives other than their own," Oursler said. "They do not believe and will not believe that American business is capable of exercising self-control.

"Behind all this is not the spirit of regulation but of annihilation. The real victim in all this agitation for world saving is the average American citizen."

Who, asked the speaker, regulated the "phoney advertising" of the Roosevelt administration?

"What protection has the consumer against such hogwash as 'The forgotten man,' 'We planned it that way,' 'Economic royalists,' 'They have met their master,' 'Priming the pump,' 'He kept us out of war?'" asked Oursler.

"What are these but advertising slogans for an organization that wants all the public's business?"

Decree Set Aside

[TRIBUNE Photo.]
MRS. STELLA HEATH.

Mrs. Stella Heath told Judge Oscar F. Nelson yesterday that Manuel Heath came to her home at 2635 Armitage avenue two days after the birth of her second child and induced her not to contest his suit for divorce. Once he had the decree, said her attorney, Samuel Starr, Heath married someone else. Mrs. Heath, who is 22 years old, asked that the divorce be set aside.

Judge Nelson granted her request. He ordered Heath, a clerk, to cease living with his second wife and placed the case on the contested divorce calendar.

ROOSEVELT HITS ANY EARMARKING OF RELIEF FUNDS

Avers Such Action Would Hurt Needy.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 17.—President Roosevelt today denounced proposals to earmark portions of the 1 billion 111 million dollar relief appropriation as approaching "pork barrel" methods of administration and called upon congress to give the measure speedy approval.

Rep. Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.] has suggested that much of the appropriation be set aside for a public works program, and Rep. Andrew J. May [D., Ky.] wanted to allocate $30,000,000 for flood control and $20,000,000 for rivers and harbors improvement. Other individuals and groups sought a variety of other things.

In assailing the earmarking of funds for specific projects as taking bread and butter out of the mouths of the nation's needy, Mr. Roosevelt ignored the extensive report this week presented to congress by an investigating committee, which showed widespread graft and corruption in the relief administration at a cost of millions of dollars.

Opposes Any Reductions.

The President said that the country cannot afford to drop additional people off relief this summer or fall, adding that he would prefer to place more persons on relief rolls to take care of 100 per cent of the country's needy families.

Altho he said the new 1 billion 182 million dollar defense program may give increased employment, he insisted it will not alleviate the plight of a man who is out of a job and whose family is hungry, say in Watertown, N. Y., or Manchester, Ga.

If congress starts to earmark money for specific projects, he predicted, a scramble for such projects will begin which will make the WPA another pork barrel, because the natural selfishness of human nature will assert itself.

Says Program Falls Short.

If congress decreases the present scale of relief, a great many people are going to lose their jobs and means of support, he said, adding that even the present program is falling considerably short of caring for all families who cannot find work in private enterprise.

Another weakness in the proposed scheme to earmark relief funds for specific construction projects, he asserted, is the fact that dollar for dollar PWA construction projects will not care for as many needy as WPA projects. Funds spent thru PWA construction are more widely dispersed to producers of materials, he said, while WPA projects place a means of subsistence directly in the hands of the human being who direly is in need of a means of support.

WPA's New Policy.

At a press conference tonight, Work Relief Commissioner Col. F. C. Harrington disclosed that the WPA is prepared, "because of the serious world situation," to give priority hereafter to projects contributing to the national defense.

Col. Harrington appealed to congress not to reduce the $975,650,000 appropriation which Mr. Roosevelt has asked to be made available for the WPA in the first eight months of the next fiscal year.

North Carolina Delegates Will Support Roosevelt

Raleigh, N. C., May 17 (AP).—The North Carolina state Democratic convention voted today that the state's 26 votes in the national convention should be cast for President Roosevelt "if and when his name is presented," and as long as his name remains before the convention. Josephus Daniels, ambassador to Mexico, in a speech predicted that the President would be drafted and would be re-nominated in Chicago virtually by acclamation.

BARRETT WINS ANOTHER POINT IN RECOUNT SUIT

Bloomington, Ill., May 17 [Special].—Circuit Judge William C. Radliff today for the second time denied a defense motion to dismiss the recount suit of State Auditor Edward J. Barrett on the ground that the petition was insufficient. The court ordered defense attorneys to file a direct answer to the suit by next Wednesday and continued the case until Thursday.

Barrett charges in his suit against his primary opponent, Representative John C. Martin, that there were vote frauds in six counties in the April primary election in which Martin was declared the Democratic nominee for auditor over the incumbent by 17,815 votes. The six counties are: Cook, McLean, Perry, Madison, St. Clair and Williamson.

Martin in his motion for dismissal contended that the court has jurisdiction only in McLean county whereas a recount has been asked in five other counties. Counsel for Martin went a step further by arguing that compliance with the primary election law would require the filing of recount suits in all counties of the state.

JURY DISAGREES IN CASE OF WINE SALE TO MINOR

A Municipal court jury was discharged yesterday by Judge Frank E. Donoghue after it was unable to reach a verdict in the case of Mike Feldman, a grocer charged with selling liquor to a minor high school pupil.

Assistant State's Attorney Marshall Korshak said the state's chief witness, Margaret Johnson, 17 years old, colored, who testified she bought a pint of wine in Feldman's grocery at 324 East Pershing road, has disappeared.

The city liquor commission continued until next Friday a hearing on Feldman's appeal from a revocation of his license.

PETER ILYITCH TSCHAIKOWSKY
Mighty Russian Master of Haunting Melody

Tschaikowsky, the artist, was a superb musical genius—perhaps the greatest of the Russians—and an exalted member of that select group known as the world's "Master Composers."

Tschaikowsky, the man, was an enigma. Shy, introspective and at times melancholy, he was a person of contradictions. He disliked strangers, had a terror of society, yet was devoted and generous in the extreme to a few old friends and to his family.

He was born on May 7, 1840, at Kamsko-Votinsk, Russia. His father was an Inspector of Mines, his mother a cultured French woman with some small, undeveloped musical ability. In the Russia of that day, the boys of upper class families were prepared for either the army or the Government Service. Young Peter studied law, graduated from law school and entered the Ministry of Justice where he showed small interest in his work, but began a serious study of music which ended in his appointment as teacher of theory and harmony at the Moscow Conservatory.

To make it possible for Tschaikowsky to give all of his time to composition, Madame Madeshda von Meck—wealthy widow of a civil engineer—provided him with a yearly pension of 6,000 rubles. He gave up his post at the conservatory and settled down to a life of serious creative work.

Strangely enough he and Madame von Meck never met. Yet for years she was his "fairy godmother" and they corresponded regularly.

A nervous breakdown, from which he never fully recovered, sent Tschaikowsky on various journeys in search of health. He visited Italy, where he met notables of the musical world, and Germany, where he heard Wagner's "Ring." In 1887 he made a grand tour of Europe and four years later visited America.

In New York he conducted the Philharmonic Orchestra in his own works. His four concerts in New York, one in Baltimore and one in Philadelphia were triumphant successes and paved the way for a love of his glorious music that today is nationwide.

Tschaikowsky died in St. Petersburg on November 6, 1893. He has given the world some of the most magnificent music ever created. His splendid creations exhale a haunting nostalgic tenderness which is found in the works of no other composer.

HOW THIS GREAT MOVEMENT WAS ACCOMPLISHED!

You get the opportunity to take twelve of the world's greatest musical masterpieces into your home at an almost incredibly small price due to the following achievements:

(1) Some of the world's greatest orchestras and conductors waived their royalties.

(2) America's foremost music manufacturer reduced charges and profits to what that organization considers the barest practical operating minimum.

(3) America's foremost newspaper promotion organization, the Publishers Service Company, organized and conducted the campaign for many of the nation's most prominent newspapers and music societies.

(4) In Chicago, Publishers Service is conducting the campaign in behalf of the Chicago Society for Music Education, a non-profit organization which will receive the sums from the sale of the records, and after payment of all charges, will distribute the remainder among the four co-operating Chicago musical organizations, the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, the Chicago Opera, Ravinia Festival and Chicago Women's Orchestral Association.

(5) One symphony or symphonic masterpiece is distributed on Saturday of each week. Distribution of each symphony continues throughout the campaign as long as the supply lasts.

Copyright, 1940, Publishers Service Company, Inc.

SCHUBERT'S "UNFINISHED" BEETHOVEN'S FIFTH ARE STILL AVAILABLE!

When Tschaikowsky's Nutcracker Suite is released for distribution today, there will be a total of three symphonies you can get at Distribution Headquarters—Schubert's Symphony No. 8 in B Minor; Beethoven's Symphony No. 5 in C Minor as well as the current Tschaikowsky release. You pay $1.69 for each of these three symphonies. This is NOT for each record but for ALL OF THE RECORDS THAT COMPRISE EACH SYMPHONY. The Beethoven Symphony consists of four double-faced 12-inch records, 8 recordings. The total payment for the entire symphony is only $1.69. Ordinarily you would expect to pay eight dollars for Beethoven's Fifth Symphony as recorded by the same orchestra and the same conductor.

Mail the Reservation! It Does Not Obligate You in Any Way! It helps us estimate how many records to have on hand.

ALIEN GOES DOWN THE EASY MONEY TRAIL TO PRISON

Moonshiner Loses Fight to Evade Second Term.

For 18 years Leo Vitale, confessed bootlegger, ex-convict, and alien, pursued his ambition to make easy money. For at least eight years he succeeded, supporting his wife and three children by operating 14 moonshine stills.

When federal agents stopped this Vitale applied for public relief. But yesterday, at the end of his easy money trail, Vitale stood in the federal District court begging for probation and a chance to escape deportation to his native Italy.

Branded Confirmed Hoodlum.

Instead, the black browed alien heard Judge Charles E. Woodward sentence him to three years in prison after reading a five page opinion which denounced Vitale as a confirmed hoodlum who has cost the government thousands of dollars. Court attachés said it was the first time they had ever heard of a written opinion in a bootlegging case.

Agents of the federal alcohol tax unit arrested Vitale in his home at Peru, La Salle county, in August, 1938. In the basement they found a 300 gallon still, 4,000 gallons of mash, and 30 gallons of alcohol. On Feb. 9, 1939, he was convicted of conspiracy to violate the revenue laws by operating his home still and 13 others. Federal Judge LeRoy J. Adair sentenced him to one year and a day in prison. He was released last Nov. 21.

While in prison Vitale was indicted on an additional charge of violating the revenue laws as a result of the Peru raid. It was to this charge that he pleaded guilty in the trial that ended yesterday. The two sentences of more than a year each in prison make him liable to deportation.

Boasted of Law Breaking.

Judge Woodward, in his opinion, said Vitale had told a probation officer that his ambition was to make a lot of easy money. After his arrest, said the judge, Vitale applied for relief, admitting to a case worker that he had worked only as a moonshiner, and even boasting of his ability to evade the law.

"This defendant has been a liability since 1932," Judge Woodward continued. "He has abused the hospitality and privileges of a government which harbored and protected him. In short, for several years his hand has been against the government. His past record seems to indicate that he is a confirmed hoodlum."

Vitale's attorney, D. J. Thaddeucci, broke the silence which followed the court's opinion with a request that Judge Woodward write a letter to the labor department recommending against deportation.

Judge Woodward quickly denied this motion, as well as a stay of execution.

A GOOD NEIGHBOR GETS NUMBER OF A CLEVER FELLOW

Robert Schuessler, 25 years old, was in Felony court yesterday because he had not reckoned with the neighborliness of Postmaster George Collins of Lombard. Schuessler, who lives at 3057 North Lowell avenue, worked for Montgomery Ward & Co. as a clerk and got into the habit of drawing refund checks to nonexistent customers and sending merchandise to imaginary persons.

Robert Schuessler.

He would later pick up these checks and the merchandise at general delivery offices in nearby postoffice. For months detectives were puzzled how the money and merchandise disappeared. Then they traced one package to the Lombard postoffice.

Postmaster Collins remembered the man who called for the package. Collins had been suspicious because the stranger wouldn't be friendly. So he took down the license number of the stranger's car. It was Schuessler's car. And yesterday Schuessler was sentenced to two concurrent terms of one year in the Bridewell for defrauding his former employer of $5,000 to $10,000 in the last 18 months.

PARTNER SUES FOR ACCOUNTING OF O'HARE FUNDS

Thomas A. Keen, of Miami, Fla., formerly prominent in the dog track racing business, who identified himself as a partner of the slain Edward J. O'Hare in a mortgage transaction, brought suit for an accounting in Superior court yesterday against the Northern Trust company, executor of O'Hare's estate. O'Hare, front man for the Capone syndicate and president of the Sportsman's Park race track, was shot to death Nov. 8 by gangland assassins. Keen said he invested $20,000 with O'Hare in 1929. The mortgage in which his investment was represented eventually was foreclosed, he said, and he did not get his proportionate share of the holding company formed after the foreclosure. Keen asked that the trust company be restrained from disposing of assets of the estate.

Vermont to Get O'Hare Suspect in Bank Holdup

Clyde H. Nimerick, 48 years old, an ex-convict and once a suspect in the murder of Edward J. O'Hare, slain front man for the Capone gang, yesterday was ordered returned to Burlington, Vt., by Edwin K. Walker, United States commissioner. Nimerick is charged with taking part in an $8,500 bank robbery at Danville, Vt., on Jan. 4, 1934.

Crowned May Queen

Miss Barbara Morrow as she appeared at ceremony.

Miss Barbara Morrow of Waukegan was enthroned last night as May queen of the spring festival at the National College of Education in Evanston. She was elected by the student body as the girl "most representative of the ideals of the college," but the announcement of her choice was not made known until just before the coronation ceremonies. She was attended by seven seniors, a court of honor chosen for their outstanding contributions to college life.

HUNT 2 VISITORS IN TORSO KILLING OF REFUGEE AID

Investigators of the torso slaying of Albert Rosenbusch, a meat peddler and agent for the removal of Jewish refugees from Germany, yesterday sought two men who visited him in his cottage near Sterling, Ill., shortly before he disappeared the night of April 6.

Miss Ellen Wolff.

Joseph Eisele, a former employé of Rosenbusch, said yesterday that two men came to Rosenbusch's cottage April 6 and he drove away with them. A cablegram from Berlin was received that day for Rosenbusch disclosing he apparently was trying to help bring a young woman, Renate Byk, from Germany to this country. Eisele said Rosenbusch, on his return to the cottage alone, said he was going to deliver a truck load of meat to Chicago and then go to Milwaukee to visit Ellen Wolff, 19 years old, and her mother, Rita, refugees and friends of Miss Byk.

The Wolffs said he did not arrive at their home. They said they did not believe Nazis had anything to do with the slaying. A possibility that Rosenbusch might have been involved with cattle rustlers was being investigated.

M. L. ANNENBERG SENTENCING PUT OFF UNTIL JUNE 5

Sentencing of M. L. Annenberg, wealthy Philadelphia publisher, was deferred yesterday by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson until June 5. The case previously had been set for disposition on May 23. Annenberg pleaded guilty to evading $1,200,000 in income taxes for 1936.

The new date was announced after a conference between the court, United States Attorney William J. Campbell, and Attorney Weymouth Kirkland, representing Annenberg. It was reported that negotiations are still under way for Annenberg to settle all civil claims of the government before being sentenced on the criminal charge.

On May 23 Judge Wilkerson also is expected to set the trial date for the Consensus company, an Annenberg concern, and eight individual defendants. They are charged with evading $137,720 in income taxes, penalties, and interest from 1929 thru 1936.

"The Gimp" Makes Good a Bad Check; Drop Case

A bad check charge against Sanford [The Gimp] Rosenbaum, former bodyguard for the old beer peddler, Edward [Spike] O'Donnell, was dismissed yesterday by Municipal Judge William V. Daly for want of prosecution. Rosenbaum previously had made 11 court appearances on the same charge. He explained he had made good on the $20 check in the tavern at 183 North State street, where it was passed, as well as settling a $20 charge account.

UNION ORGANIZER IS ACQUITTED ON BOMBING CHARGE

Jury Debates His Fate for Six Hours.

Plymouth, Ind., May 17 [Special].—A jury in the Marshall county Circuit court late tonight acquitted John A. Marks, union labor business agent, of conspiracy to commit a felony. He was accused of hiring bombers who destroyed thousands of dollars worth of property of the Indiana & Michigan Electric company.

The jurors debated nearly six hours before reaching a verdict. The defendant took the announcement that he was freed without apparent emotion. He is an official of the Electrical Workers' union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate.

In closing arguments, Assistant Prosecutor James F. Keating of St. Joseph county asserted that if Marks had had his way thru violence he would have gained Hitlerlike power over the utility business in northern Indiana.

Domination His Goal.

"His plan was to dominate everything," Keating said; "to exercise full control over the life of every worker and every company. Had it succeeded it would have meant a death sentence for private enterprise in the local utility field."

Thep rincipal witness for the state was Parrish E. Freeman, an ex-convict, who asserted that Marks paid him $1,800 for dynamiting power lines and towers of the utility company whose employés Marks was seeking, without much success, to unionize.

Poles Chopped Down.

In his testimony Freeman said that when he protested about one bombing that had been ordered, on the ground that it was close to a highway and some one might be killed, Marks replied, "That can't be helped."

Among the crimes to which Freeman confessed were the chopping down of poles near South Bend, dynamiting towers near Arcola, Ind., and blasts near Ligonier and Benton, Ind. The last blasts were on Thanksgiving day, 1939.

The Indiana and Michigan employés already had an independent union which had a wage contract that was abrogated by the National Labor Relations board. Freeman said Marks told him the failure to organize for the A. F. of L. union was making him lose prestige with the employés of other companies. The business agent was hopeful, Freeman said, that the bombings would convince the company it would be advisable to quit fighting the labor board order and give him a free hand.

Specifically, Marks was charged with conspiracy to commit a felony, and if convicted he would be subject to a prison term of 2 to 14 years. He is an official of the Electrical Workers union of the American Federation of Labor.

Marks denied all the charges and produced numerous character witnesses. In closing arguments, Attorney F. O. Jellison for the defense declared Freeman was "not a human being, but a snake," and accused the utility company of trying to railroad Marks to prison.

The indictment of Marks was brought in South Bend and the trial was held here on a change of venue.

OWNER OF LOOP CAR LOTS SHOT IN MYSTERY ATTACK

Ben D. Kissel, owner of several parking lots in the loop, was shot in the left hip last night by one of two gunmen at the entrance to his second floor apartment at 502 Briar place. His wife, Doris, saw the shooting.

Kissel, who is 43 years old, and his wife were returning from a visit to relatives and were walking up the stairs to their apartment when they were confronted by the gunmen, who descended from the third floor landing.

Mrs. Kissel held out her gloved hands, believing the men were robbers and would demand her rings. They made no effort at robbery, however. Kissel suddenly tried to grab one of them and the man fired and fled, followed by his companion. Kissel was taken to the Columbus hospital.

WOUNDED BANDIT DRIVES 80 MILES, THEN COLLAPSES

A gunman entered a bakery at 184 East 14th street, Chicago Heights, on Thursday night and forced one of the proprietors, Steve Glombicki, to hand over $3. As the gunman fled, Glombicki's brother, Aloysius, fired three shots, one of them striking the bandit in the back.

Several hours later Rollins Hawkins, 49 years old, of Reed City, Mich., collapsed in his automobile at Bridgman, Mich., 80 miles east of Chicago. He told police he had been shot by a hitchhiker. They took him to the St. Joseph [Mich.] sanitarium.

Yesterday Hawkins admitted that his story of being wounded by a hitchhiker was false and that he was the gunman who held up the bakery.

RELIEFER GETS 10 DAY TERM FOR GASOLINE THEFT

Joseph Skrzydel, 48 years old, a school crossing guard for the Chicago Relief administration, was sentenced yesterday by Judge John V. McCormick in Felony court to 10 days in the county jail for petty larceny. Skrzydel was convicted of syphoning gasoline from a car overturned near his post into his own seven passenger automobile. A charge of making a false application for an automobile license in the name of Wing was dismissed when the court learned that Wing is the English translation of Skrzydel's Polish name. Skrzydel said a woman relative bought the car for his daughter, Julia, 16.

Gets 10 Days for Drunk and Reckless Driving

Chester Krzyzak, 1935 North Damen avenue, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Harold P. O'Connell in Safety court to 10 days in the county jail for driving while intoxicated and reckless driving. On April 29, in front of 1816 North California avenue, Krzyzak drove into a police squad car and then smashed into a street car.

"IF BERMUDA FELL INTO HOSTILE HANDS."

References in the national defense message to the island bases not controled by the United States could be accepted as a late acknowledgment of failure to provide for security years ago.

When Mr. Roosevelt, in his recommendations to congress, wanted to expose, theoretically, the American shore to air attack, he referred to the fjords of Greenland as being four hours by air to Newfoundland, five hours to Nova Scotia, and only six hours to New England. "If Bermuda fell into hostile hands," he said, "it is a matter of less than three hours for modern bombers to reach our shores."

His other illustrations included Venezuela and the Canal Zone, Tampico and St. Louis. Venezuela and Tampico are important, but they are not in European hands. The problem of insulating military positions which are in the possession of the Americans is a matter of one kind of policy; the securing of alien outposts is another.

In addition to Bermuda the message could have dealt with the Dutch West Indies, now guarded by British and French landing parties. It could have referred to Trinidad, the British possession spoken of by our admirals as highly important in the defense of the canal. Illustrations could have been drawn from the French and British islands, from St. Pierre and Michelon off the Newfoundland coast, to the extreme southern tip of the Lesser Antilles which form the natural barrier of the Caribbean.

It may not have been intentional that Mr. Roosevelt referred to the flying distance from Venezuela, which is an American country, and not to the Dutch naval base off the Venezuelan coast at Curaçao which French and British warships are now protecting because the proprietary Netherlands is under German control as a victim of the war.

The British have found it necessary to occupy Iceland as the result of the overrunning of Denmark, the mother country. The status of Greenland, another waif of war, is yet to be determined. Until the Nazis should occupy Iceland, which is regarded as on the margin of the Monroe Doctrine, the problem of Greenland may not become acute. Greenland is well within the range where no change of sovereignty involving a European nation can be permitted.

It must be impressed now upon the most indifferent minds that possessions within the American sphere of influence may again be spoils of war in Europe. This contingency might be called an unfamiliar one. For many years Americans did not have reason to fear that a conflict abroad might strip the present possessors of their American domain. We have had trouble in the past with nations desiring to despoil a neighboring South American country and have been obliged to intervene, but it has been a long time since there was a real danger that a conqueror would take over by virtue of his victories elsewhere.

That probability is no longer remote. It has all the appearance of being on our doorstep. Battles in France now being fought might determine whether Greenland, Bermuda, the Bahamas, Jamaica, Trinidad, British Honduras, Curaçao, Martinique, Barbadoes, St. Lucia, Guadalupe, and Dominica are to remain British, French, Dutch, and Danish or are to be German. If it were their fate to be included in what the British and the French would be required to surrender as terms of peace, if the Danes and the Dutch never were allowed to reassert their titles, what would the United States do?

If this country did not prevent the transfer it would have submitted to the first violation of the Monroe Doctrine and then the greatest safeguard of the Americas would be broken down. We cannot accept the possibility of that and therefore must conclude that American forces would proceed to take possession before the new owners could set foot ashore. That would be an act of war if the Germans felt they were in a position to take it as such. They might not care to accept such an issue; they might recognize the right of the United States to extend its frontiers. But such an attitude could be expected more reasonably in another ruler than the Nazi Hitler, in one who had not been so condemned not only by American sentiment generally but in the official papers of the American government.

Several years ago this situation could have been cleared up in a different atmosphere. Now the proprietors are in trouble. Negotiations could have started when they were not. The failure to do so in a discussion of debt settlement is our own government's responsibility. We will not increase the difficulties of Great Britain and France. In fact, a proper disposition of these possessions would not weaken them in the slightest and the military needs of the United States are imperative.

It is useless to discuss the new potentialities of these bases for operation against the United States and then do nothing to cover them. Now, as never before, they dot the outskirts of our map as danger spots. They involve us directly in the possible consequence of the next European peace. We might avoid the war only to find that our turn came because we had neglected to clean up in our own waters when there was time to do so peaceably.

Until Mr. Roosevelt spoke to congress Thursday the official Washington response to all urging that these posts be obtained, as many others have been, by negotiation was the exclamation that it was silly. That word can be applied with true meaning to any program for national defense which frankly concedes the danger and will do nothing to remove it.

GRAFT IN THE WPA.

The 1,000 page report of the house appropriations committee on misuse of relief funds by the WPA did not get the attention it deserved. The eyes of the nation were focused on the European battle fields. Mr. Roosevelt's dramatic appearance before congress served further to divert the minds of congressmen and the people from the hideous scandal which had been exposed.

The committee, with a limited sum at its disposal, could make only a spot check here and there of the manner in which the relief money had been squandered. In all, the investigators reached only 17 of the 48 states and in none of them made a really thorogoing inquiry. But what they found was a mass of evidence to prove beyond all question that the money which the citizens thought was being spent for the relief of the destitute was in fact spent to maintain a political machine thru the grossest kind of graft and jobbery.

The New Dealers have sedulously planted the notion in the minds of many that this administration is the enemy of corruption. The fact is that neither Tammany nor all the Tammanies this country has known have ever been guilty of such maladministration as this country has seen in recent years.

The committee soberly reports among other things that golf courses and a half million dollar race course have been built for private individuals with public money; that real estate fortunes have been made by using WPA labor for improvements of no public value; that WPA officials have been permitted to take expensive vacations at the taxpayers' expense; that reliefers have been threatened with the loss of their jobs if they failed to vote with the machine and get out the vote; that grafters in the organization were promoted in the face of proof of their misdeeds.

The committee, it must be remembered, contained a Democratic majority. This is what the committee reported, in its own words:

"The investigation has divulged many past misdeeds. Some were known to WPA authorities and nothing was done about them. Some were not known to them and WPA authorities disputed the finding. Some, WPA is willing to admit.

"The category runs all the way from minor abuses to major offenses. The chief sources of abuse of public funds occur in the improvement of private property at public expense, the lack of proper supervision, the employment of persons not in need, the operation of projects of doubtful public utility, padded sponsor contributions in the form of purchase of excess equipment and hire of equipment at excess rates, operation of projects on which a high percentage of nonrelief labor is required, etc."

That is the judgment not of opponents of the New Deal but of its partisans. If they started upon the inquiry with any prejudice, it was in favor of the administration. It should be added that the senate committee which investigated corruption in the 1938 primaries and elections was also dominated by Democrats but was forced to come to precisely the same conclusion.

Mr. Roosevelt has announced in resounding phrases that no citizen of the United States shall be allowed to starve. He might well have added that no grafter shall go unrewarded as long as a dollar of relief money is available.

IF THIS BE FREEDOM.

The picture reproduced in the lower right-hand corner of this page represents 10 tons of stainless steel, hoisted into place above the entrance to the Associated Press building in Rockefeller Center, New York City. It was, as they say in dedicatory services, unveiled recently, but veils remain. If Mr. Nelson Rockefeller of Rockefeller Center has the right idea, the composition is a sculptural interpretation of the gathering of news and will "stand forever as a symbol of the freedom of the press."

All is not well with that freedom if it is in the condition here represented. People who rightly cherish it as an essential will be properly alarmed if they have to believe that this group of straining individuals, in the clutch of circumstances or something which has them around the chest, indicates the liberties of the printing press in our time.

Whatever has stripped the clothes off these gentlemen of the press has evidently given them a shocking surprise which they are sustaining with less than the normal local room self-control in emergency. The trouble seems to be coming from the northeast. There's dirty weather in that quarter.

Diego Rivera, the Mexican ex-Trotskyist, did some murals for Rockefeller Center dedicating it artistically to the dictatorship of the proletariat and the liquidation of the Liberty league. The scandalized bourgeoisie removed Rivera's works. The motif seems to have reappeared in the A. P. building. If this work of art does not depict the staff of Moscow's Izvestia hearing from the Kremlin then it must be symbolic of the press under a revived NRA code of fair competition.

If this is the freedom of the press its defenders will have to learn to love it again, and some effort will be required.

TRANSITION AND THE AUTO.

[Danville Commercial-News.]

Legal curb parking space in central business districts of cities like Danville shrunk more than one-third during the last 10 years.

Yet car registrations have increased nearly a third in the same period of time, according to statistics compiled by the Chicago Motor club.

It is this part which autos have played in life's transition that has caused progressive merchants to turn to the provision of off-street parking facilities. And in so doing they have considered such moves as legitimate expense of doing business, because the provision of convenient parking space for their customers has proved a definite producer of added trade.

Many things are responsible for the reduction of street parking space in this last decade. Some of them pointed out by the Motor club are projects to facilitate easier and safer traffic movement, such as elimination of congested areas at so-called bottleneck points, creation of no-parking zones, and discontinuing of parking on narrow streets.

These changes come under the heading of progress and must be accepted. The motoring public will not be seriously hampered, however, as long as progressive business firms continue to provide off-street parking.

PAY NO ATTENTION TO THIS.

Pardon us while we wage a blitzkrieg against our ancient and well advertised head cold with sulfanilamide. This puts us quite in the fashion.

"You've had a bad winter," says the medico, looking over his records. "You're telling me?" we answer.

"Why don't you stay home?" asks Patricia Collinge, the actress. "Haven't you heard," we answer, "the old saying: the Line must go on?"

"Go out and sun yourself," others advise. We tried it at Dyche stadium, watching a practice football game between the Jukes and the Kallikaks. It was a fine, sunny afternoon, not too chilly, and we soaked up the health giving rays. Two days later we relapsed seriously.

"You take a big spoonful of honey," says a good Samaritan, "and dissolve it in hot water. Then you squeeze out the juice of a lemon, add a man sized slug of rum, and fill up the glass with hot water. Drink, and go to bed. In the morning you will be cured." Izzat so?

All this merely means that we are trying to get our mind off the war by grousing about something unimportant.

NORTH WOODS SPRING.

I shall step softly,
softly as a deer
knowing the traitorous season's past.

And I shall hear
the feasting song,
after the earth's grim fast.

I shall wing surely,
surely as a bird,
whose wedge battalion conquers northern skies.
And I shall breathe the first, faint word, where shy arbutus lies.

I shall be winds,
tangled in pine trees' hair;
I shall be tinseled rain that spills on pristine air.
For I am May, lighting the distant hills.

Helen J. Goede.

Maybe He's Erskine Caldwell.

I come to the conclusion that your Jack Tarver of the Toombs County [Ga.] Democrat [May 15, 16, and 17] is either an imagined character or a misplaced Yankee, for the following reasons:

First: "A colored lady exactly like the one on the flapjack box." Linemaster! Neither a Negro woman [or, if you prefer, a colored woman] nor a servant is ever referred to as a lady in Georgia.

Second: "If Rhett had joined the Lost Cause in the second reel instead of after the intermission, the confederacy would have won the war." No one, not even a movie critic, in Georgia admits the confederacy lost the war.

Poor Jack—he must be the most unpopular man in Toombs county. E. D. Anderson.

[We have received a tip that Jack Tarver's masterly review of "Gone with the Wind" was first published in a small town in Mississippi.]

Origin of Illinois State Song.

The verses of the Illinois state song were written in the early '90s by C. H. Chamberlain, a past junior vice commander of U. S. Grant post, G. A. R., of Chicago. I heard them recited at a campfire of this post, which I attended with my father. Eight or ten years afterward the words were adapted to the then popular tune of "Baby Mine" [1901 and later], and sung by the Imperial quartet at entertainments and public meetings. O. B. Knight, a Grand Army singer, featured the song at campfires and encampments. Mr. Chamberlain died in 1894, unaware that he had written a song that would live. He served during the civil war in the 3d United States infantry. Fred A. Ebersold.

TO MY GALAHAD.

You have no proud white plume
To wear;
You have no crested shield
To bear—
Nor steed
With silver mane
To ride—
Nor gleaming
Scabbard
At your side.
You have no coat of mail to don—
No shining medals
To pin on.
Yet these are minor things,
You see,
For you are Knight
Of Knights
To me.

Oriole in the Orchard.

Cherry blossoms were bursting forth, for all the world like fluffy white popcorn in a giant hopper. But even their frenzied activity could not have shaken the boughs with such agitation, and I watched with mounting excitement to see what hid behind that lacy veil. Suddenly, shimmering like a ball of fire, an oriole hopped out to the very edge of the branch, preening, twisting, dipping his eager head to the fragile blossoms. As tho overcome with all the beauty of his tiny paradise, he burst into song, and the lovely liquid notes hung in the air like tiny gay balloons. Then, with a flutter of wings, he was gone, a golden flame amid a shower of white petals. Helene.

TO LILLIAN GISH.

In "Birth of a Nation" so long, long ago
I saw you and praised you, I'd like you to know;
You were so young and so lovely and sweet,
My young heart, with others, was cast at your feet.

But in "Life with Father" you're still young and fair,
Tho years have deprived me of youth (and my hair).
Pray how do you manage—if one might be bold—
To stay so darn young when I've grown so darn old?

Casual.

"Angriff-Smittel," the German secret weapon, turns out to have been a typographical error for "Angriffs-Mittel," a means of attack.

With 50,000 military airplanes we can certainly fly from one extreme to the other.

SORE MOUTHS IN CHILDREN.

WHEN a youngster complains that his mouth "hurts"—whether he appears well or ill—the matter should be investigated. There are many organisms that may lodge on the delicate tissues within the oral cavity, with damage to health. Both chewing and swallowing are interfered with, appetite will wane, and a low state of nutrition be brought about.

Some of these little patients seem to be perfectly sound. Others will look tired and hollow-eyed and act peevish. A "drawn" expression with a grayish skin often means that not only is there trouble within the mouth but along the entire extent of the digestive tract. Now and then the lips will become dry, exhibiting cracks or minute fissures.

It is a wise precaution to glance within the mouths of our children from time to time, as the condition of the tongue, teeth, and mucous membrane will tell us much. There are several types of inflammation that may be recognized. Thrush—caused by a threadlike plant parasite—will occasion deposits of what seem to be tiny milk curds on the tongue, the roof of the mouth, or inside the cheeks. These patches are readily removed with a bit of cotton, but—when wiped away—they may leave a raw and bleeding surface. If the malady has persisted for a long period, the glands along the sides of the neck may be enlarged.

Another form manifests shallow ulcers—grayish white in color—surrounded by a bright red ring of inflammation. The regions involved are tender to the touch and constitute the so-called "canker."

We must not forget Vincent's infection, altho this is more common in older children. Here the gums are inflamed and dark red in color. They bleed easily, are extremely sore, and ulceration may be observed along the margins. As a rule the breath is foul, the tongue heavily coated, and the throat may be congested as in scarlet fever. The diagnosis in this disorder is more difficult and cultures will be required in the hunt for the spiral-like organisms. We must not forget that in a run-down child all three varieties may occur at once. While general symptoms may be absent, among babies there is usually some fever, diarrhea, and vomiting.

Naturally, the first thing to do is to make certain that the affected regions are thoroly clean and local treatments will be needed. A crystal or a strong solution of potassium alum applied directly to the base of a lesion is often effective. Altho the chemical will sting for a second or two the procedure may be repeated two or three times daily. A bit of cotton wound on a toothpick and dipped into a solution of ferric chloride may also be used. The gauze wrapped little finger constitutes a useful applicator. Curiously enough one of the aniline dyes—gentian violet [1 per cent water solution]—has been employed with success as has sodium perborate or tincture of merthiolate.

In many instances there will be noted a marked increase in the number of white cells as well as a reduction in the red coloring matter [hemoglobin] and the red corpuscles of the blood. In severe cases the child will appear listless and drowsy and—if the infection persists for two or three weeks—each little victim will lose the "glow" of health.

A recent report described 99 cases of oral infection, 41 of which were under 2 years of age. All responded well to the mild chemicals mentioned when combined with a supporting diet rich in vitamins. Some precautions may be suggested. First, those who are on the bottle or who are allowed to suck "comforters" are more likely to become ill, altho fungi are so widespread that the habit of putting playthings into the mouth is cause enough.

While vitamin deficiency is not primarily responsible, nevertheless considerable aid in building back to normal will be furnished by a little more attention to diet. It should be clear that the child with a sore tongue will lose appetite and drop in resistance.

LOST SENSES.

J. W. writes: I had a cold a few months ago and lost the ability to taste and smell. Altho the sense of taste has returned, I still cannot detect odors. Is this condition permanent?

REPLY.

Probably not. Your infection no doubt destroyed some of the nerve endings which carry the sense of smell. If the mucous membrane is intact the function should return.

COVERING HEAD.

Mrs. W. writes: I have developed the habit of sleeping with my head entirely under the covers at night. Slumber will not come unless I follow this practice. Is it injurious to health?

REPLY.

Try doing without a pillow. You are probably not securing enough oxygen altho the accumulation of carbon dioxide [exhaled air] will make you drowsy.

STOMACHLESS.

T. M. writes: Can a person live with most of the stomach removed?

REPLY.

Yes. It is not an uncommon circumstance for the major portion of the gastric pouch to be removed because of disease. Eating habits require revision—with extremely small hence frequent meals. The part that remains is not large enough to accommodate a full meal.

THIRD OPERATION.

D. N. writes: Is a third operation for exophthalmic goiter ever necessary?

REPLY.

SPRINGTIME ON THE FARM.

Benton Harbor, Mich., May 15.—Well, now I am sure spring is here. How am I sure? Because the first of your series dealing with WPA labor on the farm has been released to the public and that is a sure sign of the arrival of spring.

I wonder if the writer of that Tribune news item on May 13 was ever a hired man on a farm. If he was, why did he quit? Did the pitchfork handle tickle his hand and he didn't like that, or couldn't he stand the prosperity of $25 per month plus, or was the short day of 15 hours the reason? And if he never worked on a farm my advice to him is to quit his highly paid job riding around the country hunting material to be used for jarring WPA and relieve the labor shortage on one farm, and I will guarantee you that before many sunsets, if he can find time between milking, he can write a story that will be a story.

I wonder if he would take a job working 15 hours a day, 6 days a week, and 5 or 6 hours on Sunday at $25 in preference to a job working 8 hours a day 3 or 4 days a week at $45. A person who will do that is a fit one for the observation ward and not reporting working on a farm, WPA, etc. And as to the hired man's houses being boarded up or turned into a chicken coop, corn crib, etc., let me say that a lot of them are no better than a chicken coop or corn crib. They are a 2x4 affair located where they put the corn crib in the barnyard with a hog wallow in the back yard, manure pile in front. Two or three rooms for the hired man who has to live in it—like the cattle in the barn. Of course it has a few conveniences like no lawn to mow [the cattle tend to that], and the pigs are handy playmates for his children. Best of all is the hog wallow in the back in lieu of a bath tub.

Show me a farmer with a decent 4 room house for the hired man and we'll show you a farmer who has a hired man. Now, I know what I am talking about, and if any of you doubt it let me know and I will send shipping instructions by mail and will furnish the stamp and you can verify it next week-end and instead of blacksnaking around some summer resort.

As to the farmer buying machinery to solve the hired help question, yes, I suppose he buys an auto for the same reason. What machinery has a farmer got? He had a plow, drag, drill, binder, etc., and he got a tractor for the simple reason that a man with a tractor can plow 10 acres a day while a man and team do two acres.

Why doesn't the farmer complete the picture and buy a machine that will devour his products of the farm? That is, he can put his spinach and hogs in one end of the machine and take out $20 gold pieces from the other end. Then he will be in a position to neither ask nor give any quarter. ROSCOE MAYS.

FINDS US A NATION OF COWARDS.

Little River, Fla., May 15.—"The Travelers Insurance company says in a published bulletin: "Our nation has engaged in six major wars since its birth in 1776. In total, these were extended over a period of 15 years. The number of American soldiers killed in action or who died of wounds during these 15 years of war was 244,357, as against an estimated total of 441,912 traffic deaths, 1923-1937, on American highways in 15 'years of peace.'"

While gallant men are making an immortal name for themselves on the battlefields of Europe, America has become a nation of cowards. When the chronicle of this war is written what will America's place be in it? Our armament is weak, our defenses, everything is weak in fact, including our courage. Any excuse is better than none for those who are too cowardly to fight.

On the "battlefields" of the highways of America you die ingloriously. On the battlefields of Europe gallant men will be numbered amongst the immortals.

MRS R. K. GARNETT.

SEVERAL MEANEST PERSONS.

Chicago, May 16.—I thought the meanest person in the world was over in Europe, but now I'm convinced there is one other and that is the person who stole an orange and white angora cat in the vicinity of Leclaire avenue and Washington boulevard a week ago.

As this cat was the ears and companion of a deaf elderly lady, we advertised, offering a reward for its return, but have heard nothing.

However, I have just learned of another kind of racket. Skunks who prowl the alleyways, streets, and even porches, stealing pets and selling them for a small sum to kennels along the highways, bootleg pet shops, and at the curb on Maxwell street.

Is there nothing that can be done about this to protect the interests of people whose wants and pleasures are few, but who do enjoy having a pet and wish to keep it? J. B.

IT'S THE EASIER WAY.

Chicago, June 16.—Because of WPA, it has become impossible to secure household help. In former times we were able to get good colored help, but now they prefer to have the federal treasury support them. This phase of our government should be investigated. MRS. O.

NONCOLLEGE MEN AS PILOTS.

Hammond, Ind., May 16.—I agree with the text of your editorial captioned: "Where to Get Pilots."

I am personally acquainted with more than a score of persons in cities of the Calumet region who are flyers, but who complain they cannot enlist in the air corps because they have no college training, which is said to be a requirement demanded by the air corps for enlistment.

Obviously, young men who have taken up flying are above the average in intelligence, ambition, and industry, and I feel that the government is retarding the progress and development of the air corps by not giving the boys a chance to enlist if they desire. HARRY GALLAGHER.

CORRECT PRONUNCIATION.

Chicago, May 16.—A belated comment about that new and distinctive feature in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE. I mean that snappy black-and-white feature, "Correct Pronunciation." I make a point to grade myself before the broadcast and then check over afterwards. Each list is pasted in a notebook and I truly have a workable list of words for ever-ready reference.

The radio pronunciation is certainly a big help and is appreciated by "328."

STOCKHOLDER'S INTEREST.

Chicago, May 16 [Legal Friend of the People].—I am a stockholder in a building. I also am a tenant in the building. I went down to the broker and copied names of stockholders from their book.

I now find [1] some of the stockholders have sold their stock, some to the broker at 10 cents on the dollar, but their names are still on the books.

2. Is this legal?

At the last stockholders' meeting I brought up the subject of renting the stores which are vacant. This building has not paid stockholders anything for years. I have been in the building since March, 1937—$90 the first year and $100 the second year. Since then I have had no lease. The first agent told me to stay in the building and accepted $65 a month until October, 1939, when the second agent claimed I owed back rent. I settled my rent up to April 1, 1940, and as soon as they got my money they gave me a 30 day notice.

3. They want $100 for my store and are only getting $115 for a store three times the size, and this man also refused to sign a lease. If I move and the other party moves there will be five vacant stores on the one side and three rented.

4. How can I get a list of the present stockholders? Should not a corporation have a list of stockholders without a stockholder having to spend hours copying out of a book which is not kept up to date? E. F.

1. You do not make clear whether you mean that they have merely entered into contracts or had endorsed their certificates or had done something more.

2. It is possible for the transferee of an endorsed certificate to delay causing the transfer to be entered on the books of the company, if that is what you mean to ask.

3. In general a landlord can name arbitrarily the price he wishes to charge.

4. You are entitled to examine the corporate records for yourself.

"SYMBOLIZING" PRESS FREEDOM

[See editorial in column 2 on this page.]

TODAY IN HISTORY

May 18, 1631

The general court of the Massachusetts colony, many of whose settlers had come to this country for the sake of religious freedom, ruled that none but members of the church prescribed by leaders of the colony might vote at elections. Some sects were subjected to persecution. Noteworthy objectors were Roger Williams, who left the colony and founded one of his own in what is now Rhode Island, and Thomas Hooker, who led his followers into what is now Connecticut.

GRANTS PARDON TO DR. F. A. COOK OF POLAR FAME

Explorer, Once in Prison, Critically Ill.

Washington, D. C., May 17 [Special].—President Roosevelt today granted Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the explorer who claimed to have discovered the north pole, a full pardon. In Port Chester, N. Y., where he lies gravely ill, Dr. Cook heard the news, feebly whispered: "Thanks . . . happy," and lapsed into semi-consciousness.

Dr. Frederick A. Cook

Dr. Cook, who is 74 years old and who was stricken by a cerebral hemorrhage on May 3, was convicted in 1923 of using the mails to defraud in connection with some oil promotions in Texas. Sentenced to prison for 14 years and 9 months and fined $12,000, he was paroled in 1930.

Friend Makes Plea.

The presidential pardon was announced tonight by the department of justice, which said the case recently had been called to the attention of the attorney general in a series of telegrams referred to him by the President. An appeal for a pardon for Dr. Cook recently was sent to the President by Ralph von Ahlefeldt, a friend of the explorer.

Dr. Cook thrilled the world in 1909 by his announcement of his still debated discovery of the north pole. Tho his claims have been largely discredited, Dr. Cook has fought tenaciously for recognition of them for 30 years.

Five days after Dr. Cook announced his claim of discovery of the pole, the late Admiral Robert E. Peary claimed its discovery. Dr. Cook then said he had reached the pole one year and five months previous to the day he had announced it. Peary said his discovery antedated his announcement of it by only five months.

Claims Are Discredited.

After a world-wide controversy, Dr. Cook was discredited by the groups which had honored him highly upon his return from the arctic. He was expelled from clubs and repudiated by many who had called themselves his friend.

Dr. Cook was born in Sullivan county, New York, and educated in New York City. He practiced medicine until 1901, when he was appointed surgeon of a Peary Arctic expedition. After his first trip north, Dr. Cook commanded his own expeditions, leading two to Greenland, and then accompanying a Belgian party to the antarctic.

WINS PROBATION IN '38 HALLOWEEN PRANK SHOOTING

James Durkin Jr., 19 years old, of 5653 South Racine avenue, entered Traffic court in a wheelchair yesterday, paralyzed from the waist down by a bullet which permanently crippled him on Halloween in 1938. For the first time since then, he saw the man who shot him—William Barger, 30, of 8149 Stewart avenue.

Barger had previously told Judge Gibson E. Gorman that he fired into a group of youths who were tearing down a fence at his former address, 5659 May street. Yesterday young Durkin said he and four other boys were "fooling around with a water plug" when they heard a door slam. "I ran, then heard several shots," he said. "Then I fell on my face."

Barger pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Judge Gorman, asserting he was acting in accordance with an agreement between the state's attorney's office and Barger's attorneys, placed him on probation for one year. The case had been continued 23 times, principally because Durkin was in County hospital for more than 15 months. It came up in Traffic court because Judge Gorman, who has been handling it all along, is now sitting in that court.

NAB MAN OF 79 AS "FENCE" FOR ROBBERY GANG

A man 79 years old was seized yesterday by police as the alleged fence for a robbery gang. He is Robert Odell, owner of a second hand shop at 9 North Damen avenue. Three other men and a woman are being held in the investigation.

Another alleged member of the band, Thomas E. Mayo, 25, was shot to death by police May 10, following a robbery at Racine and Cornelia avenues. His companion, Theodore Billik, 2015 Washington boulevard, was seized soon afterward.

Since then police have picked up a woman who calls herself Mrs. Anna Billik, 28; Walter Bobowski, 25, of 2225 South Bell avenue; Norman Russell, 40, of 1156 Van Buren street, and the elderly Odell. According to Policemen Joseph Ponicki and Edward Mangan, Mrs. Billik drove the car of Mayo and Billik during robberies and on the night Mayo was killed. Bobowski, the police said, participated in several other holdups. Russell, they charged, furnished the gun, and Odell bought some stolen loot.

IGNORE CARROZZO BAN; OPEN BIDS ON PREMIXED PAVING

City and Two Contractors Defy Labor Czar.

The city refused again yesterday to back down before Mike Carrozzo, the rich labor boss who told city hall reporters Thursday, "What this country needs is a Hitler or a Mussolini."

Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, opened bids for premixed concrete to be used on three city paving projects. Carrozzo, who became an American citizen only three years ago, has fought the use of premixed concrete in Chicago for years.

First Bids on Premixed Concrete.

It was the first time the city had ever opened premixed concrete bids in defiance of Carrozzo. And it was the first time that contractors had ever dared submit such a bid, because of Carrozzo's strangle hold on the construction industry.

Two concerns had submitted bids. They were the Construction Aggregates company and the Material Service corporation. Material Service was low bidder on the 3,990 cubic yards of concrete for paving Laramie avenue from Harrison to Lake street; Division street from Grand to Homan avenue, and Indianapolis avenue from Ewing avenue to the state line.

The low bidder's quotations were $5.54 a cubic yard for the Indianapolis avenue project, and $5.84 each for the Division street and Laramie avenue projects. Construction Aggregates bid $7.60 for Indianapolis avenue and Division street, and $7.45 for Laramie avenue.

Suspect Some Still Fearful.

Leaders in the building industry said other companies lacked the equipment to handle premixed concrete because Carrozzo has always prevented its use here. Some of those interviewed said it was also likely that many contractors still feared to risk Carrozzo's displeasure despite his recent setbacks in his dealings with the city.

Premixed concrete is generally used outside Chicago. To the ban on it here, building experts attribute the fact that concrete construction costs here are 25 per cent higher than in the rest of the country. Premixed concrete is hauled to the place where it is to be used in a mixer, which mixes it on the way. Carrozzo insists that an engineer and engineer's helper from the ranks of his 15,000 men accompany the mixer—with nothing to do—if premixed concrete is used. This would add $20 a day to labor costs for each crew.

Carrozzo lost an asphalt workers' strike against the city last month. It was the first strike he had lost in the 21 years he has been blustering about the city hall. On Thursday he visited the city hall to repeat his demand for higher pay for the asphalt workers. It was after he was turned down that he announced America's need as a Hitler—or a Mussolini.

A CHUTE TEACHER BAILS OUT TO GET HOME FOR DINNER

First Lieutenant E. Verne Stewart, commanding officer of C company I, 129th infantry, Illinois National Guard, with headquarters in Elgin, had three appointments to keep yesterday afternoon and evening and kept them, altho time and distance were against him. This is what he had to do:

1. Meet with aviation officials at Curtiss-Reynolds field in Glenview, 25 miles from Elgin.
2. Have dinner at home in Elgin.
3. Address an evening meeting of the American Legion in Elgin.

Lieut. Stewart kept all three appointments—on time. He left Curtiss-Reynolds field in a plane with a pilot late in the afternoon and headed for Elgin. There is no landing field there. He bailed out in a parachute. He landed a half block from his home. A few steps and he was home. Dinner was ready. A short time later he appeared at the legion meeting.

Lieut. Stewart didn't think his feat unusual. He's an army parachute instructor, and the Elgin parachute drop was his 396th.

W-G-N SYMPHONIC HOUR TO PRESENT MODERN CANTATA

The Chicago Tribune Symphonic hour will present the modern cantata, "Ballad for Americans," tomorrow night. For this fourth symphonic hour an invited audience representing the Chicago Association of Commerce will be guests in the main studio of W-G-N.

The symphonic hour is broadcast by W-G-N over the coast to coast network of the Mutual Broadcasting system. Marion Claire, soprano, is the star of the program. William Franklin, Chicago Negro baritone, will sing the lead in the "Ballad for Americans," which was given for the first time last year with Paul Robeson as soloist.

John T. McCutcheon, cartoonist of the Tribune, will speak. His subject is "Sounds and Smells." The W-G-N Symphony orchestra and augmented chorus, directed by Henry Weber, will also be featured. William A. Bacher directs production of the symphonic hour with Lou Jackson as his associate.

JUDGE LIFTS BAN AGAINST MOVIE, 'BIRTH OF NATION'

"The Birth of a Nation," 25 year old film, may again be shown in Chicago. Judge Donald S. McKinlay ruled yesterday in Superior court. He told the Epoch Producing company, owner of the film, that it may be shown at only one theater in the city at a time. The movie was barred by Police Commissioner Allman last Dec. 30. Negro organizations objected to its reopening on the ground that it would rouse ill feeling against their race.

FREDERICK GRAVES, RETIRED BISHOP OF SHANGHAI, IS DEAD

SHANGHAI, May 17 (AP).—The Right Rev. Frederick Rogers Graves, 82 years old, retired bishop of Shanghai, who began his long service as a missionary in China in 1881, died today. He was born in Auburn, N. Y. The American church mission is conducted by the Episcopal church.

Bishop Graves, who was called "the statesman bishop of the orient," took a deep personal interest in the problems of the Chinese people. After his retirement from active church work he remained in Shanghai and continued active in relief and refugee work.

In 1897 he met with four English bishops to plan the formation of the Chung Hua Sheng Kung [the Holy Catholic Church of China], which now comprises 11 dioceses. He was chairman of the Chinese house of bishops from 1915 to 1926 and was active in the affairs of numerous educational institutions. He is survived by four children.

Plane Noses Over as Pilot Applies Brakes; 2 Unhurt

A cabin monoplane nosed over on its back at Chicago airport yesterday when the pilot, Edward Cycon, an instructor in blind flying, applied the brakes suddenly while taxiing to the southeast runway of the field to takeoff. He and his passenger, Harold Johnson, 26 years old, of Clearing, an airplane mechanic, were unhurt.

CROWD ATTENDS LAST RITES FOR EMMA GOLDMAN

Emma Goldman, internationally known anarchist, who died in Toronto, Ont., last Monday at the age of 70, was buried yesterday in Waldheim cemetery.

Hundreds of men and women attended the services there and in the chapel at 3654 Roosevelt road. Dr. Curtis Reese of the Abraham Lincoln center, described Miss Goldman as the "last great advocate of a genuinely free society."

Miss Goldman was buried in Chicago in accordance with her wish. Here she was active for several years. The federal government prosecuted her during the war for obstructing the draft, obtained a prison sentence against her, and in 1919 deported her to Russia.

Cartoonist Percy L. Crosby Wins Divorce in Florida

Sarasota, Fla., May 17 (AP).—Percy Leo Crosby, creator of the newspaper comic strip "Skippy," was granted a divorce here today from Agnes Dale Crosby of Washington, D. C. Crosby charged desertion and mental cruelty in his suit, filed March 20. J. J. Williams, Crosby's attorney, said the Crosbys had reached a property agreement and that their four children would remain in Mrs. Crosby's care.

REV. WANGERIN, 59, LUTHERAN PASTOR, IS DEAD

The Rev. Albert D. Wangerin, widely known Lutheran pastor, died yesterday at the age of 59 in his home at 4512 North Drake avenue. For 32 years he had been pastor of the Tabor Evangelical Lutheran church, 3540 Sunnyside avenue.

Albert D. Wangerin.

The Rev. Mr. Wangerin was born near Kankakee, the son of the late Rev. Albert Wangerin, who also taught at the Christian Day school, where his son was educated. The son was graduated from Concordia college, Milwaukee, and Concordia seminary, St. Louis, Mo. He was secretary of the Lutheran Old Folks' home at Arlington Heights, chairman of the mission board of the northern Illinois district of the Missouri synod for nine years, and chairman of the Lutheran Industrial home at Addison, Du Page county.

He leaves his widow, Clara, and three sons, Rudolph, Martin, and Arnold. The Rev. Mr. Wangerin's body will lie in state from 2 to 9 p. m. today and tomorrow in the Tabor church, where a children's memorial service will be held at 11 a. m. Monday. Funeral services will be held there at 2 p. m. Monday, with burial in St. Lucas cemetery.

SWITCH TO BUSES ON WEST TOWNS LINE IS ORDERED

The Illinois Commerce commission yesterday ordered the Chicago and West Towns railways to substitute buses for street cars within 90 days on an eight mile route running thru Oak Park, River Forest, Forest Park, Cicero, and Berwyn. The plan already has been approved by the federal court, which has jurisdiction over the transit company. Arrangements have been made by the company to buy buses at a cost of $200,000, officials said.

The bus route will be as follows: From Austin and Chicago avenues in Oak Park, west on Chicago to Harlem avenue, south in Harlem to Madison street, west in Madison to Des Plaines avenue, south in Des Plaines to Roosevelt road, east in Roosevelt to 52d avenue, south in 52d to 35th street, and west in 35th street to Austin avenue in Cicero, returning over the same route.

Oak Park will pave Chicago avenue after tracks are removed, and the state highway department will pave Roosevelt road, Merrill B. Knox, engineer for the commerce commission, said.

2 NEW DEMANDS FROM CITY STALL TRANSIT TALKS

Two new demands by the city yesterday stalled progress toward a settlement of Chicago's 13 year old controversy on a unified traction franchise.

Mayor Kelly and the city's special traction subcommittee asked the transit lines to agree to increase the number of transfer points between the elevated and surface lines from 57, the present number, to 91 under the proposed unification. The city and the lines have already agreed to keep present rates of fare until Jan. 1, 1942, however, and the companies contend this agreement includes maintenance of the present transfer arrangements.

The city's second request was that the proposed united company waive the deposit of $1,000,000 a year into a sinking fund for its bonds during the first eight years of operation, if this amount is not earned. The lines replied that this provision would upset their financial reorganization plan. The groups remained deadlocked on terms of compensation to the city for use of streets. They will meet again Monday.

OBITUARIES

Walter L. Benson.

Funeral services for Walter L. Benson, widely known clothing merchant, will be held at 10:30 a. m. today in Rosehill cemetery chapel. Mr. Benson died Thursday night in the American hospital at the age of 54. He was secretary of the Benson & Rixon Clothing company, which was founded by his father, the late Paul J. Benson. He lived at Winnetka. He leaves his widow, Doris; two sons, Bruce and Walter, and a daughter, Mrs. James Hardy.

A. S. Rosenthal.

Services for A. S. Rosenthal, former president of the National Association of Bedding Manufacturers, who died Thursday in his home at 424 South Hamlin avenue, will be held at 11 a. m. Monday in the chapel at 3125 Roosevelt road. Mr. Rosenthal was secretary and one of the founders of the Superior Felt and Bedding company. He was 57 years old. He leaves his widow, Bertha; three daughters, two sisters, a brother, and four grandchildren.

Robert A. Campbell.

Robert A. Campbell, vice president and sales manager of the Scott Valve Manufacturing company, died suddenly yesterday in Philadelphia, Pa., where he had gone on a business trip. Mr. Campbell lived at 7329 Coles avenue. He was 60 years old. His widow, Mrs. Blanche A. Campbell, and a sister, Mrs. Adair Younge, survive. Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. Monday in the chapel at 2700 East 75th street.

Daniel Willard Jr.

Salisbury, Conn., May 17 (AP).—Daniel Willard Jr., son of the president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, died today following a heart attack at the White Hart inn here where he was staying with his father. Willard was assistant to his father in the railroad offices. Besides his parents, Willard leaves his widow, Mary, and two children, Daniel III. and Mary.

Martin B. Leisser.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 17 (AP).—Martin B. Leisser, 94 years old, one of Pittsburgh's best known painters and founder of its art schools, died today. He was a friend of Andrew Carnegie, painted his portrait, and persuaded him to establish the art school at Carnegie Institute of Technology.

Francis X. Bergeron.

Kankakee, Ill., May 17 [Special].—Funeral services for Francis X. Bergeron, 67 years old, a retired farmer, will be held Monday in St. Patrick's church here. Mr. Bergeron, a lifelong resident of Kankakee county, died Thursday night in his home at Kankakee.

GARNER TRAILS ROOSEVELT IN OREGON VOTING

Portland, Ore., May 17 (AP).—Early returns established a 6 to 1 margin for President Roosevelt tonight in his presidential nomination contest with Vice President Garner. Six hundred twenty out of 1,693 precincts showed: Roosevelt, 26,196 votes; Garner, 4,265. Oregon has 10 delegates to the national convention.

Senator Charles McNary received 24,565 votes in 476 precincts for the Republican presidential nomination. He was unopposed, but Thomas E. Dewey is expected to receive many write-in votes. Congressman James Mott, Republican, was ahead of Kenneth A. Brown in the only contest involving a congressman.

Also an issue in the voting was the fate of the Bonneville dam power. Portland and five western counties were deciding whether to establish people's utility districts to market the electrical energy from the great federal generators on the Columbia river.

'It's a Girl,' Papa Phones; Echo Answers, 'It's Another'

Columbus, Ind., May 17 (AP).—Albert F. Davis hurried to the office of Bartholomew county hospital to telephone relatives that he had just become the father of a baby girl. On the way back upstairs to the maternity ward, a nurse stopped him and said, "Go right back down and call your folks again. There's another one." The second twin was a girl, too.

Tree Planting Opens Jubilee at Hull House

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Hull House, Chicago's unique and world famous neighborhood settlement at Polk and Halsted streets, began a 10 day celebration yesterday of its 50th anniversary. With programs, speeches, dinners, and pageants arranged for this celebration, the opening was marked by a simple ceremony in honor of trees.

Tree planting, which acknowledges a deep faith in the rhythms and beneficence of nature, was taken as a symbol of the faith which Hull House holds that human nature is also subject to laws of growth and development under a guiding light.

Over this gathering in the Hull House theater was the shadow of war, a world plunged into destructiveness, hatred, and the use of force. The gathering was marked by the shrill cries of the next generation of Chicagoans, scrambling for seats of vantage in the theater.

The war that Hull House is preparing for, which it has always been eager to fight, is that of giving this youth a better opportunity in a world of tumbledown buildings.

And so they planted the allanthus trees in neat rows along two bordering streets. These are the so-called trees of heaven, which unfold blossoms as well as leaves out of the bitterest soil. The city did the work in memory of Jane Addams, who was called "America's first citizen" because of her work at this place and who won the Nobel peace prize in 1931.

Miss Addams is gone. Miss Charlotte Carr carries on, with the help of many who have been in the work for nearly half a century. The program of the house is flexible, but it has the same goal. Its banner is lifted high today in the face of a warring world. Its faith in the potential good of humanity is undimmed, even tho the results have been slow in coming.

"With one half the world fighting for democracy," said Miss Carr, "we are pleased that Hull House and its groups are working together to do what they can to make this small unit the kind of a community they want to live in and the kind we want the whole world to be."

This is a community of neighborliness. Hull House has seen wave after wave of immigration. Irish, Germans, Poles, Italians, Greeks, Slovaks, Armenians, Alsatians, Mexicans, have swept over the neighborhood. Hull House has absorbed each wave in kindness. It has held open doors to the world. It has grown from an old house on a slum street, a house which once was in a meadow surrounded with trees, into a community of two city blocks, worth $1,800,000. And the neighborhood is a place of peace.

Many Hull House graduates came back last evening to attend the alumni dinner. There were doctors, dentists, lawyers, merchants, artists, musicians, who had once come into these doors from slum homes, and had found something new and fine in the world and an encouragement for their minds to develop.

Representatives of neighborhood busines groups aided in the celebration. Mayor Kelly, who had ordered the planting of the trees, was represented by Oscar Hewitt, commissioner of public works. The Halsted Business Men's association was represented by Irving N. Klein, president of L. Klein, Inc., and by Harry Okin, chairman of the 12th Street Store. The Maxwell Business Men's association was represented by I. Makevich, president of I. Makevich & Son.

Mrs. Jack Baraz, president of the Jane Addams Women's club, told of the housing project which bears Miss Addams' name. Alex Wilson, regional attorney for the wage and hour division, one of the old Hull House boys, and William John Granata, Republican candidate for clerk of the Probate court, another "graduate" of the club activities in the house, also attended and spoke at the dinner.

Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, president of Hull House association, who after 46 years of work in the settlement still dreams of her city of God, spoke at the opening ceremony. Charles P. Schwartz, vice president of the association, spoke at the dinner. James V. Sylvester, conductor of the 124th Field Artillery band, who got his first training in the Hull House band, gave a concert in the evening.

There will be programs at the settlement today and every day thru May 26.

Plan Parties for Stokowski on Visit Here

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE distinguished musician and conductor, Leopold Stokowski, will be the center of attraction at two parties, one large and one small, when he arrives in Chicago Sunday, May 26, to be here for a few hours. The board of directors and officers of the Woman's Symphony Orchestral association mailed invitations last night to a tea and reception to be held from 5 until 7 o'clock at the Arts club.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip B. Maher are inviting a few of their friends to meet Mr. Stokowski and his traveling companion, John Bitter, of New York and Jacksonville, Fla., at dinner that night at the Racquet club. Mr. Stokowski and Mr. Bitter, who is Mrs. Maher's brother-in-law, have been doing some work together in Hollywood. They are arriving by airplane that morning from the west and will depart late that night for New York. Mrs. Bitter also will be an especial guest at the Maher party for she is arriving next Friday to spend ten days with Mr. and Mrs. Maher in Lake Bluff. Mr. Bitter is conductor of the Jacksonville Symphony orchestra.

Mr. Stokowski is coming to Chicago to conduct auditions of the 38 young musicians who are finalists in the Illinois competition for the Stokowski All-American Youth orchestra. The orchestra is to spend two months touring Central and South America with Mr. Stokowski, sailing from New York on July 5. The artists, masculine and feminine, from 15 to 25 years old, and from every state in the union, will rehearse in Washington, D. C., where they will give their first concert on July 4.

Mrs. James G. Shakman, president of the Woman's Symphony association, will head the receiving line at the Arts club. Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, president of the club; Mrs. Bruce MacLeish, president of the Woman's Athletic club, and other officers and directors of the association will assist in receiving. It is expected that Mr. Stokowski will speak.

Chicagoans in Lansing for Betrothal Parties.

Several Chicagoans are in Lansing, Mich., this week-end to attend some parties which are being given for Miss Marie Elizabeth Sergardi of Lansing and Detroit, and C. Ives Waldo Jr. of Winnetka, whose engagement is being announced today by her father, Fabio Sergardi of Michigan, Siena, and Naples, Italy.

Among those who will be guests at a tea and buffet supper, to be given today by Miss Joan Ballard, and a brunch, given tomorrow by Miss Peggy Anderson, are the Carl von Ammons, in whose wedding party Miss Sergardi and her fiancé met; Philip von Ammon, William Butz, Towner Webster, and Leslie Waldo.

Miss Sergardi attended Miss Parker's school in Lansing, the Bradford junior college in Bradford, Mass., and Denison university. She has traveled

Looking at Hollywood
By Ed Sullivan

The Observation Post.

Hollywood, Cal., May 18.—CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S Clement Conger [of the Washington bureau] points out in connection with my recent columns from that city that Alexandria, Va., prior to 1825, was the great theatrical city of that area, patronized by George Washington and other famous first nighters. . . . Altho the stage then was not always held in favor, Conger sends me an epitaph from Christ churchyard, penned in 1808 to the actress aunt of Joseph Jefferson:

Beneath this stone
Are deposited the remains of Mrs.
Anne Warren
Daughter of John Bruton, Esq.
Of England,
And wife of William Warren, Esq.
One of the managers of the Philadelphia and Baltimore theaters.
By her loss the American stage
Has been deprived of one of its Brightest ornaments.
The excellencies of her theatrical talent
Are only surpassed by many virtues
And accomplishments
Which adorned her private life.
In her were combined the affectionate wife,
The tender mother,
And sincere friend.
She died at Alexandria
June 28, 1808.
Age, 39 years.

You wonder to yourself if Charlie Chaplin's "timing" of his comedy about the dictators isn't in error. . . . At one time in recent world history you could have poked fun and caricatured the dictators, but the headlines make that impossible now. . . . There's little comedy left in the situation, and Chaplin may lose a lot of dough as a result. . . . It doesn't seem to me that audiences will be able to laugh; perhaps later, but not now. . . . The world never has wanted comedy so ardently, but there is a good chance that Chaplin picked the wrong theme. . . . Making fun of a funeral is incredibly difficult, particularly when the funny-bone of the world is dislocated.

When Frank Capra is feeling down in the dumps he cheers himself up by rereading this letter from R. V. Brown, a former state's attorney in Wisconsin: "You movie folks," penned Brown, "are doing a fine job. You just get inferiority complexes. You let the self-appointed critics get you 'down,' so that you can't appreciate your own fine work. I have a young son. He must have entertainment to find an escape in his adolescent years. We permit him to see the movies. Why? Because we can trust you movie folks. Do you think we can trust the dance halls, the taverns, the parties, the pool halls, and other local forms of entertainment to make an undirected contribution to the development of our young son? We Americans send flowers to the funeral, but neglect to do so while the person is alive. Living people get the thorns; dead people get the flowers. The thorns are a healthy sign of interest, but they can be overdone. You are doing a fine job, all of you. Remember that."

In two weeks the nags will be running again at Hollywood Park. . . . This is the race track that is next door to a cemetery. . . . Most places out here seem to be crowded against cemeteries. . . . The R. K. O. and Paramount studios can't expand because they're smack up against cemeteries. . . . A mortuary is at the entrance of the M.-G.-M. studios. . . . You get so used to them, however, that it takes a visitor to point them out to you.

Laurence Olivier to date has had only one stage comedy to relieve the grimness of his assignments. . . . "Wuthering Heights" wasn't exactly a gay trifle and "Rebecca" was a somber study. . . . Romeo never has been noted for its gayety. . . . For a guy who's looking forward eagerly to his marriage, Laurence is certainly training on melancholy make-believe.

No place out here gets such a steady stream of sightseers as Grauman's Chinese theater. . . . Any time of day or night you can see lines of people examining the movie star footprints and handprints in the theater forecourt. . . . The one that gets the top chuckle is William Powell's message to Sid Grauman: "Sid, I'm happy to put my foot in it for you." . . . Next to that would be the pun punned by Joan Crawford: "May this cement our friendship." . . . Myrna Loy gets down to fundamentals: "To Sid, who gave me my first job." . . . Tyrone Power, under the markings of his footprints, scrawled: "Following in my father's footsteps." . . . Sonja Henie left her skateprints; William S. Hart left the impressions of his six-shooters; Tom Mix had his hoss, Tony, imprint his forefeet. . . . Grauman, gray little man, has long since severed his connection with the theater bearing his name.

The long-and-short of it: Arthur Treacher and Mickey Rooney. . . . Treacher is 6 feet 4½ inches tall. . . . Paulette Goddard always seems to have that come-hither look in her orbs. . . . Judy Garland is one of the best box-office attractions in vaudeville, or what is left of it. . . . At Youngstown and Akron we played Keith houses and, regardless of what actors thought of E. F. Albee, he certainly knew how to design theaters for vaudeville: wide orchestra floors and shallow in length. . . . The audience seemed to be sitting right in your laps. . . . Those big theaters, the presentation houses, designed for pictures and huge crowds, make it tough on the performer. . . . About time that Jane Bryan announced she'd make a picture.

Every theater in the world runs them, trailers; those four minute or five minute advertisements of coming attractions. . . . Hollywood makes about 1,500 of them a year, and they bring in a gross annual rental of about $5,000,000 from theaters. . . . Trailers vary in price from a few hundred dollars to some that cost $10,000. . . . They rent from $2 to $25 per theater, and are translated into 26 languages.

Cotton Gives Summer Ease in Foundations

BY REA SEEGER.

With a long summer ahead and with all the clever cotton promotions featured to assure the immaculate feeling that only this material can promise, cool cotton foundations of the new 1940 designs make important fashion news. New streamlined beauties are available in floral printed dimities, Swisses, and in smooth cotton shirtings. White shirting numbers are ideal tailored models to wear under tailored, street, daytime and office clothes. The dainty pastel prints in Swiss and dimity are slick underpieces for printed dresses and costumes in either silk, linen or cotton.

Because these new materials are of tub fast cotton capable of going thru the weekly sudsings, and have extremely low price marks, the various showings have taken shopping records for a race. Girdles, all-togethers, and matching bras to go with the girdles all come in the usual range of sizes and there isn't a price mark that zooms over the five dollar limit. Every inch of the underlayers are of cotton with the side panels of cotton webbing.

For other shoppers, there are many smooth summer girdles, all-togethers, and corsets made of cotton lace over cotton net, double cotton voiles, and cool batistes in both chalk white and peach. All tub with ease, all have unusually low price marks!

Countess Proves Again Poland Is Land of Pianists

Added proof of Poland's ability to furnish us with top ranking pianists was given by the recital of Countess Helena Morsztyn in Orchestra hall last night. She appeared here for the first time, presented by the Legion of Young Polish Women for the benefit of the Paderewski fund for Polish relief.

To an all-Chopin program the pianist brought a superb technique and a mature musicianship that used but controled a wealth of temperament. She played the Chopin compositions in the grand manner.

In the B flat minor Sonata the performance came close to the definitive. The first movement had a tremendous sweep, resulting from cumulative sonorities and an implacable drive. The funeral march was taken at exactly the right tempo to keep it dignified yet sorrowful. It was a revelation to hear such hackneyed music sound so beautiful.

Countess Morsztyn's playing wasn't always beyond reproach. She misgauged the acoustics of the hall so that her pedaling was often too thick for them. Her long stretches of forte playing were too monotonous and unrelieved at times.

These are minor criticisms, however, of pianism that Chicago should be allowed to hear again soon and in a répertoire of more scope.

Marry My Daughter

By Alice Duer Miller

(Copyright: 1940; By News Syndicate Co., Inc.)

SYNOPSIS.

Millicent Dunham's mother dreams of marrying her off to Dick Shard, who is kind, distinguished and rich. Dick lives in New York, but Mr. Dunham had worked for the Shard firm in Kansas, and after his death Dick had given Mrs. Dunham a job. On a business trip to New York, Dick invites Mrs. Dunham to a theater party, and after the show she is killed saving Dick from being hit by a car. While she is dying she makes Dick promise to marry Millicent. Tho Dick is in love with Constance Stewart, whose husband Aleck is an invalid, he feels obligated to keep his promise to Mrs. Dunham. Millicent, who has been left penniless and untrained, realizes she doesn't love Dick, but she thinks he loves her, and upon the advice of Dr. Ogden, a family friend, she marries him. On their way to New York, following their wedding, Dick confesses the reason he married her. He tells her she can get a divorce, but advises her to live with him for six months, during which time she will be free to do as she pleases. She is humiliated but sees no other way out, so agrees to this arrangement. Dick tells Constance how badly his wife is dressed, and she gets Millicent a personal maid who chooses Millicent's clothes for her. Dick returns home the first evening after he is back at work, expecting to find Millicent tearful, but instead she is entertaining Michael Curley, a young man she has met that day at the Metropolitan museum. Constance gives a bridal dinner for Dick and Millicent, planning to show off her own beauty in comparison with dowdily dressed Millicent, but instead Millicent is exquisitely dressed and very beautiful and makes quite an impression on all the guests. Donald Eaves, a suave worldling, is one of the guests and goes into his usual rôle of flirting with the neglected wife. He is all eyes for the bride and warns her against Constance. When they get home that night Dick admits his love for Constance to Millicent and warns her against Eaves. She refuses to take Dick's advice and turns to Eaves for admiration and companionship. Curley goes to Dick's office and confesses his own love for Millicent, begging Dick to save her from Eaves with whom she has a date that afternoon. Dick goes home, hoping to prevent the date and, finding his wife gone, telephones Constance to come over for tea. Their tête-à-tête is interrupted by a frantic telephone message from Millicent saying she is locked in Eaves' bedroom. Dick goes to the rescue, and the emotional thrill of being saved by Dick makes Millicent realize she loves him. Constance sends for Dick, saying that Aleck is ill and needs him. While he is gone, Dr. Ogden arrives for a visit. Millicent tells him of her unhappy marriage.

INSTALMENT XXIV.

LEAVING HOME.

Millicent was crying so by this time that she was scarcely intelligible. Dr. Ogden made her sit down and regain some of her self-control before he said: "Now what's all this, my dear child? We all thought you were so happy—your letters sounded as if everything were working out perfectly."

She shook her head: "I did a wicked thing in marrying him, and now I'm being punished."

"What's wicked about marrying a nice fellow who loves you?"

"He didn't love me, Dr. John. He didn't want to marry me—he hated it—but he promised my mother—my poor mother—she made him promise before she died that he would marry me."

"Nonsense, Milly, your mother wouldn't have done that. What makes you get such a crazy idea in your head?"

"He told me so, Dr. John—five minutes after we got in the train—he told me why he had married me."

"He told you!"

"Yes, he could hardly wait to tell me—so that I wouldn't expect anything from him—so that he could be free of me. He told me I could stay in his house for six months, and then we could have a divorce, and that I would be the freest woman in the world . . ."

"By heck, Milly, and you let him talk to you like that. You should have got off the train at the next station and come back to me . . ."

"I see that now, Dr. John, but at the time it seemed all right . . . I mean I didn't know about this other woman."

"The damned scoundrel. I suppose the truth is he has used you as a blind to this other love affair."

"I suppose in a way he has."

The doctor stood up. "Well, my dear, you won't spend another night in this man's house. I may have got you into this mess, but I'll certainly get you out of it in short order. You can come round to my hotel for tonight and we'll get the lawyers to work tomorrow."

"Tonight?" She felt as if the blood stopped flowing in her veins—tonight—if she went tonight she might never see him again. She began to see that like many special pleaders she had made her case too good—too strong. Now she began to undo her work—to explain that Dick had not been uniformly unkind—on the contrary—he had been generous—he had given her wonderful presents . . . But Dr. Ogden would not listen.

"Nonsense—what did it cost him to give you clothes and take you to parties—a convenience for his amours. Go and pack your bag and we'll get right out of here."

"You mean to go without telling him."

"I'll tell him in the morning—I'll tell him plenty."

Yes, if she could only believe it would hurt him, she would go with a grim sort of satisfaction, but if he didn't care—if he were relieved—if she never saw him again . . .

"How can you hesitate, Milly," the doctor went on. "Don't you see what an undignified position you're in—the man wants to get rid of you or else he's just using you—you've got to go."

She nodded and moved toward the door, but as she did so, her ear caught a sound it had been trained thru long weeks to listen for—the grating of a latchkey in the front door.

As he came into the room she saw that something had gone wrong—he looked blank and strained, and angry as she was, she found her heart melting at the idea that he was in trouble. Could it be that he and Constance had quarreled and he had come back to her? No, it was too late, it was almost 11 o'clock, for in her agonies she had lost track of time. He came into the room blankly, but as he saw his visitor his whole face lit up in welcome.

"Dr. Ogden, I'm so glad to see you. What are you doing here?" The doctor ignored the outstretched hand: "Well, for one thing, I'm taking Milly home."

"Home? Is anything wrong?"

"About as wrong as it can be, I should say."

Millicent saw that Dick was getting the idea. "Wrong in what way?" he asked.

"O, you don't need me to come half across the continent to tell you that you've behaved like a scoundrel."

"A scoundrel! That's a rough word, Dr. Ogden."

"Not half as rough as I feel, after all that Milly's been telling me."

"Sit down," Dick said, and sank down on the nearest chair. "Let me try to make you see this from my point of view."

"I don't want to see your point of view. I'm no judge—I'm a partisan, and I've heard enough." Nevertheless he did sit down.

Dick began: "A lady for whom I had a deep respect, but with whom I had after all a very slight acquaintance, lost her life most heroically in saving mine. She asked me just before she died to marry her daughter—an utterly unknown girl 15 years younger than I am. I don't think, Dr. Ogden, that I am more selfish or more self-indulgent than most men, but the idea was not agreeable to me. I like to be alone—I liked my life just the way it was. Of course then I didn't know Millicent . . . I didn't know the sort of kindness and joy she radiates—I did not suppose it would be a pleasure to have her in the house . . ."

"It's a pleasure you won't have much longer."

Dick did not notice the interruption. "No, I did not want to marry her. On the other hand I did most ardently want to give her some sort of financial security. This marriage—this nominal marriage—seemed to me a good way of doing it. Perhaps I was wrong, but I'd like to ask you what you would have done in my place?"

"That's easily answered. In the first place I would have refused to make such a promise. . ."

"I doubt that, Dr. Ogden, if you had seen Mrs. Dunham die."

"Or else if I had promised I would have gone thru with it like a man. I wouldn't have brought a perfectly innocent girl on here away from her friends and neglected her and insulted her, and used her as a screen to an intrigue with another woman."

Millicent saw her husband freeze at these terrible words. For an instant she felt a base impulse to desert Dr. John—to assure Dick that she had never said that—not exactly that. But she did not yield—after all it was true—essentially true. There was a long silence. Then Dr. Ogden said briskly: "Go and pack your bag, Milly."

Dick stood up. "She's leaving tonight?"

"She insists on an immediate divorce."

He smiled faintly: "Millicent knows she does not have to insist. She could always have had a divorce any time she wanted it."

"And a very large alimony," said Dr. John.

"And a very large alimony," Dick repeated.

"No," said Millicent. "I will not take one cent of your money."

Dr. Ogden turned on her.

"What do you think you are going to live on?"

"I suppose I can work for my living like other women."

Good Morning!

The principal characters in this farce comedy [with serious moments] are a career girl author who has just turned out a best seller on the superiority and happiness of the unmarried woman; a serious young physician who dislikes the lady's kind thoroly and is all set to wed a clinging vine —WHEN he obtains a certain professorship; AND—the c. v.

At the very beginning of the piece, Authoress Cameron gets in Dr. Sterling's hair. . . . For reasons the picture shall show you he becomes her husband in name only, and finds his well ordered life turned into just a battlefield.

On the eve—so to speak—of a longed for dissolution of their marriage a baby, assisted into the world by the combatants, proves—what do you think? And if you predict a happy ending I would say that you're a prophet with honor in your own bailiwick.

The episode in which the baby arrives is filmed seriously and in detail. Rather moving it is, too.

The romantic battling rôles are handled expertly by Ray Milland and Loretta Young, tho I DO find the latter lacking in finesse these days. . . . Gail Patrick rather overdoes, too. . . . "Stop" lights are as important as "Go" lights—don't you think? . . . Other players get by in excellent shape.

Dialog is "sophisticated"—I suppose—but not overly brilliant, and the film was accorded lavish staging and able direction. All in all it's a fairly engaging time passer.

See you tomorrow.

Books Assist in Answering Nature Queries

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS
[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

When you take the children jaunting in woods and fields in search of the "merry month of May," and all that nature offers in that month, you will undoubtedly be bombarded with questions by the children.

If, at first, the children's eyes are sharper than yours, you'll soon catch up with them. If, at first, you know more than they, they'll soon catch up with you. When that time comes, you'll have to go on discovering things together. And the answers to the sights you'll all wonder about will be found very often in books.

Prowl around in the bookstores and libraries. Fine books are coming out all the time. I haven't time to keep up with them all. Book reviewing is a job in itself, but here are a few for the older child and adult:

"The Turtle Book," by Clifford Pope, published by Alfred Knopf, New York, price, $3.75.

"Snakes Alive," by Clifford Pope, published by Viking Press, New York.

"Small Animals," by Robert Snedigar, published by Random House, New York.

And the books of Donald Culross Peattie.

I could find no simple guide for the ever fascinating seashore more interesting or more usable than the little one, "Along the Shore," by Eva L. Butler, published by John Day company, New York. It costs $1.25.

The little but adequate pocket guide called "Bird Guide" [land birds east of the Rockies] is published by Doubleday Doran, Garden City, N. Y. and costing $1.25.

Of wildflower books the most practical is the little guide three inches by five and one-half inches in size, "Wild Flowers East of the Rockies." It has good color illustrations, is published by Doubleday Doran of Garden City N. Y., and costs $1.50.

May 18, 1940.

Those in a 7 year, which includes those with birthdays today, may feel right now a little sense of self-pity because of the burdens they are asked to bear, but they should try to accept and fulfill these responsibilities without rancor. As June approaches, retire from a too active participation in social activities. Relax during June. If you can, take a short vacation, or a day or week-end in the country. You must prepare for a few upheavals that will come along this year, changing perhaps your whole scheme of life. Universally today offers opportunities for a new start. Start the day right and your next nine days will run smoother.

Party or Graduation Dress

FROCK IN JUNIOR SIZES.

Does your subdeb daughter need a graduation frock or a party gown for school festivities? We think this pattern is one she'll like. Her older sisters will favor it, too, for its girlishness and femininity. It isn't a difficult costume to make, and it's simply "born" for sheer fabrics, whether cotton or silk, figured or plain.

The square neckline may be left plain, with only contrasting bows for trim, or it may have ruffling and lace for finish. The short puffed sleeves may be simple or partake of the dress trimming, too. Shirring emanating from the midriff sector and the neckline lends softness to the bodice, a feature particularly beneficial on the very young girl whose figure is undeveloped and a little on the scrawny side. The skirt flares widely at the hemline. A sash is optional.

Style No. 3313 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17, and 19. Size 15 requires 3½ yards of 39 inch material for regulation length dress; 4½ yards for floor length version.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Frozen fruits and vegetables have found a permanent place in the modern cook's menu making plans. They are so easy to cook, so uniformly good in quality, and so fresh in flavor, that most cooks wonder how they ever prepared good meals before the day of quick freezing.

All one needs to do is follow directions on the package for a buttered vegetable or simple fruit dessert. But now and then it's fun to try a combination vegetable dish, or special kind of frozen fruit dessert.

Frizzled ham with fresh-flavored succotash made by combining frozen corn and frozen lima beans is just as delicious as it sounds, even more so.

Succotash with Frizzled Ham.
[Serves six.]
1 box frozen baby lima beans
2 cups salted boiling water
1 box frozen golden bantam corn
½ cup light cream, scalded
Butter, salt, pepper
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
8 slices boiled ham

Drop frozen lima beans into briskly boiling salted water, and boil 16 to 18 minutes, or until just tender. Drain. Drop frozen corn into scalded milk in the top of a double boiler. Cover and cook for 15 minutes, or until just tender. Add cooked lima beans and season with butter, salt and pepper. Serve on a hot platter sprinkled with bits of pimiento and surrounded with the slices of ham which have been sauted quickly in butter.

Peach mousse made from those juicy ripe frozen peaches is a dessert you'll want to make often.

Peach Mousse.
[Serves five.]
1 box frozen sliced peaches
⅓ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 drops almond extract
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Thaw peaches and crush thoroly or force thru a coarse sieve. Add sugar, salt and almond extract to pulp. Fold into whipped cream. Turn into a freezing tray and freeze until firm. Stirring isn't necessary.

There's wide variety in the frozen foods obtainable. These lists are fairly complete, we think.

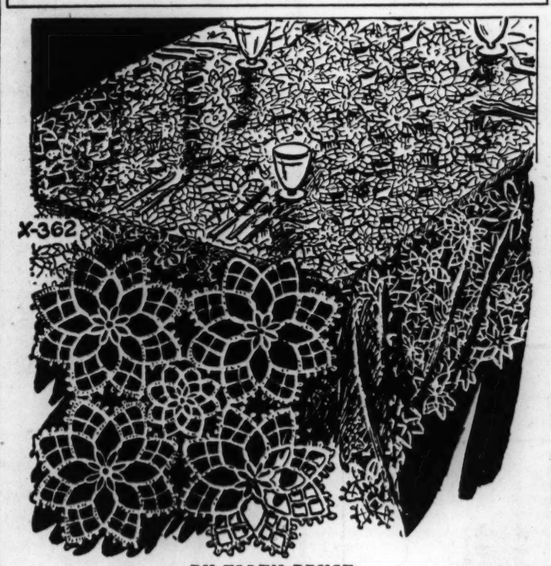
Members of the Chicago Catholic University club will hold a spring dance tomorrow in the Louis XVI. room of the Hotel Sherman. Among those assisting in the arrangements are Miss Adelle Groesbeck, Miss Nona Mae Linton, Edward Dempsey, and Harker Stanton.

Useful Crocheted Medallions



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Crocheted individual medallions may be used for a wide variety of purposes. Assembled they run the gamut from antimacassars to bedspreads and back again. The crocheted motif is attractive and not difficult to create when done in a fine, white, mercerized crochet cotton. Used with a coarser twist, the "lazy daisy" furnishes an ideal medallion for bedspreads.

For instructions in crocheting the lazy daisy medallion, No. X-362, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Front Views and Profiles
By June Provines

Mexico City.

This day has been filled with experiences and thrills, pleasant nonsense and sightseeing.

Today we visited the archaeological zone of Teotihuacan, to marvel at the pyramids of the Toltecs and Aztecs, and motored back across a flat Mexican plain, encircled with mountains and dotted with pepper trees and the great spikes of the maguey plant, to the famous shrine of Guadalupe, the religious shrine of Mexico. Here was another emotional experience. A service was in progress. The basilica, with its high gray arches and gold ornamentation, was fragrant with lilies and with incense. Worshipers crawled on their knees toward the gold framed image of the Virgin, and down the center aisle hundreds of little girls in long white frocks and white veils carried lilies altarward. Rapt Indian women, carrying babies in their blue-black rebozas, sometimes with small children beside them, knelt in prayer. Indian men in their white pajama-like suits, their broad brimmed hats crushed in supplicating hands, knelt before favorite saints, their lips moving in prayer.

We came out into the fading sunlight to a typical Mexican scene—venders of ices, and postcards, and lottery tickets, dogs lying beside the sidewalk stands of melons, and frijoles, and tacos, taxis driving at a reckless speed, the sound of a Spanish song coming from a shop.

A still different world greeted us as we entered the small, friendly lobby of our hotel. It was the cocktail hour at the Ritz, and a cosmopolitan crowd was sipping cuba libres, daiquiri cocktails, or martinis. There was Señor Limantour, son of the finance minister in the time of Gen. Diaz; the red-headed man near the bar was Gavier Alzara, grandson of Juarez, great Mexican patriot, and owner of the bar and a patron of bull fighters. The tall, distinguished looking man with the graying hair was Carlos Verea, known in other world capitals, member of one of the old hacienda families and with a daughter marrie to a grandee of Spain. There were pretty girls, dark-eyed Mexican youths, tourists, and the little group one sees there every evening composed of two American girls and four or five admirers.

A spectacular Mexican mural hangs above the Ritz bar, a painting of a scene at the famous floating gardens at Xochimilco. Yesterday we visited Xochimilco and floated down its waterways in a punt, the name of which, Juanita, was spelled out in fresh flowers on its canvas shelter. It was not a popular hour for the trip, and we were alone on the water except for the venders of refreshments and flowers who floated alongside in the hope of selling their wares. We found the long canals between rows of slim willow trees, with a view of the gardens of carnations, and pansies, and lilies on the banks, more charming than we had expected. And for a peso bought a bouquet of gardenias, five nosegays of pansies, and a tight bunch of two dozen small pink carnations.

On the House

Here are a few tips for piano care all seasons of the year. Don't expose it to dampness as this can affect the wood of sounding board and finish of the case. Don't subject it to differences in temperature at its ends; that is, one end closer to a radiator or register than the other. Keep it from cold drafts. Wrap it in a fleece lined cover if it is left in an unoccupied house. Keep closed when not in use, but see that keyboard is occasionally exposed to light if piano is infrequently used, as natural ivory can turn yellow if it is kept constantly in the dark. LOUISE BARGELT.

The Housewife

No matter how carefully one cares for furniture, it will show a few scratches, here and there, in time. Accidents are bound to happen. To conceal these scratches a special stick has been devised which contains a substance for the purpose. You simply take the stick and rub it hard over the scratched area. You don't have to moisten the stick; it is already prepared. Keep it in the container and you can use it again and again. It's a nice item to have on hand. EDITH WEIGLE.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 club	Pass	1 no trump	2 spades
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

"I was South. Normally, I prefer to bid one heart on this type of hand, but my partner plays a system in which any suit response shows a trick and a half, hence I was afraid he would carry me to game. When the double of two spades came I shook in my boots, but felt that if I took it out to three clubs or any other rescue my partner never would let go until he reached game and probably a terrible penalty. So I merely hoped North could beat the hand with his own cards, and after all I did have one ace.

"The club king was opened and, probably encouraged by my seven spot, North continued with the queen. He then shifted to the diamond queen. Declarer won with the ace, led to the diamond king, ruffed a diamond, then ruffed his last club. A low heart then was led. I went up with the ace and, when my partner showed out, returned a heart which he ruffed with the three spot. Partner then led the club ace. Dummy discarded a heart and I lost the game by discarding my diamond nine. Declarer ruffed, led the ace and king of trumps, and then the heart king. The only trick we could make was my partner's high trump. Thus West lost only two spades, two clubs, and one heart, which gave him game and rubber at two spades doubled.

"I was just asleep at the switch, non compus mentus, dumb, or what have you. What good was my spade ten? No good, and I knew it! I should have ruffed my partner's club ace with the 10 and thereby establish an extra spade trick for my partner, which would have set the contract. Just another case of the spot cards being the important things, not the aces, kings, and queens.

"J. C., New York."

Well, of course, confession is good for the soul and my correspondent undoubtedly will gain from this humility in this case. As the hand was played [?] the contract should have been defeated by South ruffing in with the spade 10 on the fourth club lead, but this was due solely to the fact that declarer had murdered the hand. Actually, after two rounds of clubs were led by North, no defense could have been effective against proper declarer's play. West's third club could always be safely ruffed and after that declarer would only have to cash his ace-king of trumps, leaving North's two high trumps at large, and then go about his business knocking out the heart ace. The defenders would have been confined to one heart trick, two trumps [whether as ruffs or as high trumps], and two clubs.

The contract actually was conceded on North's second lead of clubs. If North had shifted to a low trump [admittedly a very risky play] and later, when declarer returned the club nine to clean out dummy's last club, had sufficient nerve to duck in the hope that South could win with the 10 spot and return another trump, the defenders could have taken six tricks.

My correspondent is right in one respect, however: It is just as reprehensible [and even more maddening] to fail to capitalize an opponent's error as it is to make a bad play under ordinary circumstances.

May Is Winning June's Laurels for Weddings

If superstition had more followers there would be few, if any, weddings in May. There are so many weddings planned for today, however, that it resembles a busy Saturday in June.

At 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in Oak Park Miss Dora Moon Dixon will become the bride of Paul McReynolds Jones, son of Mrs. Augusta McReynolds Jones. The wedding will be a small one in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Thomas J. Dixon, the Rev. George Fowler of the First Methodist church of Oak Park officiating. The wedding guests will remain to drink a toast to the bride and groom.

Miss Alice Dixon will be her sister's only attendant. Howard Brackney will be best man. Two nephews and two nieces of the bride will stretch the ribbons, Wesley M. Dixon Jr. and Stuart Strawn Dixon, the Wesley Dixons' sons, and Emily Ann and Dora Elizabeth Dixon, the Arthur Dixons' daughters. Ushering will be Jack Ware, George Brandenburg, Merton Paddleford, and Thomas J. Dixon, who is stationed in New York with the United States navy.

Miss Dixon is to wear the handsome wedding gown that her aunt, the former Edna Dixon, wore when she became the bride of Paul Walker 20 years ago. Mr. Jones and his bride are going directly to Los Angeles, where they will reside.

In Winnetka this afternoon Miss Gertrude Wassermann and Edwin Stanton Fetcher Jr. will be married in the home of the bridegroom's parents, the senior Mr. and Mrs. Fetcher. Dr. Horace Bridges will read the service. The bridegroom's brother, Lee Fetcher, will be the best man. Mrs. Lee Fetcher will be the matron of honor. Miss Miriam Fetcher will be the bridesmaid.

The bride, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Friedrich Wassermann of 6132 Kimbark avenue, will wear the gown Mrs. Lee Fetcher wore, which has been lent by the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Irwin Krohn of Cincinnati. Mrs. Krohn and her sister and brother, Mrs. Walter Stix and Lincoln Fechheimer, also of Cincinnati, all are here for the ceremony.

At 5 o'clock in St. Andrew's chapel of St. James's church Miss Sally Garden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh M. G. Garden, will become the bride of Samuel Mitchell III., son of Mrs. Dean C. Mitchell of Chicago and of Samuel J. Mitchell of Beverly Hills, Cal. The Rev. Duncan Browne will read the service in the presence of the immediate families and a small reception will follow at the Garden home, 1350 North State street.

Miss Mary Louise Alger, daughter of Mrs. Hal Wesley Alger of Glencoe, and John Dakin Huggins, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ben Huggins of Evanston, will have a quiet wedding today. Plans for a ceremony in Christ church, Winnetka, were given up because of the recent death of the bride's father.

Miss Marian Suits, daughter of Mrs. William E. Suits of the Homestead hotel, Evanston, formerly of Kenilworth, and Roy Harold Browning Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Browning of Winnetka, will be married this evening in the Kenilworth Union church. A small reception will follow in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. John Swope McKee, and Mr. McKee, at 856 Sheridan road, Winnetka.

The wedding will take place in September.

Lake Forest Flower Show to Attract Throngs Today.

The weather today and tomorrow is of paramount importance not only to members of the Lake Forest Garden club, who are holding their annual flower show, but to the thousands who plan to visit the show. Undoubtedly there will be more visitors than ever before have attended a Lake Forest show, for the setting this year is of great interest. It is Mill Road farm, the great estate given recently by Albert D. Lasker to the University of Chicago.

To reach Mill Road farm by automobile take route 41 to the south boundary of Lake Forest, where signs will be posted directing motorists to the entrance at 1590 West Old Mill road. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul train that leaves the Union station at 1:18 p. m. today will be met at West Lake Forest by a bus. Tomorrow's train leaving at 12:20 also will be met.

Mrs. William A. P. Pullman and Mrs. Phelps Kelley are co-chairmen of the committee that has arranged the show. Their co-workers have been Mrs. Charles C. Haffner Jr., Mrs. Charles S. DeLong, Mrs. William Burry Jr., Mrs. Alfred E. Hamill, Mrs. Howard W. Fenton, Miss Marion Clow, Mrs. Kirk Williams, Mrs. Edward K. Welles, Mrs. John T. Pirie Jr., Mrs. Thomas C. Dennehy Jr., and Mrs. Albert D. Farwell.

Mrs. Robert B. Gregory, whose book of reminiscences of Chicago life for more than 80 years is out today, will go north from her Prairie avenue home to a Winnetka book shop this afternoon to attend a tea being given there for her. She will autograph "A Great Grandmother Remembers" for those who attend the tea, at which Mrs. Stephen S. Gregory and Miss Dorothy Stirling will assist.

John Toskey, Piano Contest Winner, to Play at St. Xavier

John Toskey.

John Toskey, who recently won first place in a piano contest sponsored by the Musical Guild of Chicago, will play for the St. Xavier college alumnæ at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the college auditorium at 4928 Cottage Grove avenue. More than 400 alumnæ and guests are expected to attend. Mr. Toskey will play selections from Bach, Chopin, Debussy, and Brahms. He will be assisted by Rosemary Enright, vocalist, a graduate of the college.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

This and that:

When you're packing your bag to be off on a trip, a box of dusting powder is packing nuisance No. 1. There never seems to be enough space for this item. The answer to the traveler's problem of carrying what in summer amounts to a downright necessity, is found in a flat silk case containing a generous sized puff filled with a fragrant bath powder. The case comes in blue and red, is rubber lined, and is fastened with a ribbon tie. The powder is delicately perfumed with lilac, gardenia, and the fresh scent of new mown hay. A gentle pat of the puff will film the body with the scented powder.

You need never worry about presenting a clean face at any minute of the day if you're equipped with some little squares of flannel that have been impregnated with liquated cold cream. Each cloth is sealed in a thin, moistureproof envelope of foil, that prevents it from drying out and keeps it clean until needed.

They do an efficient job of removing the accumulated dirt and stale makeup, particularly lipstick. They are not greasy or drying but quite moist, leaving the skin feeling refreshed and clean, ready for a new application of makeup.

These cold cream cloths are certainly worth much more than their weight, for they're thin and light and slip into your purse without the least bit of crowding. Whether shopping, working, or dancing, they'll keep you fresh as a daisy. Use them when traveling and you'll reach your destination looking your best.

HACK, HURT BY FOUL, TO LEAVE HOSPITAL TODAY

North Siders Gain Fifth in Row.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 17.—Claude Passeau, who even in his ragamuffin days with the humble Phillies was a Giant killer of importance, took his cousin team apart with consummate ease this afternoon. The big southerner fashioned an impressive two hit affair, and his Cub pals marched to a 4 to 0 victory in a battle that put Stan Hack, the Chicagoans' third base guardian, out of action. A foul off Hank Leib-er's bat hit Hack in the head in the first inning.

STANLEY HACK.

Hack, who had worked his way around to third after a pass, was standing on foul territory when Leiber produced a drive that had bullet like speed. Hack had only time to turn his head, the ball cracking him on the right parietal portion of the skull and continuing on its way. Hack fell unconscious and after ice packs had been applied, was carried off the field on a stretcher.

Blow a Glancing One.

He recovered consciousness in the clubhouse, where he was examined by Dr. C. R. Palmer, Giant team physician, who then ordered the Cub star taken to Polyclinic hospital.

After consulting X-ray negatives, Dr. Palmer, who accompanied Hack to the hospital, announced that there were no indications of a skull fracture, but that Hack had experienced a slight concussion. As a precaution the player was ordered to remain in the hospital overnight and will not don a uniform for several days.

The glancing blow from the ball inflicted a slight scalp wound, but no stitches were necessary.

While in the act of putting together his second triumph of the year Passeau skipped past the halfway mark before the Giants were able to get even one safe hit. The chain was broken by Joe Moore in the sixth and on a ball that didn't get out of the infield, but nevertheless was tapped sufficiently well to eliminate any question of its legitimacy.

Moore Gets Second Hit.

The same Moore was the producer of the other safety, a real clout that blasted its way beyond Bobby Mattand Bob Swanson of Los Angeles. were coupled up with both the hits, but the blundering apparently caused Passeau no concern.

The Cubs also were in the hitless class for three innings, but once they got out of it they did it emphatically. Billy Herman exploded his season's third homer in the fourth, an inning which netted two more safe blows. This run stood as Passeau's victory hope until the seventh when his fellow workers and himself really poured it on Hal Schumacher and

THE GUMPS—TWO-TIMER?

TIME TRIALS TO OPEN TODAY FOR 500 MILE RACE

Pole Position at Stake; 16 Cars Entered.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 17 (AP).—Railbirds predicted tonight a duel for the pole position in the 500 mile automobile race on Memorial day would produce a record speed of between 131 and 132 miles an hour when qualifying begins tomorrow.

Forty-nine cars were entered, but only 47 now are in running order. One—a rear-motored Miller—was destroyed by fire recently in an accident in which George Bailey of Detroit was killed. Another Miller car was officially withdrawn today.

To qualify a car must average 115 miles an hour for 10 miles—four times around the two and a half mile brick and asphalt speedway. Only the 33 fastest, however, will start in the race, lining up three abreast.

Record Set by Snyder.

The swiftest car tomorrow will be given the inside position in the front row. Sixteen drivers were reported ready to try for the spot. But speed fans looked for a two man fight between Rex Mays of Glendale, Cal., and Bob Swanson of Los Angeles.

Jimmy Snyder of Chicago, later killed in a midget race, last year drove 130.138 miles an hour for the best qualifying speed since the event was started in 1911.

The consensus was that with weather not too bad both marks would fall tomorrow and the top qualifying speed would be between 131 and 132 miles an hour. Occasional showers were predicted.

Mays will drive an eight cylinder speedster entered by Robert Bowes, Indianapolis parts manufacturer; Swanson a 16 cylinder Big Bertha owned by Alden Sampson of Los Angeles.

Shaw Ready for Trial.

Others ready to qualify include the South American racing champion, Raul Riganti of Buenos Aires; last year's winner, Wilbur Shaw of Indianapolis; Ted Horn of Los Angeles; Cliff Bergere of Hollywood, Cal.; Frank Wearne of Pasadena, Cal.; George Connor of San Bernardino, Cal.; Tommy Hennerschitz of Reading, Pa.; Shorty Cantlon and Russell Snowberger of Detroit, and Duke Nalon, Frank Brisko, and Paul Russo of Chicago.

Kelly Petillo of Los Angeles, who won the 1935 race, won't be able to make a qualification trial for several days. In a tuneup spin today a connecting rod on his racer broke.

MORELIA DEALS JOYCE 1ST DEFEAT IN SIXTEEN BOUTS

Willie Joyce of Gary, Ind., former Chicago Golden Gloves champion, last night suffered his first defeat in 16 bouts. The Negro boxer was whipped by George Morelia, Detroit, Mich., in White City before 1,000. It was a split decision, Referee Barney Ross voting a draw, while Judges George Kenny and James Lynch ruled in favor of Morelia.

Joyce, holder of two victories over Lew Jenkins, lightweight title holder in New York, appeared to tire in the seventh round. There were no knockdowns. Bill Saeli of Chicago knocked out Pat Thomas, Flint, Mich., lightweight, in the seventh round of the semi-final match. Other results:

Booker Beckwith beat Harry English [5].
Settino Terracina beat Frank Krizmis [5].
Loy Henry knocked out Conrad Branski [2].

A's Pay U. of Richmond Pitcher $8,000 to Sign

Richmond, Va., May 17 (AP).—Porter Vaughan, University of Richmond left hander, will sign to play with the Philadelphia Athletics, it was reported tonight. He will receive a bonus of $8,000, one of the largest ever paid a college player. Vaughan is expected to report to Philadelphia after receiving his B. A. degree at the university next month. He has worked in ten contests—several of them in relief roles. He pitched 57 innings, yielded 23 hits and only three earned runs and struck out 88.

I Wish You Knew.

One day some unkind words were said to me
And none will ever know the deep surprise
That rose within me when I chanced to see
Two brimming teardrops glisten in your eyes;
Why should my misery have brought you pain?
Why should your bosom feel the caustic smart?
Ah, child, it was so needless to explain,
I knew you loved me deeply in your heart.

Those days of youth are long since left behind,
And we have lost each other in the years,
Yet when the callous world is most unkind
I seem to see your blue eyes fill with tears;
And sometimes I could almost wish you knew
How often other eyes have wept for you!

PURSES BOOSTED FOR 2 STAKES AT ARLINGTON PARK

Matron and Hyde Park Enriched by $2,500.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The new Arlington Park organization, headed by John D. Allen, yesterday made a move to surpass the liberal policies established by the former controlers in an effort to keep high grade horses in Chicago racing. The move consisted of increasing the value of two stakes, the Matron and the Hyde Park, by $2,500 each. This brought the former up to $7,500 and the latter to $5,000.

This action amounted to a restoration of the sum stricken off the stake program when the former owners omitted the $5,000 Arlington handicap from the schedule drafted approximately a month before the track's sale.

Purse Level to be Kept.

It had been the intention of the Hertz-McCulloch group, which then was in control, to apply this sum, together with additional funds, to a general increase in the purses for overnight events. By yesterday's action the Allen organization will be going its predecessors one better if it keeps up to the schedule of high purse distribution. It has been indicated the new owners plan to maintain this purse level so as to assure good caliber of horses for the routine events.

There is still ample time for the increased value of the Matron and Hyde Park to show its effect in the nominations. These do not close until June 1. The former is for fillies and mares, 3 years old and up, and the latter is for juveniles.

Real Contests in Past.

Both these events have attracted horses of high class in the past. Last year's Matron developed into a speed duel between C. H. Cleary's Flying Lill and the Woolford Farm's Unerring, two of the fastest fillies developed during the entire season. Flying Lill was the winner. Subsequently Unerring reversed the decision in a special match race with her rival at Washington Park.

Last season's Hyde Park stakes was won by Joseph E. Widener's Roman, one of the best 2 year olds in the country until illness and a leg ailment forced him out of training in midsummer. He has come back this year to display excellent speed in the 3 year old division.

Other Advances Planned.

"The increase in the purses of the Matron and Hyde Park stakes is the first item in Arlington's program of expansion," Allen said yesterday. "Our officials are working out other advances which will be announced soon."

Nominations for two other Arlington Park stakes, the $10,000 Stars and Stripes handicap and the $2,500 Inaugural handicap, also will close June 1.

After the third payment of fees for the $30,000 Classic stakes, 47 of the original nominees still are eligible together with five supplementary entries, whose owners paid $1,500 to get in last month. These 52 horses include all of the country's important three year olds. Third fees for the $20,000 Futurity and the $10,000 Lassie stakes were received recently.

Lincoln Fields, which will open Chicago's racing season a week from today is making its contribution toward maintaining the sport on a high level in this area. Executive Director Matt J. Winn doubled the value of all six stakes, bringing them to $5,000 each.

Hapac Voted Athlete of Year at Illinois

Champaign, Ill., May 17 (AP).—Bill Hapac, basketball and baseball star, was chosen athlete of the year today in a campus election at the University of Illinois. The contest, sponsored by the Athletic Managers' association and the Daily Illini, ended midnight Thursday after four days of voting. Hapac received 5,748 points. Jim Reeder, football tackle of Tuscola, was runner-up with 3,934 points. Joe Giallombardo, gymnast captain of Cleveland, received 3,202; Ralph Ehni, football quarter back of Pekin, 2,633, and Frank Schaefer, polo captain of Hinsdale, 2,060.

MEHL DEFEATS RICE AND MAKI BEFORE 20,000

Los Angeles, Cal., May 17 (AP).—Walter Mehl of Wisconsin and Gregory Rice of Notre Dame fame defeated Taisto Maki of Finland tonight in the special two mile race that featured a track and field program staged for the Finnish relief fund before a crowd of 20,000.

Mehl was timed in 9:01.8 and won by five yards from Rice, who was five in front of Maki.

Mozelle Ellerbe of Tuskegee, national collegiate champion, won the 100 yard dash. Summaries:

Dean, Bryant See Specialist in Baltimore

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 17.—Dizzy Dean, even tho he was knocked flat in four of his five 1940 starts as a Cub pitcher, hasn't given up hope. Nor has the club given up hope for Clay Bryant, the other crippled member of the staff, who has been of little use for almost a calendar year. Both are to undergo examination by Dr. George Bennett at Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, Md.

Diz, after getting the consent of Manager Gabby Hartnett, announced today that he would be in the hospital tomorrow to start taking tests to determine if there was any chance to restore life to the arm that has been dead since the Cubs purchased him from the Cardinals in April, 1938, for $185,000 and two players.

However, the idea of going back to the specialists for help didn't originate in Dean's mind. Mrs. Diz is bossing the maneuver. She arrived from Chicago this morning and told Diz where he was going. Mrs. Dean got the idea from Van Lingle Mungo, Brooklyn pitcher, who when in Chicago recently, informed her he thought Dr. Bennett had solved his arm trouble. The experiment will be at Dean's expense.

Bryant joined the Baltimore caravan tonight at the suggestion of Ambassador Clarence Rowland. He was accompanied by Rowland.

The Cubs will be at the Polo Grounds again tomorrow and their pitching will be entrusted to Vern Olsen, the kid southpaw who was brought up from the Tulsa, Okla., club last fall. The opposition probably will offer Harry Gumbert.

The Giants' electric light plant was turned on tonight for the first time so that the engineers could search out possible dark spots. The system will be formally introduced to the fans the evening of May 24 when the Giants play the Bees. The plant is said to be the most powerful in any ball park in the country. Two floodlights will be trained on the pitcher's mound and two more will be aimed at home plate.

Stanley Hack, the Cubs' injured third baseman, received word from Chicago tonight that Mrs. Hack is en route by train to see him thru.

DI MAGGIO'S 1ST HOMER HELPS YANKS WIN, 6-1

Dietrich Stars After Smith Fades.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The world champion New York Yankees have been in the throes of an unprecedented slump for some time now and everybody seems to have heard about it but the White Sox. Yesterday the Yanks made six runs on six hits to hand the Sox their seventh defeat in seven 1940 games in Comiskey park, this time by a score of 6 to 1.

The Sox not only remained maidens on their home track yesterday but they toppled to within a half game of taking over cellar honors from the struggling champions. They will have a chance to do something about this this afternoon before saying adieu to the New York boys.

One Ray of Light.

About all the comfort the Sox derived from their second defeat at the hands of Marvin Breuer, rookie right-hander from Kansas City, was to be found in the pitching of Bill Dietrich, who took over the casting job after Edgar Smith failed to come out of the shelter to start the Yankee fifth. Bill retired the first nine Yankees to face him and held the New Yorkers to a harmless single in the eighth inning and another in the ninth. He, like Smith, struck out four.

Smith, in absorbing his fourth licking in five starts and his second in competition with Breuer and the Yankees, was not a bad pitcher except that he pitched the right ball at the wrong time or vice versa. There were two out and one on and two strikes against Joe DiMaggio in the first inning when Joe banged his first homer of the year for two runs—enough to win.

An Error Causes Trouble.

Smith was very slick in the second and third innings, but, shoved a bit at the outset by Eric McNair's two base error, he was pretty distressed in the fourth, his last inning, when the Yankees completed their scoring program for the chill afternoon.

As usual, Smith got no offensive support during his tenancy. The young man, who received no hits whatsoever in the season opener against Bob Feller, didn't even see a White Sox reach first in four innings yesterday.

Most slumpful of the Chicagoans were Joe Kuhel and Mike Kreevich, both of whom failed grievously with runners on base in the latter half of the game. Kreevich had an especially distressing day. He failed to get the ball out of the infield. In the sixth he hit into a double play with the bases loaded and did it again with one on in the eighth. Taft Wright and Luke Appling, who have been leading the team in hitting, also failed to sock but were not tightened by the presence of base runners ahead of them. Appling scored the only Sox run on a single by McNair after he and Larry Rosenthal had walked in the seventh.

Kennedy Hits Twice.

Of the five Sox hits, Bob Kennedy made two, both wasted in Kreevich's double play technique. Rosenthal made one single, Dietrich the other, and then there was that one by McNair.

The Yankees had made all their half dozen runs and Smith had gone away before any member of the home ensemble had come close to first base.

With one out in the first inning, Red Rolfe walked, after which Tom Henrich was called out on strikes. DiMaggio ran the count to three balls and two strikes, then lined his first homer of 1940 into the lower left field stands, scoring behind Rolfe, Buddy Rosar struck out.

The Yankees went out in order in the second and third innings, but batted around in the fourth, scoring

TWO RECORDS SET IN STATE TRACK PRELIMINARIES

Sabin, La Grange, Puts Shot 54 Feet 4 Inches.

Champaign, Ill., May 17 [Special].—Records were established in the shotput and discus today in the preliminaries of the 46th annual state interscholastic track meet at the University of Illinois.

Louis Sabin of LaGrange put the shot 54 feet 4 inches to surpass the former record, 53 feet 3¾ inches, made by Bruce Freeman of York [Elmhurst], last year. Clarence Tohn of Peoria Central hurled the discus 145 feet 9¾ inches to exceed the record of 145 feet 2 inches also set last year by Freeman. The discus event was a final and Tohn thus became the first of the new champions.

Naperville Qualifies Six.

Naperville led with six qualifiers but Oak Park, champion in 1937 and 1938, Proviso of Maywood, and Quincy were close with five each.

Lecester Farmer of Proviso, defending champion in the 100 yard dash and broad jump, submitted the best performances in both events. John Smith of Maine [Des Plaines] made the best time in the high hurdles and qualified for the lows in which he won his heats.

Bob McSweeney, Oak Park, high jump champion in 1938, qualified in the high and broad jumps. Oak Park also qualified Leonard Kopta in the 880 yard run, Pitt in the broad jump, and Feutz in the low hurdles.

Smerdel Runs Fast 440.

In addition to Farmer, Proviso qualified Johnson in the shot put, Hall in the pole vault and Buford in the broad jump.

Among the best performances were those of Tom Smerdel of Danville, who ran the 440 yard event in 51.4 seconds and Chuck Gerdes of Champaign, who submitted 1:59.4 in the 880 yard run.

Finals will be run off tomorrow morning beginning at 10 o'clock.

Qualifiers:

NORTHWESTERN, MAROONS MEET TODAY IN TRACK

Northwestern university's track team will wind up its dual meet season in a clash with Chicago in Dyche stadium today. It will be the last meet for both teams before the Big 9½ championships to be held at Northwestern next week-end.

The feature event will pit Myron Piker of Northwestern against John Davenport of Chicago in the 100 yard dash. Davenport won the event in the conference meet two years ago, but was displaced by Piker last year. The Maroons are expected to score heavily in the shot with Hugh Rendleman, a place winner in last year's Big 9½ meet, favored to win the event.

Two brothers will compete against each other. Russell Ray of Northwestern will compete against his brother, James, of the Maroons in the high jump. Both boys have exceeded 6 feet this spring. Northwestern will be favorite in the high hurdles and pole vault with Joe Finch and Ed Thistlethwaite the respective entrants in the two events. Chicago is superior in the middle distance and distance runs.

NORTH CENTRAL IS WINNER OVER WHEATON, 2 TO 0

North Central college baseball team defeated Wheaton college, 2 to 0, yesterday as the feature event of North Central's college day celebration in Naperville.

North Central scored both runs in the sixth inning on a walk to Chuck Kailer, a triple by Bill Shapper and a fielder's choice. Bruce Bishop kept Wheaton's seven hits scattered, only three men reaching second base:

PREP BASEBALL LEADERS WIN IN FOUR SECTIONS

Jeselane of Lane Pitches One Hit Game.

Lane Tech and Lindblom remained unbeaten in the north and central sections, respectively, of the city high school baseball league by winning their eighth consecutive victories yesterday. Lindblom beat Kelly, 3 to 0. Lane rolled over Roosevelt, 21 to 1, on 17 hits.

Earl Jeselane, Lane southpaw, struck out 16 and yielded only one hit. Three errors by Kelly contributed to Lindblom's victory. Brunke, the winning hurler, fanned 12 and his opponent, Becker, struck out 10.

Steinmetz Wins on Homers.

Steinmetz and Calumet continued to set the pace in the west and south sections, respectively. Steinmetz won from Austin, 6 to 3, and Calumet from Bowen, 9 to 4. Terekas of Calumet clouted a home run in the third with the bases loaded and Friend hit one in the seventh inning.

Other home runs in the city league were by Noyles of Washburne, Kobar of Hirsch, and Korue and Reed of Farragut. Five league contests were postponed on account of wet grounds.

Oklahoman Sets Record in Big 6 Dash

Lincoln, Neb., May 17 (AP).—George Koettel of Oklahoma ran 220 yards around a full curve to a new record, and Nebraska, the defending champion, led the qualifiers with 19 today in the trials of the Big Six outdoor track meet.

Kansas State was a surprising second with 18, placing four men in the shot and three in the discus. Oklahoma sent neither the ailing Orville Mathews nor the recuperating John Morris to the marks, but won 14 places in tomorrow's finals. Missouri qualified 11, Iowa State 9, and Kansas six.

Koettel breezed to the tape in :21.3 to erase the mark of :21.4 set in 1934 by Edwin Hall of Kansas. The track was slightly soft and the mercury clung to the middle 50s thruout the dark afternoon.

The Oklahoma speedster's effort presaged a duel tomorrow with Gene Littler of Nebraska, who displayed stamina by winning first in his heat in each of three different events. His time of :50.2 equaled the fastest turned in by any of the 440 yard candidates and his :09.9 in the century was the best. Only Koettel's record breaking in the furlong surpassed the Husker star's effort. Littler's time was :22 flat.

22,500 Are All Set to Learn Golf's Swing

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Officials of the Tribune's eighth annual free golf school announced yesterday that they have decided not to file suit against the weather man. The action was planned after the double postponement of the first lesson of the game's largest group instruction system, but Thursday night's turnout of more than 14,000 students caused those in charge of the classes to change their minds.

There is little doubt that a suit against the gent in charge of the elements would have a legal basis, for never before in the history of the school have the classes been visited with such miserable weather. Tuesday night, scheduled for the first regular lesson on the grip, found the weather man teasing students and officials with sporadic showers which left both uncertain as to whether it was feasible to begin the class at the listed hour of 7 p. m. A half hour before that time the officials decided to postpone the first lesson until Wednesday night, but in spite of that move more than 8,500 hardy pupils turned out for their free lessons from the members of the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' association.

It's All Square Now.

Wednesday night proved to be so cold and wet that the lesson again was postponed to Thursday night, with the P. G. A. members deciding to combine the first lesson, on the grip, and the second on the stance. The response to this program, in spite of Thursday's cold weather, and the enthusiasm shown by the pupils during the instructions, rewarded the teachers to such a point that they decided not to bring legal action against the weather man.

Thus, with the eighth school halfway thru its regular course, a total of 22,500 free lessons have been given. This raises the aggregate for the entire history of the school to 220,500 lessons by Illinois P. G. A. members. These men have given up personal opportunities at their own clubs in order to preach the gospel of golfing fundamentals, and many of them were willing to cancel their own lesson schedules in order to appear Wednesday night, before the postponement of that evening's classes was definitely ordered.

The third and fourth lessons of the school will be held next week on the same four Chicago park district courses — Jackson, Columbus, Marquette, and Diversey-in-Lincoln. Both of these instructions, the third on Tuesday evening and the fourth and last of the regular series Thursday will be devoted to the swing.

Will Review First Lessons.

For the benefit of those golf fans who may have missed the first two lessons on the grip and the stance, these will be reviewed in detail during the third and fourth lessons next week. If you did not attend the first two classes, therefore, don't feel that you are barred from the school. Bring a golf club Tuesday and Thursday nights to the park course nearest your home. The lessons are free. Try and be at the course you have chosen shortly before 7 o'clock, when each lesson begins.

At next Thursday night's final lesson of the regular series, the professionals in charge and their associates will choose the pupils who have been the most apt during the classes, and those ranked second to them. This will give each of the four courses a representation of two men, two women, two boys, and two girls. The 32 finalists will gather for the 1940 graduating exercises on Sunday afternoon, May 26, at one of the park courses, to be named later. All of them will receive prizes.

Pitcher Hits 2 Homers; Wright Beats De Kalb, 11-8

De Kalb, Ill., May 17 [Special].—Two home runs by Pitcher Steve Sakas helped Wright Junior college defeat De Kalb today, 11 to 8. It was the seventh straight victory for Wright. Score:

Wright	020	400	320	11	11	1
De Kalb	012	000	140	8	16	4

Batteries—Sakas, Neely, Bock and Anderson, Welky, Guerits, Pepler, and Gerhardt.

Senior Golfers Hold 1st of Three Tourneys June 6

The Illinois Seniors' Golf association will hold the first of its three 1940 tournaments on June 6 at the Flossmoor Country club, which has put its course at the disposal of the association for the annual spring event. The seniors will join with members of the Illinois P. G. A. in the pro-seniors tourney on Aug. 5, at a club to be announced later. The annual fall seniors' event is scheduled for Exmoor on Sept. 11. Ross H. Kidston is chairman of the tournament committee, which includes Constant C. Hopkins and Elmer A. Eulass.

Kildeer and Elmhurst Country clubs will hold their annual spring tournaments today. . . . A feature of the Kildeer stag will be the showing of the baseball movie, "Touching All Bases," and a personal appearance by Charley Grimm. . . . Victor C. Delfosse is Kildeer's new manager. . . . The women of the club will hold their opening luncheon on May 28. . . . The Illinois section of the P. G. A. will conduct a pro-pro event Monday at Olympia Fields. . . . It will serve as a tuneup for the Chicago district qualifying rounds for the national open, to be held May 27 at Olympia. . . . Following dinner, the section will conclude its annual clinic with a two hour session. . . . Monday also will see the Chicago district club managers in action at Oak Park. . . . Jack Febel of Northmoor is president and Chick Banks will be host.

Lew Waldron, former Mohawk professional and one of the head teachers in THE TRIBUNE golf school, is now connected with the insurance firm of Griffin, Ingram, and Pfaff. Lew is still active in P. G. A. affairs, and is in charge of the Illinois section's program at the Morrison next Wednesday. . . . The annual Midwest Men's Apparel Golf association tourney will be played June 4 at Medinah. E. R. Richer is president. In addition to competitive awards, a prize for the best dressed golfer will be given. . . .

Secretary James E. Loye of the Associated Golfers of America reports that more than 30,000 playing members are enrolled in the organization as it enters its sixth season. With the addition of six new members this season, the A. G. A. now has 45 member courses. . . . The sextet of newcomers includes McHenry, Chain o' Lakes, Kinsman, Beverly Shores, Wauconda, and Silver Lake North, the last named being the old Euclid Hills club. . . . Elmhurst and Kildeer will hold their annual spring tournaments tomorrow.

PALMER KISE OF TULSA IS WINNER IN VALLEY GOLF

Des Moines, Ia., May 17 (AP).—Palmer Kise, Tulsa university, won the individual title with 304 strokes for 72 holes and St. Louis university ended Washington's five year dominance by taking the team championship in the annual Missouri Valley Conference Golf tournament today.

Kise turned in two 76's for his final rounds, finishing 15 strokes ahead of Jack Wormington of Washburn, second place winner. Jack Geiss and Bill O'Brien of St. Louis tied for third with 320.

The St. Louis team posted a 1,337 total for the team championship. Kise led Tulsa into second place, the Hurricanes using 1,362 strokes. Drake was third with 1,376 and Washington, winner of the five previous meets, was fourth with 1,389. Oklahoma A. & M. was last with 1,432.

Illinois, Notre Dame Clash in Track Today

Champaign, Ill., May 17 [Special].—The mile relay may decide the Illinois-Notre Dame track meet tomorrow. The Irish might win as many as 10 of the 15 events and still lose to Illinois power in the hurdles, broad jump, discus, and javelin throw, as well as Illini balance in the other events. It might be close enough, however, for the relay to settle the issue.

Wilson Seeks 6th Straight Track Title

Four individual champions, two of them record holders, will defend their titles at the State Junior college track meet to be held this afternoon on Stagg field. Wilson will seek its sixth straight team title.

Lee Hardin of La Grange will defend his title in the pole vault. Carl Denoms, Wilson, who set a record in the mile last year, again will compete and also will run in the half mile.

Joe Grandpre, another Wilson star, will defend the broad jump title and run in the dashes. Harry Kollar of Herzl will seek another high jump title and will run in the hurdles.

La Grange, coached by Jack Boge, and Wright, coached by Joe Novak, are given the best chance to upset Wilson. La Grange has Hardin and Eric Timpton, hurdler. Wright has Ralph McKinney in the quarter and half mile and John Malek in the field events. Wilson has Lewis Taylor, sprinter, and Henry Springs, hurdler and field event man, around whom Coach Walter Smith has built another powerful team.

STATE CATHOLIC PREPS TO CLASH IN TRACK TODAY

Thirteen teams will compete for the Illinois Catholic track championship at Loyola this afternoon. More than 200 individuals are entered in 10 events.

St. George, defending Chicago Catholic league champion, is favored to take the team title on all around balanced strength, with Marmion of Aurora, Fenwick and De La Salle expected to furnish the most opposition.

Bill Baker, an outstanding prep miler, will participate for De La Salle. Three years ago Baker, who has never been beaten at the mile, won the national Catholic mile and has consistently run around 4:20. Tom Wood of St. George is the leading pole vaulter, with Len Lee of Loyola rated second. Wood is expected to clear 12 feet. Two six foot high jumpers are Stan Patrick of Leo and George Vongoether of St. George. Bill Smith of St. Rita, a 50 foot shot putter, should win his event.

Youre in at the Start....

AS A BRAND-NEW WINNER ENTERS THE FIELD!

1. Scene: The famous Morris & Essex Show, 1938, to which, each year, come the finest specimens of every recognized breed of dog. Sturdy Max, a young English setter, is entered against several famous veterans. A hundred different "points" will help determine the winner—general appearance, coat, action, etc. But in the Bonded Bourbon field—as Hiram Walker's Meadow Brook enters against hundreds of other bourbon whiskies—only one "point" will determine the winner—full, pleasing, real bourbon TASTE!

2. Sturdy Max reaches the finals! Only the six group winners are left. As Sturdy Max shows his easy action and appearance of ability afield, the crowd recognizes a new champion. Just so will you, tasting Meadow Brook's light, yet luxurious bourbon taste, recognize a new champion among Bourbon Whiskies!

3. Sturdy Max wins! Out of a possible 100 "points" this fine Setter rates over 90! The judge praises his grace of body. Even so, that's only one "point" that makes Sturdy Max great. Judging dogs is a long and tedious business, but as Freeman Lloyd, famous judge of dogs since 1887, says,

YOU CAN JUDGE A FINE BOURBON IN JUST FIVE SECONDS—BY TASTE! TASTE MEADOW BROOK, AND JOIN IN MY DISCOVERY OF THE BOURBON THAT'S "BEST IN ITS CLASS"!

REDS WIN, 7-2, ON GOODMAN'S HOMER IN 11TH

Triumph Over Phillies to Stay in First Place.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 17 (AP).—Ival Goodman's home run with the bases full and two out in the 11th inning gave the Cincinnati Reds a 7 to 2 victory over the Phillies today and kept the Reds in first place in the National league. It was Goodman's fourth homer of the season.

Ival Goodman.

Frank McCormick's home run in the eighth inning after Goodman had singled tied the score at 2 to 2 and forced the game into overtime.

The Phillies nicked Jim Turner for a run in the second on a walk, Bill Werber's error and Heinie Mueller's double. They added another in the sixth on four walks. Score:

Hack Is Hurt as Cubs Beat Giants, 4 to 0

Herman Breaks Hal's Spell.

The unfortunate Hack was the only Cub to see base in the first three innings. After he had walked in the opening session, Herman grounded to Jurges, who stepped on second and then threw to Young to retire the batter. Hack, instead of being out, was safe by inches. He went to third on Gleeson's infield tap and a moment later was laid low by Leiber's line drive foul. Leiber ended the inning by striking out. During these same three innings, Giant base runners also were scarce. Young, the lone survivor, was safe on a fumble by Rogell, who took Hack's place.

Herman was the first Cub to take a whack at Schumacher in the fourth, and he not only broke the hitless but the runless spell as well. Capt. Billy launched his homer into the upper deck in left. The Cubs continued to annoy Schumacher, but when the inning closed they still had only Herman's homer as a scoreboard ornament. In the wake of the homer, Gleeson punched a single into center, Leiber flied out and Galan forced Gleeson. Russell singled, but Todd popped to Jurges.

Giants Finally Get a Hit.

The Giants grew better acquainted with the bases in the fourth and fifth, but nevertheless remained hitless. Moore walked with one out in the fourth, was forced by Demaree and Ott fouled to Todd. With one out in the fifth, Young grounded to Russell and Passeau covered the bag, but lost the decision when the throw trickled thru his hands. Jurges fouled off so many pitches that Passeau got tired of looking at him, so he issued a pass. The remainder of the inning was easy. Gloscop flied to Gleeson on the first pitch. Schumacher also went after the first pitch, lofting it to Leiber.

Passeau had more than a little load placed on his shoulders in the sixth, but except for being stopped as a potential no hit performer he suffered no ill consequences. Herman helped to build the load by fumbling Whitehead's grounder. Moore started a legitimate single toward right field and Russell made a one handed diving stop, but there was no chance for him to make a throw. Passeau simply set down the next three boys, and that was that.

Error Helps Cubs Score.

What started the Cubs toward their three seventh inning runs was a mishap—at least for the Giants. Russell was safe on a wide throw by Whitehead. Todd singled into left. Mattick whistled a single thru short, Russell scoring, Todd going to third, and Mattick to second on the throw to the plate. Passeau singled Todd and Mattick home and went to second on the throw in. Passeau reached third on Jurges' error after being trapped off second, but Rogell, Herman, and Gleeson deserted him.

Passeau didn't meet up with the second Giant hit until after two were out in the eighth. Moore spanked it thru short. Mattick added to the disturbance by fumbling Demaree's grounder. This gave Ott a chance to bid for one of his homers, but he merely grounded to Rogell. Passeau didn't fool around in the ninth. He retired three batters in a row and called it a day.

Thornton Lee and Pearson to Hurl in Today's Game

Thornton Lee, who started the Yankees on their now famous eight game losing streak, with a 10 to 3 victory in New York on May 4, will see what he can do about beating the champs again today. The Sox left hander will be opposed by Monte Pearson.

Julius Solters was withheld from the starting lineup yesterday because the outfield was a bit spongy and Manager Dykes wouldn't risk recalling Julius' charley horse.

Tomorrow Ted Lyons will face the Washington Senators in quest of his third victory of the season, his 224th as a member of the White Sox. It will be Ted's fifth Sabbath start of the year. He has not missed a Sunday since the season opened.

Yankees Rout Smith; Blank White Sox, 6-1

four and leaving two on base, altho they negotiated only three hits. The romping got under way with McNair's two base kick at Henrich's grounder. Kennedy knocked down DiMaggio's smash over third, Henrich holding second and Di Maggio reaching first, credited with his second hit. Rosar flied to Rosenthal, but Buster Mills tripled high over Kreevich's head, scoring Henrich and DiMaggio. Joe Gordon was hit by a pitched ball, then Babe Dahlgren singled to right, Mills scoring and Gordon taking third. Breuer grounded out, Gordon scoring. Bill Knickerbocker walked, but Rolfe bounced to Kuhel.

In Came Dietrich.

Smith didn't come out for the fifth inning. Dietrich took his place and made Henrich fly to Rosenthal, after which he struck out DiMaggio and Rosar. In their half the Sox discovered first base. Wright flied to Mills and Appling struck out for the second time, after which Rosenthal lined a single to right to become the first Sox arrival at first. McNair forced Rosenthal, Knickerbocker to Gordon.

Dietrich disposed of the Yankees in order again in the sixth and for a while in their half of the same session the Sox showed some symptoms of accomplishment. Mike Tresh walked and stopped at second on Dietrich's infield single. Kennedy singled to short right, loading the bases. Kuhel fouled to Rosar and Kreevich rolled into a double play, Knickerbocker to Gordon to Dahlgren.

Bill Marches On.

The seventh was the third straight inning in which Dietrich mowed down the New Yorkers in order and then the Sox broke thru in the home half. Appling and Rosenthal walked with one down and McNair singled to left, Appling scoring. Tresh flied to Henrich and Rolfe threw out Dietrich on a nice play.

The first Yankee to reach base against Dietrich was Rosar, who walked with two out in the eighth. Mills beat out a single over second for the fifth Yankee hit, but Gordon flied to Rosenthal.

Kennedy opened the Chicago eighth with his second single, but Kuhel popped to Dahlgren and Kreevich again tapped into a double play started by Knickerbocker. Dahlgren opened the ninth with a single to center and moved over on Breuer's sacrifice. Kennedy threw out Knickerbocker and McNair tossed out Rolfe.

Champaign, Ill., May 17 [Special].—Illinois remained in the Big 9½ baseball race today by beating Indiana 4 to 2 in the first of a two game series. John Pacotti gained his fifth conference victory, holding the Hoosiers to six hits. Dale Gentil, Indiana pitcher, yielded four hits—none from the third thru the seventh inning.

In the second the Illini filled the bases as Drish singled, Brewer walked and Astroth beat out a bunt. Pacotti's single drove in two runs. Two more scored on Gentil's wild pitch. Score:

Illinois	040	000	00x—4 4 2

Batteries—Gentil and Stoshitch; Pacotti and Brewer.

WILDCATS HOLD LEAD.

Madison, Wis., May 17 [Special].—Northwestern defeated Wisconsin, 10 to 9, in a ragged game today to retain the Big 9½ baseball lead with a slight percentage margin over the second place Illinois team. It was the seventh straight conference victory for the Wildcats after two losses to the Illini.

Northwestern scored once in the first with the aid of an error, and four more in the third with the aid of two errors and Bill Sampson's freak home run, an ordinary single that took a nasty hop past Howie Radder. Wisconsin's five runs in the first were unearned, too. The Wildcats won the game with three runs in the seventh on four hits and an error. The Badgers came back with two in the eighth on five hard hit singles. Bill De Correvont threw Cyril Buker out at the plate, trying to score from second with the tying run on Radder's single. Score:

Wisconsin	510	100	020— 9 13 5

Batteries—Goldak, Rosch and Arnold; Buker and Willidinz.

GOPHERS, 9; MAROONS, 0.

Bill Anderson, a lanky sophomore right hander, pitched Minnesota to a 9 to 0 shutout over the University of Chicago yesterday in the first of a two game series on Greenwood field. The second game is scheduled for 3:30 o'clock today.

Only three Chicago batters reached first base. Frank McCracken singled twice for the Maroons' only hits and Anderson hit one batter. Art Lopatka struck out five Gophers but yielded eight hits and walked eight. Score:

Chicago	000	000	000—0 2 4

Batteries — Anderson and Fust; Lopatka and Levit.

Canadian Trout Start to Strike as Ice Goes Out

BY BOB BECKER.

The ice has left Canadian lakes so the lake trout are beginning to strike. The white bass are moving out of Lake Winnebago into the Wolf river and have been biting well during the last few days. Due to late spring in Chicagoland the lake trout off the Chicago and Milwaukee shores have not come up from the depths. Wisconsin opens its wall-eyed pike and trout fishing this morning.

These are four of the most important fishing facts in the minds of Illinois anglers today.

The latest report from Winneconne, Wis., on the Wolf river, is good news to the white bass fishermen. Herbert Nickel, a resident of that town, says that the bass have been hitting well even during the recent cool weather. He and two friends went out around 6 o'clock in the morning and returned about 11:30 a. m. with 45 white bass, which is a good catch for any trio.

Herb said that everybody up there was getting fish. He even managed to catch 11 in the evening when it was very chilly. The bass run started about five days later than last year and should continue beyond Decoration day. Best fishing should be from this week-end until the Decoration day week-end.

Several of the residents of the Lake of the Woods region have wired us that the ice finally has melted from the big lake and that now is the time to go up there to catch lake trout in fairly shallow water. This is great sport with casting tackle because one may tie into a fish weighing anywhere from a couple of pounds up to 20 or 30 pounds. This lake trout fishing in the northern lakes, fast becoming a popular sport with anglers in Chicagoland, will continue on into June.

For local fishermen who want to see if they can catch a lake trout near Chicago by trolling in Lake Michigan here is the latest news from a man who knows the habits of these fish. Oliver Smith of Port Washington, a little town a few miles above Milwaukee, informs us that due to the late cold spring he doesn't believe that the lakers have moved up to the surface. But with a week of warm weather they should come up. This is the time to catch them trolling without the use of several hundred feet of line. A few summers ago when we hooked fish out from Waukegan we connected with them on June 15 in about 18 to 25 feet of water.

Hogan Leads by 5 Points in Goodall Golf

New York, May 17 (AP).—Ben Hogan took a commanding lead in the Goodall round robin golf tournament today, scoring 68 and 73 despite a back injury resulting from a fall downstairs last night. With four more rounds of match play left—two tomorrow and two Sunday—Hogan was five points ahead of his two closest pursuers, Paul Runyan and Jimmy Thomson.

On the basis of one point for each hole advantage over an opponent after each 18 hole match, Hogan had 12 plus points for the first three rounds over the par-70 Fresh Meadow Country club course. The rankings follow:

Hogan, plus 12; Thomson and Runyan, plus 7; Clayton Heafner, plus 5; Martin Pose of Argentina, plus 4; Dick Metz, plus 3; Gene Sarazen, plus 2; Byron Nelson, plus 1; Horton Smith, even; Jimmy Demaret, minus 1; Henry Picard and Sam Snead, minus 3; Craig Wood, minus 9; Jimmy Hines, minus 10; Lawson Little, minus 15.

Hogan picked up eight points this morning against Wood and Heafner, but his lame back finally caught up with him in the afternoon when he broke even with Picard and Smith. Other medal scores today included: Heafner, 74-72; Pose, 70-71; Runyan, 71-72; Metz, 72-72; Sarazen, 75-74; Nelson, 73-72; Thomson, 76-71. Pose continued his surprise title bid by defeating both Heafner and Demaret this afternoon, 1 up.

Washington Even Uses Infielder on Mound.

Cleveland, O., May 17 (AP).—Cleveland's second place Indians overpowered the Washington Senators, 18 to 1, today, providing Southpaw Al Milnar with his fourth straight victory.

The Indians scored 10 runs in the first inning off 7 walks and 5 hits, divided between Pitchers Sidney Hudson and Rene Monteagudo. Five more runs were gained off Joe Krakauskas, so Infielder Charley Gelbert took a hand at pitching in the sixth. He was touched in the seventh for Jeff Heath's second homer and for two more runs in the eighth.

Cleveland, O., May 17 (AP).—Oscar Grimes, Cleveland Indians' utility infielder who was injured in Washington two weeks ago, will return to Cleveland tomorrow, Frank Kohlbecker, business manager of the Cleveland baseball club, announced tonight Grimes' release from a Washington hospital, where he was treated for fractures of the nose and face bones.

SENN, OAK PARK LEAD IN STATE PREP NET MEET

Champaign, Ill., May 17 (AP).—Senn of Chicago and Oak Park High schools led the field of qualifiers today in the annual state interscholastic tennis tournament at the University of Illinois.

Jim Evert and Art Leighton of Senn, seeded first and third, respectively, reached the semi-finals in the singles. Gordon of Lane Tech and Migdow, Crane Tech, are the other two survivors.

Oak Park earned two semi-final doubles berths. Smidl and Bauman and Speth and Le Gross won three matches apiece in doubles. The Peoria team of Clatfelder and Shedman and Senn's tandem, Evert and Dietrick, rounded out the doubles field for Saturday's competition.

AMERICAN GIANTS WILL OPEN HOME SCHEDULE TODAY

Chicago's American Giants, now in their 53d season, will open their home season in their park at 39th street and Wentworth avenue this afternoon in the first of a four game Negro American league series with the Cleveland Bears. A double header is scheduled tomorrow and a ladies' day game Monday. The Giants have a new manager in Wilson Redus and a strong lineup which showed to advantage in the spring training trip thru the south. Lefty Randy Bowe was to hurl today's game for the south siders against Preacher Henry.

Johnny Behr's Father Will Be Buried Today

Funeral services for William Behr Sr., father of Johnny Behr, Golden Gloves boxing coach, will be held at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon in the chapel at 1648 West 63d street. Burial will be in Evergreen cemetery. The body was shipped to Chicago yesterday from La Porte, Ind., where Mr. Behr died of a heart attack Thursday morning. He was 76 years old.

TWO PREP CREWS FACE INTERSTATE OARSMEN TODAY

Schoolboy oarsmen representing Chicago's only rowing club, the Lincoln Park Boat club, will leave this morning for Culver, Ind., and Delafield, Wis., to take part in their first interstate meets. Waller High will race the St. Johns Military academy eight on Nagawicka lake, near Delafield, Wis. The Schurz crew, with the Lincoln Park Boat club's varsity eight, will race Culver Military academy's junior varsity and varsity crews, respectively, on Lake Maxinkuckee at 3 p. m. today.

The varsity eight of the Lincoln Park Boat club includes three former high school oarsmen and one present student. Charles Ziegler, Leonard Ratkowski, and Don Rundbloom, all of the 1939 Lane Tech senior crew; Fred Holzman, crew captain of the 1940 Lane eight; Donald Donahue, Charles Coleman, Frank Kottmeier, Louis Ruelius, and Dick Anderson make up the crew. Either Ruelius or Anderson will act as relief oarsman. Dewey Ruelius, Louis' 14 year old son, will be coxswain of the club crew.

TERRY AND THE PIRATES—WHAT SHE DOESN'T KNOW, HURT

BIMELECH RACES FIELD OF TEN IN WITHERS TODAY

New York, May 17 (AP).—Bimelech will look at a set of new rivals tomorrow in the 65th running of the Withers mile at Belmont Park, but it shouldn't make much difference to him.

Ten others have elected to go with the boss-apparent of the 3 year olds at a shorter distance than he ran in either the Derby, where Gallahadion whipped him, or the Preakness, where he made a show of his field. Of these 10, only two—Joseph E. Widener's Roman and Tony Pelleteri's Andy K.—faced E. R. Bradley's star in either of the two previous major stakes.

He's the Favorite Again.

The advance odds-makers established him at 2 to 5 immediately after his name was dropped in the entry box today. His chief rival in this line was regarded as Roman, which finished sixth in the Derby after showing a world of speed for 6 furlongs. Roman arrived from Kentucky on Wednesday after taking a sprint at Churchill Downs.

Andy K. the crooked-running colt which swerved in the stretch at Pimlico again last week, and Sonny Whitney's Parasang, winner of the 6 furlong Experimental handicap a few weeks back, figure as the leading outsiders.

These Are the Others.

The others in the field are Mrs. Payne Whitney's Corydon, Jock Whitney's Calory, Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson's Call to Colors, Mrs. E. Graham Lewis' entry of Jacomar and General Manager, William Ziegler Jr.'s In Charge, and William Woodward's Foxflame. Mrs. Lewis is expected to start only one of her pair—probably General Manager.

Victory will be worth some $17,000 to the winner if all start. In Bimelech's case, it would boost his earnings over the $200,000 mark.

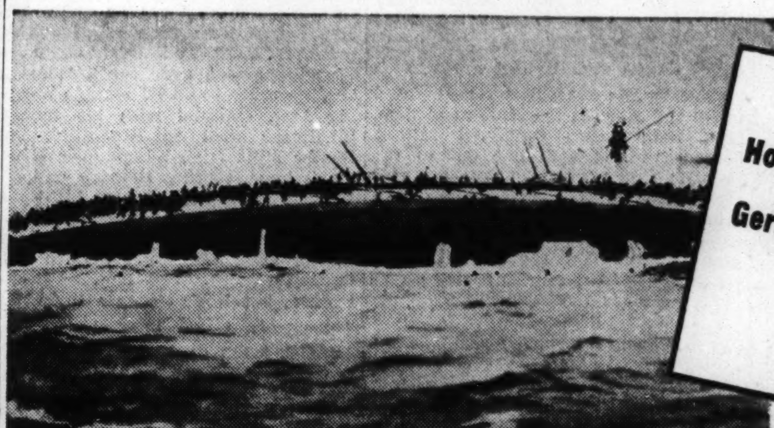
showing how the Mediterranean fits into the war picture

TOMORROW'S Chicago Sunday Tribune will present a special page-size map in ten colors showing the factors which make the Mediterranean an armed sea of vast importance in the war now raging.

It will picture the greater part of Western Europe, the Mediterranean, and a portion of North Africa, showing fortifications, naval bases and air bases. It will indicate how Italy, Jugo-Slavia, Spain and Switzerland fit into the war picture—especially Italy with twenty sea bases and more than a dozen air bases. It will locate the North African colonies and indicate their ownership—important factors in the war.

Be sure to get your copy of this valuable map tomorrow and save it in order to follow the developments in the war.



How the British Sank the German Armored Cruiser Bluecher

● Death came to four out of five aboard the German armored cruiser Bluecher one wintry afternoon 25 years ago. The story of the Bluecher's sinking tells the facts about one of the few great naval actions of the World War. Tomorrow, in the Color Graphic section, John A. Menaugh will review this exciting German sea raid that went tragically amiss.

ART MASTERPIECES IN NATURAL COLOR

● Paintings by Renoir, Cezanne, Rousseau and Mrs. Robert R. McCormick, from the latter's private collection, will be reproduced in natural color as a special feature of tomorrow's Roto Picture section. In the Color Graphic section you will find an article by Daniel Catton Rich, director of fine arts at the Art Institute of Chicago, describing these beautiful paintings.

BEHIND THE SCENES AT W-G-N

● Have you wondered how a great radio show is built?—what goes on before it goes on the air? A full page of photos tomorrow will take you behind the scenes and give you the inside story of W-G-N's Chicago Theater of the Air in the making. See page 2 of tomorrow's Color Graphic section.

ALSO ... Murder Money for Fancy Funerals ... Kay Francis' Comeback ... Manners for Moderns ... Chicago in the Ice Age ... Mary Meade's Recipes ... Gems of American Eloquence—plus latest news, maps, pictures, financial and sports reviews, beauty and homemaking counsel—information and entertainment the whole family will enjoy in tomorrow's Chicago Sunday Tribune.

NEXT CONGRESS TO GET DEFENSE COST PROBLEM

Hope to Avoid Action at This Session.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 17.—It appeared likely today that the matter of financing the huge new national defense program will be delayed until the next session of congress, or perhaps a special session.

The matter of financing the 1 billion 182 million dollar expansion in defense outlays, requested yesterday by President Roosevelt, was discussed at the White House today when Mr. Roosevelt conferred with Senator Pat Harrison [D., Miss.], chairman of the senate finance committee, and Federal Loan Administrator Jesse Jones.

Senator Harrison said later that he and the President went over the financial aspects of the program and that he assured the President that the defense program will "in no way be embarrassed or retarded by lack of financing."

No Decision Yet Made.

Harrison asserted that no decision has been made yet on the means of financing but that the treasury is making a study of the whole situation. He said the big question is when action must be taken. Congress will act at this session if there is the slightest chance that the program will be impeded by lack of funds, Harrison continued.

His own preference and opinion is that the matter can go over until the next session, but if necessary before then he would rather put it over until November and have a special session. Whether to have new taxes, lift the national debt limit, have a special defense bond issue, or whatever else is necessary for the arms spending program, will be determined later, Harrison said.

"I think when a close study is made by the treasury they will find we've got ample time in January," Harrison said.

Morgenthau May Push Action.

He expressed concern, however, lest Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau might want action at the present session. The treasury estimates receipts at 350 million dollars above budget estimates, while the congressional joint committee on internal revenue taxation places them at 460 millions.

The public debt is now about 2½ billion dollars short of the 45 billion dollar limit, and the treasury study is particularly concerned with whether the defense program will boost the limit to the ceiling. The budget for 1941 contemplated that by the end of the 1941 fiscal year the debt would be within 62 million dollars of the limit, if congress raised 460 millions in new taxes—which it has not done—and the treasury recaptured 700 millions in capital from government agencies.

Harrison expressed the opinion that

Battle to Save Free Business Declared Vital

The United States may become so concentrated on military defense that it will fail to realize that a war is in progress in this country—one for the defense of the private enterprise system, which gave the world its highest standard of living. This warning was given yesterday by Charles R. Hook, chairman of the executive committee of the National Association of Manufacturers. Hook, who is president of the American Rolling Mill company, spoke to members of the Union League club in its "America, Wake Up!" crusade.

Charles R. Hook.

If we lose that war, we will lose something more important than life itself, he said. A choice exists, he explained, between the achievement of "a lasting economic recovery at which all the world will wonder," or a new socialistic type of state with government infiltration into private business and ultimate substitution of bureau control for personal freedom and initiative.

Urges Fight for Freedom.

Business men must act quickly and fight for economic freedom for American citizens instead of sitting in their offices trying to save their business, he warned.

"One of the chief reasons this depression has been so prolonged is, in my opinion, because government has assumed full responsibility for finding the solution, instead of inviting and using the coöperation of those men in the business world who from the standpoint of experience, character, and ability have proven their qualifications," he said.

Hook attacked those "in high places who are throwing sand in the bearings of private enterprise." He referred specifically to the philosophy of leaders of the Temporary National Economic committee, which, he said, is toward a new trend of government spending—first investment of public money in private business and then control of business by government.

Law Revision Is Needed.

"When government shows a willingness and a genuine desire to revise existing legislation to make it practical and workable, a large part of our unproductive capital and unemployed men will find employment," he said. "Then purchasing power will be increased, and the cycle of private spending restored."

Almost every conceivable type of experimental cure-all for the depression has been tried by the government at enormous expense, he said, except the only practical and costless one of encouraging business incentive. A whole structure of quasijudicial bureaus, agencies, and commissions has been erected today and stands ready to supplant individual freedom unless the people are convinced they are worth saving, he argued.

"In their place," he said, "looms the image of a centralized supergovernment. Most of these agencies make their own rules, regulations, and interpretations, which often infringe upon constitutional rights."

Exchange Has Less Operating Loss for Year

The Chicago Stock exchange yesterday reported its operating loss for the fiscal year ended April 30 was reduced 19 per cent from the preceding year. Operating losses were $87,112 and $107,699 in the respective periods.

Expenditures exceeded income by $78,540, exclusive of nonrecurring profit on sale of investment securities, the report disclosed. In the preceding fiscal year the expenditures exceeded income by $61,008 on the same basis.

Arthur M. Betts, chairman of the board of governors, said that the finance committee in June, 1939, adopted a policy, ratified by the board, of converting all investments into cash and maintaining a cash position pending a major change in investment market conditions.

Interest Income Ends.

"The proceeds realized from the sale of our investments substantially exceeded the net book values thereof," he said. "The policy followed in the sale reduced during the last year—and has currently eliminated—interest income."

Total cash on hand in all funds amounted to $1,983,538, the report revealed.

The report reflected substantial decreases in expenses over the last 10 years. Expenses of the fiscal year just ended, amounting to $205,498, were only 41 per cent of the highest, $497,277 in 1931. They were lower than at any time since the exchange left the old quarters in the Rookery building. Expenses in 1939 totaled $236,665, and in 1938, $296,978.

Other Figures Disclosed.

During the year ended April 30, the net worth of the general fund increased $113,482 to $1,671,277, the report disclosed. Outstanding at the close of the fiscal year were 348 memberships with an equity in the general fund of that total.

Special funds of the exchange on April 30 showed net worth as follows: Gratuity fund, $268,786; employes' benevolent fund, $2,037 current and $34,893 principal, and Robert Law Memorial, $13,965.

CHICAGO DEPARTMENT STORES' SALES SOAR 14.6 PCT. ABOVE '39

Department stores in Chicago experienced a boomlet during the week ended May 11 as sales soared 14.6 per cent over the corresponding 1939 week, the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago reported yesterday. Chicago led the entire 7th [Chicago] federal reserve district in percentage increase.

Four days of good shopping weather, buying for Mother's day, and a reflection of a higher rate of production in many basic industries of the district accounted for the gain.

Sales in the reserve area, composed of all of Iowa and major sections of Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, and Indiana, gained 11.2 per cent. Indianapolis stores reported a gain of 13.8 per cent; Detroit, 8.4, and Milwaukee, 3.8.

Atlanta led the nation with a gain of 24 per cent. Kansas City and St. Louis, in second and third places, were the only other principal cities to surpass Chicago.

Staples Prices Decline Under Steady Selling

Most commodity markets declined yesterday under waves of liquidation and in sympathy with falling securities markets. Hides broke nearly 2 cents a pound in the second fastest turnover on record. Crude rubber futures continued downward, falling almost a full cent.

Straits tin futures went against the trend to gain ½ to a full cent a pound and lead futures were unchanged to 3 points higher. Copper futures lost 0.13 to 0.15 cent a pound.

Neutrals Seeking Copper.

Rumania and Switzerland were reported inquiring for copper and it was reported that virtually none was available for export during June. Copper for export in July was quoted at 11.35 cents a pound at ship side.

Speculators liquidated holdings of rubber futures owing to the war situation, the market closing 70 to 95 points lower. Importers reported difficulties in effecting deliveries from the Dutch East Indies because of inability to get a bank quotation on Dutch guilders.

World sugar futures slumped 12½ to 14 points to the lowest prices of the season on a drop of 12½ to 14 points. Selling pressure was less severe in the domestic futures with prices down 1 to 6 points at the close.

Silk Off 7 to 11 Cents.

Raw silk futures declined 7 to 11 cents a pound. Bleachable cottonseed oil futures dropped 19 to 23 points after early strength in sympathy with lard. Cotton futures finished 8 to 23 points lower.

Raw hide sales aggregated 30,800,000 pounds with the futures contracts down 185 to 196 points at the close. Hide prices in Chicago fell ¾ cent a pound in the cash market.

Cocoa futures broke ½ cent a pound.

Wool tops futures, after early steadiness, weakened with other markets and tumbled 1.1 to 1.7 cents on sales estimated at around 1,000,000 pounds. Wool tops in the cash market fell 1½ cents a pound.

Coffee futures countered the trend, with Santos gaining 1 to 3 points in quiet trading. The Rio future was unchanged.

RAIL AND UTILITY BONDS BATTERED; OTHERS ESCAPE

New York, May 17 (AP).—Railroad and utility bonds were battered down in today's market, but other groups, including most foreign and United States government loans, escaped the selling wave.

Some of the low priced rails that perked up smartly with the general rise in stocks and bonds late Thursday were knocked down as much as 6 points, and a few utilities fared little better. "Selling hysteria" was the term used by brokers to describe the reasons behind the fresh decline.

Indicative of how closely the market was tied to war developments in Europe was the run-up of major fractions to more than 3 points in German and Danish government bonds and a drop of 2⅝ points in French 7s. Italian governments and municipals likewise were higher.

Walworth 6s dropped 12¼ points on sale of four bonds, and Commonwealth Edison convertible 3⅛s yielded 4⅞ on turnover of 117 bonds.

United States government issues closed 7-32ds of a point lower to 4-32ds higher.

Total sales of $9,729,000, par value, compared with $7,491,175 Thursday.

UNITED STATES STEEL TO BUILD LARGE FURNACE

Lorain, O., May 17 (AP).—The United State Steel corporation has approved construction of a $1,500,000 blast furnace at the Lorain works of its subsidiary, National Tube company, officials said today. The furnace, with a daily capacity of 1,100 tons of pigiron, will be one of the largest in the country.

It will replace a 650 ton furnace built in 1904, which has been out of operation since February, due to its poor condition. The works has four other furnaces producing 800 tons a day.

$500,000 Expansion.

Mansfield, O., May 17 (AP).—Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company announced today a $500,000 expansion of its plant here. A new metal stamping building will be the principal project. The construction, designed to increase by a third the plant's output of household refrigerators, will start next month.

Detroit Gets Trade Right in 11 Widely Known Stocks

Washington, D. C., May 17 [Special].—The Securities and Exchange commission today granted an application of the Detroit Stock exchange for unlisted trading privileges in 11 widely known stocks. All except one are listed on the New York Stock exchange. There was no opposition to the application, the SEC said. The issues are common stocks of Anaconda Copper Mining, Budd Wheel, Cities Service, Electric Auto-Lite, Electric Power & Light, Montgomery Ward, Pennsylvania railroad, Sears Roebuck, United States Rubber, United States Steel, and Yellow Truck class "B."

Credit Group Reports Rise in April Sales, Collections

St. Louis, Mo., May 17 (AP).—The National Retail Credit association reported today an average increase of 1.9 per cent in collection, 3.7 per cent in credit sales, and 4.3 per cent in total sales for 11,457 stores in 33 cities during April compared with the same month a year ago. The association attributed the gains to improved employment conditions.

BRITISH, FRENCH MONEYS WEAK; SWISS RALLIES

British and French currencies weakened yesterday on news of additional empire reverses in the war with Germany. The Swiss franc, recently under severe pressure, rallied.

The pound fell 5 cents in terms of the dollar in trading at New York. The closing price was $3.21. A loss of 0.0275 cent left the French franc at 1.82 cents. The Canadian dollar slipped ¾ cent to 80¼ cents.

Dispatches from Paris said that France, Britain, and Belgium had established exchange rates on the basis of 68 Belgian francs for 100 French francs, and 120 Belgian francs for the British pound. The Belgian franc has one-fifth the value of the Belgian belga.

At Ottawa, Ont., the Canadian foreign exchange control board ordered that all applications for permission to export securities or capital from Canada to Holland, Belgium, Luxemburg, Switzerland, and Italy be referred to the board for approval.

Ship Line to Continue War Traffic Despite Loss of Boat

New York, May 17 (AP).—The United States Lines which, with a Belgian concern is operating chartered belligerent ships in the hazardous trade of transporting war implements, declared today that it would continue the arrangement despite the loss of the old liner President Harding to German planes. The Harding, renamed the Ville de Bruges, was beached after an attack on Tuesday during which four members of her crew—two Canadians and two Belgians—were killed by an aerial torpedo.

Minneapolis to Duluth Air Service to Start June 1

Air service between Minneapolis-St. Paul and Duluth by Northwest Airlines will start June 1, Croil Hunter, president, announced yesterday. Planes will connect with east and westbound ships of the line and will make two round trips daily. A fleet of seven 10 passenger Lockheed planes will be used.

TEXAS CORP. SETS INTEREST RATE ON NEW DEBENTURES

Washington, D. C., May 17 [Special].—The Texas corporation today filed an amendment to its registration statement with the Securities and Exchange commission reporting an underwriting syndicate of 81 banking firms for its proposed $60,000,000 issue of debentures due May 15, 1965. The amendment also set the interest rate at 2¾ per cent.

Principal underwriters and amounts contracted for are Dillon, Read & Co., $7,500,000; Blyth & Co., $2,000,000; First Boston corporation, $2,500,000; Kuhn, Loeb & Co., $3,250,000; Lehman Brothers, $3,000,000; Mellon Securities corporatoin, $2,750,000; Morgan Stanley & Co., $3,500,000, and Smith, Barney & Co., $3,000,000.

The debentures will be redeemable on 30 days' notice at 103½ to and including May 15, 1945, and thereafter at decreasing rates.

WIEBOLDT SALES IN QUARTER RUN ABOVE YEAR AGO

Wieboldt Stores, Inc., one of Chicago's leading groups of department stores, yesterday reported that net sales in its first quarter, which ended April 27, totaled $5,662,179. The total was 0.3 per cent larger than the $5,647,535 in the first quarter of 1939.

Directors of the company declared regular quarterly dividends of $1.25 per share on the $5 prior preferred stock, and 75 cents per share on the 6 per cent preferred stock, payable July 1 to stock of record June 17.

Linseed Oil Price Lower Despite Reduced Imports

Boiled linseed oil was quoted at 87 cents a gallon in 50 gallon drums in Chicago yesterday. This price compared with 91½ cents on March 18. Local paint houses reported that the decline occurred despite the fact that high war risk insurance and British export restrictions have reduced imports of the oil. United States and Canadian production has proved ample to date, they said.

WHEAT SLUMPS ON NAZI CLAIM OF SUCCESSES

Falls 3⅝ to 4⅝ Cents on Chicago Board.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

Closing prices on the July delivery of principal grains on the Chicago Board of Trade:

	Yesterday.	Thursday.	Yr. ago.
Wheat	$ .84⅝	$ .89¼	$ .74⅜
Corn	.61	.63¼	.51⅝
Oats	.34	.35	.32¼
Rye	.48¾	.51¼	.51⅝
Soy beans	.93⅛	.95	.95⅜

American wheat prices tumbled again yesterday following reports that German troops had broken thru the French lines. Futures dropped 4¼ to 5¼ cents from the early high and closed with net losses on the Chicago Board of Trade of 3⅝ to 4⅝ cents, just about wiping out all of Thursday's upturn. The Winnipeg wheat market slumped 4½ to 5 cents, closing at the bottom.

At no time did wheat sell above the finish on Thursday despite fair buying at times attributed to mills and speculators.

Rains Help Lower Prices.

The downturn in wheat was helped along by reports of rain in parts of Kansas and Nebraska and in northern Saskatchewan, a big producing area. The latter section was badly in deed of moisture, a Canadian National railways report said, adding that crop conditions were generally favorable in other sections of the three prairie provinces.

Apprehension regarding developments in the Mediterranean and in southeastern Europe is said to be keeping many speculators out of the market. Many holders of wheat futures have liquidated during the last few days. At the opening yesterday there was a total of 97,432,000 bushels of wheat future contracts on the Chicago Board of Trade, the Commodity Exchange administration reported, a decrease of 7,929,000 bushels from the preceding day. On May 9 the open interest was 129,259,000 bushels.

Corn Follows Wheat Down.

Corn showed considerable strength early on buying induced by limited country offerings of cash grain and an active eastern demand. The market weakened late in the session with wheat and closed 2 to 2⅜ cents lower. Oats finished ¾ to 1¼ cents lower and rye lost 2½ to 3⅜ cents. Soy beans declined ½ to 2 cents a bushel.

Lard showed stubborn resistance to selling pressure and closed 2½ cents higher to 2½ cents per 100 pounds lower. Rumors that the FSCC would announce shortly plans to purchase lard had considerable influence on sentiment.

NAME 5 TRUSTEES FOR LAKE SHORE ATHLETIC CLUB

Five trustees for the Lake Shore Athletic club, 850 Lake Shore drive, were appointed yesterday by Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward to act under a voting trust agreement in reorganization of the club. The plan for reorganization under section 77B of the bankruptcy law was confirmed recently by the court.

The trustees are Marshall Keig, who was trustee during the reorganization proceedings; J. DeForest Richards, president of the National Boulevard bank of Chicago; L. J. Cullen, chairman of the first mortgage bondholders' committee; Herbert E. Devereaux, vice president of the Lake Shore Trust and Savings bank and former president of the club, and John H. Wigmore, dean emeritus of the Northwestern university law school.

THREE DIRECTORS ACT FOR RAIL AT COURT HEARING

Federal Judge John P. Barnes yesterday authorized a special committee of the board of directors of the Chicago and North Western railway to represent the railroad and all the stockholders at a court hearing June 24 on the reorganization plan promulgated by the Interstate Commerce commission.

The committee of three includes Robert K. Stuart, retired Chicago attorney; Benjamin F. Kauffmann, Des Moines insurance company executive, and Robert E. Smith, New York. The reorganization plan would wipe out the equity of both the common and preferred stock holders and both these groups are objecting to the elimination of their holdings.

One of American Laid-Up Ships Sold to British Firm

Washington, D. C., May 17 [Special].—The maritime commission today approved the sale to a British buyer of the first of the government's 120 laidup ships to be sold to a foreign buyer. The Tolosa was sold to Runciman, Ltd., of London, England, on a bid of $267,187. The ship West Kedron was awarded to J. H. Winchester & Co. of New York for $221,600.

I. C.'s Streamlined Green Diamond Ends 4th Year

The Illinois Central railroad's Green Diamond, Chicago-Springfield-St. Louis streamliner celebrated its fourth birthday yesterday with cake for every passenger. The train has traveled 800,000 miles and carried a quarter of a million passengers, J. V. Lanigan, passenger traffic manager for the road, said.

Cash Customer Chief Topic at Retailer Clinic

The cash customer was the principal subject for discussion yesterday at the concluding session of the second annual American Retail Federation forum at the Stevens hotel. The federation represents 250,000 retail stores thruout the nation.

Mrs. Saidie Orr Dunbar, president, General Federation of Women's Clubs, Washington, D. C., told what the consumer expects from the retail merchant. Louis E. Kirstein, Boston merchant, gave his advice as to what merchants should do to retain the favor of customers. And Arthur R. Kaiser, manager tax department, Sears, Roebuck & Co., told how the customer's buying power is being decreased by the ever mounting tax burden.

Seek Voluntary Improvement.

Mrs. Dunbar said that women have organized all over the country for the study of how to shop better. The basic aim of the consumer movement, she said, is to help persons with given money incomes to have greater use and enjoyment of the goods they buy.

She declared that women have been giving a great deal of time, thought and energy to the development of voluntary changes in methods of advertising, selling, and buying goods, which may help consumers to buy more efficiently. However, they wish to avoid mandatory changes so far as possible, "desiring to keep business enterprise as free from government regulation as is compatible with the public welfare."

Urges Discussion of Problems.

Saying that in no other country have retailers on the whole done so good a job in giving the customers what they want at reasonable margins of profit, Kirstein declared that it is high time for merchants to begin meeting with consumer groups, clubs, and societies to interpret to them the problems of retailing.

Kirstein said it should be the common interest of retailers to inform customers that their common interest lies in maintaining a competitive market, and any attempt to keep prices up means so much money taken out of the customers' pockets. He added that it would be well to impress on the public how much the cost of labor for various services enters into the prices of goods sold at retail.

Taxes Paid by Consumer.

Kaiser said manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers each have their own taxes to pay to the various federal, state, and local governmental units. But in the long run it is the consuming public that pays the tax bill because each of the groups must recover the taxes as a part of its costs. Whether the retailer knows it or not he is serving as a tax collector.

In 1928, Kaiser continued, 12.3 per cent of the national income was consumed by taxes and this amount had grown to 23.2 per cent in 1938. As each year more of the people's earnings are diverted to avenues of government expense, he said, so is their purchasing power at their retail store diminished.

ILLINOIS BUILDING PERMITS RISE IN FIRST 4 MONTHS

Valuation of building permits issued in Illinois during the first four months of 1940 represented an increase of 30.8 per cent over the same period last year, according to the Illinois department of labor. Reports from 165 cities showed that during the first four months of 1940 there were $30,729,000 in permits as compared with $23,492,000 during the same period this year.

April permits numbered 3,907, representing $9,794,000 in proposed construction of all types, compared with 2,587 permits, for buildings valued at $6,496,000, in April of last year. This is a gain of 51 per cent in number and 50.8 per cent in value.

Residential building showed an even greater percentage gain. There were 59.1 per cent more homes with a 54.5 per cent increase in value. Permits for 1,042 residences, costing $5,696,000 were issued in April. For the same month last year there were 655 permits, valued at $3,687,000.

SUMNER PIKE, TEXAN, OFFERED VACANT SEC JOB

Washington, D. C., May 17 [Special.]—Sumner Pike, wealthy Texas business man who is serving as a "dollar-a-year man" in the department of commerce, has been offered appointment to the vacancy created on the Securities and Exchange commission by the resignation of Commissioner George Mathews, it was learned today.

Whether Pike had accepted the bid or not could not be learned. Pike has been serving for a number of months as an adviser to Secretary of Commerce Harry Hopkins and commerce department representatives on the temporary national economic [monopoly] committee.

STOCK MARKET FALLS AGAIN ON HEAVY SELLING

Many Issues Lowest in Two Years.

New York, May 17 (AP).—War fear psychology gripped the stock market today and leading issues slumped 1 to more than 9 points at one time, many to new lows for the last two years.

Early attempts to extend yesterday's rally, based on the administration's billion dollar defense expansion program, met failure. Steels and aircrafts, up at the start, soon began to crumble and were the principal losers during the remainder of the session.

The ticker tape frequently was behind trading and late in the final hour fell 7 minutes behind floor transactions. In the concluding period more than a million shares were traded. A little support came in near the finish and pivotal stocks managed to come back 1 to 2 points or so from bottom levels.

Causes of New Losses.

Starting the fresh relapse, brokers said, were reports of further German successes on the "Little Maginot" line, admission of the British that the military situation was "extremely serious," the approach of Nazi forces to within 100 miles of Paris, the sudden shift of the Belgian government from Brussels to Ostend, and heightened apprehension over possibility of the Italians joining the conflict.

The depressing foreign situation apparently more than offset bullishness over the huge rearmament plans, expected to buoy steel, aircraft, and other industries. Additional favorable business developments at home generally failed as a market prop.

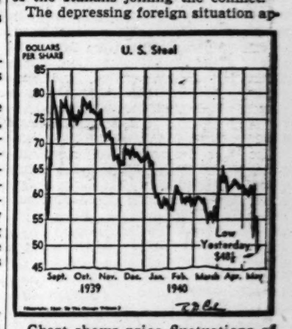

Chart shows price fluctuations of United States Steel common stock since the start of the war.

Wall streeters said the haste of investors and speculators to dump their holdings seemed to reflect a widespread belief that a German victory, putting a great power firmly committed to authoritarian economic principles in a dominant position in much of the world, could bode only ill for a democracy doing business on the free enterprise system.

Average Off 2 Points.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks ended with a drop of 2 points net at 41.3, low mark for this composite since June 20, 1938. Transfers totaled 3,074,340 shares compared with 2,355,180 the day before.

Principal weak spots included du Pont at 161, off 8 points; Chrysler, 61¾, off 7⅝; Douglas Aircraft, 82½, off 7¾; Bethlehem Steel, 47, off 7⅜ and Westinghouse, 89⅛, off 6⅜.

Down 2 to more than 5 were United States Steel, General Motors, United Aircraft, Lockheed, Glenn Martin, United States Rubber, Anaconda, Kennecott, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville, Union Carbide, Sears Roebuck, Loft, Santa Fe, Great Northern, Homestake Mining, and Standard Oil of New Jersey. Most rails held better than other groups and utilities showed resistance now and then.

On the Curb, Aluminum of America fell 15 points at 153. Lower by 1 to 6 points were Heyden Chemical, Humble Oil, Bell Aircraft, E. W. Bliss, Puget Sound Pulp, and Gulf Oil.

CHICAGO STOCKS LOWER

Prices dropped on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday and trading totaling 78,000 shares was in larger volume than in Thursday's rising market. Nine of the 10 volume leaders finished with losses ranging from ⅛ to more than 2 points.

Commonwealth Edison, leading in volume with 7,400 shares traded, closed 1⅞ points lower at 27½. Chicago corporation, second in number of shares dealt, held unchanged at 1. The other eight volume leaders, all lower, were Middle West, Aviation corporation, Armour Co., Sundstrand Machine Tool, Aviation and Transportation, Club Aluminum, Great Lakes Dredge and Dock, and Consolidated Oil.

The executive committee of the exchange approved an application of the Wahl company to list 117,078 shares of new $1 par values common stock, which will be admitted to trading on notice of issuance and registration with the Securities and Exchange commission.

DAY by DAY on the FARM by BOB BECKER

Bird War Is Over.

May 17, 1940.

THE war between the birds on the Du Page county farm is over. The purple martins staged an assault which forced their enemies out of their territory. Now they are masters of the seven homes put up for their benefit, and the starlings and sparrows have had to hunt other nesting sites.

When we visited the purple martin homes early in the week we witnessed one of the final skirmishes between a pair of martins and a troublesome English sparrow. The sparrow wanted to occupy one of the apartments in a martin house. The two martins thought otherwise, and they wasted no time in letting the sparrow know how they felt. One of the martins took off from the platform around the house, sailed into the air to hunt flying insects, then returned toward its home. As it approached the house it spied the sparrow, dove at it and drove it away. The sparrow refused to give up, however, so the second martin carried on the attack. After several defeats the sparrow decided it would be healthier elsewhere.

More Martins This Year.

The men who watch the martins each spring say that there are more on the farm this season than ever before. One of the men estimates that there are more than 40 pairs of these beautiful and beneficial birds in the seven houses. Each of the houses is atop a tall pole in the garden of a farm home, and each has a number of bird apartments, so there is plenty of room for all the martins which care to live there.

The annual program of hatching game birds on the farm already has produced results. Ten fuzzy, peeping mallard ducklings have been hatched from the game bird incubator in the basement of one of the farm homes. The day after they were hatched the ducklings were moved to a wire and wood pen in the yard of this farm home, equipped with a small electrically-heated hover.

New Hatching System.

A new hatching and brooding system is being utilized on the farm this season in order to test the practicability of mechanical hatching equipment as compared to the old system of setting game bird eggs under hens. The mallard eggs hatched in the new incubator were the first ones set this season. During the next few weeks the electrically-heated box will be filled with partridge, quail, and pheasant eggs of several species.

The incubator is equipped with a thermostat which keeps the temperature within one or two degrees of the mark set. It was placed in the basement of a farm home so that the temperature outside the incubator would be consistently cool and the air slightly humid. The incubator contains water pans to keep the air inside the box moist, and the eggs are turned daily by means of a steel crank which extends outside the box.

DEFENSE FINANCE PROBLEM UP TO NEXT CONGRESS

Administration to Avoid Action at This Time.

the government's fiscal situation is healthy, pointing out that, while congress has exceeded some budget requests, it has made substantial cuts in others. He believed that with the return of agency capital to the treasury total appropriations will reach a "stand-off" with budget recommendations.

Opposes Excess Profit Tax.

Harrison said that any attempt to hit the national debt limit would run into trouble, even if an expansion of only 2 billions were asked to permit defense financing. He reiterated opposition to excess profits taxes, declaring that such a levy is unfair to manufacturers who invest large sums of capital in plants at the request of the government and then have most of their revenues taken from them.

The President has suggested that plants be loaned government money by the Reconstruction Finance corporation for expansion. Jesse Jones, after his conference with Mr. Roosevelt, told reporters: "We have plenty of money and there can be no demand for plant expansion that we can't meet. We will be glad to be of assistance in this situation." He recalled several instances of airplane plants expanding with RFC capital.

Suggests No Interest Bonds.

Representative Lyle H. Boren [D., Okla.] today made the first move in congress toward financing the arms expenditures by introducing a resolution to authorize the issuance of 2 billion dollars in "preparedness bonds," in denominations of $5 and multiples thereof, without regard to the legal debt limit. They would mature in 10 years and not bear any interest. His proposal resolution, said Boren, is the answer to the problem whether to raise the debt limit or vote new taxes. "If patriotism is ever to be manifested it should be manifested now," he said.

Mr. Roosevelt did not mention financing of the new armament program in his special message to congress yesterday and he has repeatedly minimized its importance. Financing of the program is a minor detail, he told his press conference the other day.

The President's lack of interest in financing details may be explained by the monetary tricks which he holds up his sleeve. Under the "emergency" powers previously granted to him by congress Mr. Roosevelt could create more than 13 billion dollars in new money merely by issuing executive orders. These powers could be used to finance national defenses, or they could at least be leveled at congress as an inflationary threat if congress rebels against raising the debt limit or imposing more taxes.

Monetary Powers Listed.

This money could be provided by the following steps: [1] Further devaluation of the dollar, which would yield a "profit" of nearly 3½ billion dollars on the present gold hoard of nearly 19 billions; [2] revaluation of silver holdings in line with the action on gold would produce a profit of about 5 billions on silver holdings; [3] issuance of 3 billions in "greenbacks" as provided in the Thomas amendment to the agricultural adjustment act of 1933; and use of the new inactive exchange stabilization fund of more than 2 billions.

Administration officials have asserted that these powers would not be used except in event of "serious national emergency," but as long as they are on the statute books their use is possible.

RECOVERY FACES 3 BARRIERS, SAYS LOAN OFFICIAL

Policies of New Dealers Are Blamed.

Three basic problems must be solved before national welfare in the United States is advanced, Carl Taylor, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Building and Loan league, told the Executives' club yesterday. These are:

1. American business must convince American citizens that they have a country worth saving.

2. It must be demonstrated clearly that the greatest hope for future improvements in the living standards of the masses lies in the production of useful commodities from the raw elements of the earth and not thru social and political schemes.

3. The people must realize that material prosperity is founded on a basic understanding of the universe's physical and spiritual laws.

Farmer and Banker.

Taylor lives on and operates a large dairy farm near Milwaukee and is a director of a Milwaukee bank.

"I'm what is known as a bewildered Democrat," he said, "because the present leaders of the party have forsaken its belief in states' rights, free initiative, a balanced budget, and a real future for the people of this country.

"The pessimism of present governmental leaders has caused millions of Americans to lose sight of the advanced living standards built up by the American system. Our people must be shown that an hour of labor in this country will produce more food, clothing, shelter, entertainment, and luxury than a similar hour of labor in any other country in the world at any time in all history."

Criticizes New Deal.

Taylor decried the methods of "political quacks who promise some one else's wealth in exchange for votes." The New Deal system, he said, is, in effect, that the working people are either to have Utopian working conditions or they are going to be in misery on relief.

Business must emphasize, he added, that there is a constantly improving middle ground on which men working for what their efforts are producing enjoy the highest living standards in the world.

State Employment Service Places 14,298 During April

The Illinois state employment service announced yesterday that it placed 14,298 persons in jobs in April, compared with 11,725 in March and 11,427 in April, 1939. "Nearly all of last month's replacements were in private industry," the report said.

BANK STOCKS

First National bank shares declined another 8 points to $203 bid yesterday. Continental Illinois fell 4½ points, Chicago Title 3, and City National 2. American National, Harris Trust, and Northern Trust were unchanged.

WAR'S EXTENSION PUTS CLOUD OVER BUSINESS FRONT

Outlook Otherwise Is Regarded Favorable.

Washington, D. C., May 17 (AP).—The bureau of agricultural economics reported today that extension of the war to the Low Countries had injected a new element of uncertainty into an otherwise favorable outlook for gradual improvement in domestic business conditions during the next few months.

Prior to the German invasion of Belgium and the Netherlands, the bureau said, the industrial prospect and demand for farm commodities definitely pointed to gradual improvement this summer.

"Since then the smashing German drive, which may settle the war one way or another within a shorter period of time than most people had expected, has added an element of uncertainty," it said. "Early termination of the war, or mounting indications that it may end within a year or less, would necessitate complete reappraisal of the outlook. This is especially true if Germany should be victor."

Could Alter Trend.

The bureau said actual cessation of hostilities would effect the industrial situation in many fundamental ways.

"Anticipation of this by business men might so affect confidence, buying, and inventory policies as to alter the trend of business activity during the next few months, even if these fears finally prove to be unwarranted.

"However, since the final outcome of the new German drive may not be known for quite some time and since the new vigor of the war will in the interim tend toward intensified allied buying of industrial products from the United States, appraisal of the probable future trend of business conditions over the next few months remains essentially unchanged."

The bureau said that if the war turned into a more vigorously conducted seesaw conflict on a new front the effects on United States business conditions during the remainder of 1940 might be definitely stimulating.

Production up Slightly.

Industrial production, after experiencing only minor fluctuations since the end of March, was said to have turned slightly upward in the first half of May. The bureau said conditions in the leading industries still indicated, however, that altho the fall and winter business recession had ended, there would be no immediate sharp rise sufficient to stimulate consumer demand in any marked degree. Ample inventories of industrial goods in the hands of processors and distributors probably would prevent a rapid recovery, the bureau said.

The bureau reported that the war was continuing to have an adverse effect on exports of American farm products. Except cotton which is still being exported as a result of orders placed in past months, exports of nearly all important farm commodities to the belligerents have practically ceased. Exports to European neutral nations, also are being curtailed drastically.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Hogs continued to advance at the Chicago stock yards yesterday, while prices at some other points held steady. The Chicago price level remained well above most other yards, with top loads going at $6.25, up 15 cents for the day and 45 cents above midweek. The average gained 10 cents for the day at $5.90 and was 35 cents above midweek. Advances in the various classes ranged from 10 to 20 cents.

Lamb prices slumped mostly 25 cents despite a decrease in receipts.

Not enough cattle arrived to establish quotations. The few steers and yearlings available sold steady.

CHAIN STORE TAX BILL IS OPPOSED BY FEDERAL UNIT

Declares Plan Puts New Burden on Business.

Washington, D. C., May 17 (AP).—The commerce department expressed opposition to the Patman chain store tax bill today, contending that it would add new burdens to business, and listed seven specific objections.

Edward J. Noble, assistant secretary of commerce, in a letter to Chairman Doughton [D., N. C.] of the house ways and means committee, said that the bill was not favored by farmers, consumers, or "any substantial group of fair minded business men."

Edward J. Noble.

The bill would impose a graduated scale of taxes on interstate chain stores which would be multiplied by the number of states in which such organizations operate.

Lists Seven Objections.

The letter, made public by Doughton, listed these objections:

1. It proposed "the most extreme use yet suggested" for the taxing power, not to raise revenue, but to prohibit interstate business.

2. It would add "a most vicious barrier" to legitimate interstate trade.

3. It would raise the cost and lower the standard of living of consumers with lowest incomes.

4. It would destroy the business of those who have promoted distribution short cuts without resorting to unfair or oppressive practices.

View On Employment.

5. It is "fallaciously supposed" to increase employment, but would not do more than shift employment and probably would result in less continuity and lower standards of employment.

6. It would prevent mass production from yielding its greatest benefit.

7. It "opens the door for legitimate penalizing all interstate businesses when intrastate sellers desire freedom from competition."

Universal to Increase Its Full Length Film Output

Universal Pictures Company, Inc., large film producer and distributor, will produce more feature [full length] pictures in the 1940-'41 season than in the year just closed, Nate Blumberg, president, said in Chicago yesterday. He was here to attend a three day sales meeting beginning today at the Drake hotel. Universal, which made 57 feature films last year, will produce 61 such pictures this year, Blumberg said.

United Artists to Spend 3 Million on Advertising

United Artists corporation and film producers associated with it will spend $3,000,000 in the next year for intensified advertising of pictures, Lynn Farnol, advertising and publicity director, told western division sales delegates yesterday at the Congress hotel. About 70 executives and salesmen held the first formal sessions of a three day meeting.

COTTON

Cotton markets were nervous yesterday advancing early on trade buying and short covering only to break sharply in sympathy with securities and other commodity markets and then rally late in the session on renewed buying by mills. Closing trades were .08 to .23 cent a pound lower.

Liverpool declined the permissible limit of 25 English points for the third straight day. The British cotton controller announced that the ban on yarn contracts for home consumption had been lifted and stated the industry need have no anxiety regarding supplies of raw materials for many months.

Spot cotton closed .04 to .15 cent lower with New York, 9.72 cents; New Orleans, 9.51 cents; Houston, 9.36 cents and Galveston at 9.25 cents a pound. Prices follow:

GETS POWER SHOVEL ORDER.

Bay City Shovels, Inc., Bay City, Mich., has been awarded a $104,200 war department order for gasoline driven, crawler type power shovels and platform trailers for transportation of power shovels.

WARD DIRECTORS WITHDRAW PLAN TO OFFER STOCK

Directors of Montgomery Ward & Co., large Chicago mail order and retail store enterprise, yesterday decided to withdraw their plans to offer common stock to stockholders at $40 a share in order to raise about $31,000,000 of additional working capital. They also elected Earl G. Ward controler of the company to fill the vacancy made when John A. Donaldson resigned recently.

The decision on the offering, they said, was made because of "the recent international events and their effect upon the financial market."

Drops Below Offer Price.

Along with most other active issues yesterday, Montgomery Ward stock dropped ½ point to close at 39⅜ on the New York Stock exchange. When the plan was first announced April 11, the stock was selling at $53.125 and the subscription rights were estimated to be worth about $1.70 each. The stock touched a low of 38½ both yesterday and Wednesday.

The company had planned to sell 772,910 shares of the common stock at $40 a share in the ratio of one share for each 6¾ shares held to common stockholders of record May 24. The rights to purchase were to expire July 10.

Ward, who is a native of Arlington, Ill., is 39 years old and has been with Montgomery Ward for 11 years. He has been the general auditor for five years.

Paper Offering Unchanged.

Sutherland Paper company, Kalamazoo, Mich., another midwestern company whose financing plans are threatened by the price weakness in common stock, does not contemplate any change in its arrangements, it was indicated yesterday. The plans call for offering of 43,050 shares of stock at $22 a share to stockholders of record June 3. The stock closed at 22¼ yesterday on the New York Stock exchange.

The unfavorable market was also responsible for the indefinite postponement of the offering of 3,000,000 shares of Libby, McNeill & Libby common stock in connection with the disposal by Swift & Co. of its Libby holdings, it was reported yesterday. The offering had been tentatively set for early next month by the underwriting syndicate headed by Glore Forgan & Co., it was understood.

"BOB HAS THE STUFF, —BUT WHO ELSE?"

"I wish some of the rest of our men had his training."

WHEN the bosses confer over promotions the search for trained talent is on.

If you want to know all there is to know about your job—and the next job above it—you will be interested in the specialized training offered to ambitious men and women in the Trade Schools, Instruction, Musical and Dramatic, Dressmaking and Millinery Schools, and Dancing Schools columns of the Tribune want ad section.

Decide today to take that first important step toward a better job and more pay. Read these columns in the want ad section of today's Tribune—now.

HOW TO MAKE A HIT AT HOME

What household is not made cheerier by the addition of a well-bred pet to the family circle? A magnificent Persian, for instance? Or a friendly, frolicsome puppy?

You have a wide variety of pets from which to select when you consult the Dogs, Cats, Birds and Pets column in the Tribune want ad section.

Here may be the solution to some particular gift problem. Or the opportunity to make your children supremely happy by bringing home a faithful and loving pet you can be sure they will enjoy. Review this column in today's want ad section of the Tribune.

CURE FOR SUMMER BLUES

One good cure for the usual summer let-down is to take a cottage somewhere in the country for the season. Now is the time to choose from the To Rent—Resort Properties column in the Tribune want ad section.

If you prefer to invest in a permanent summer home you will find the Real Estate—Resort Properties column a comprehensive guide to attractive values thruout the central states.

Because they get better results, want ad users place more total want advertising in the Tribune than they place in all other Chicago newspapers combined.

SERVING CHICAGO FOR 92 Years

JOSLYN COMPANY REPORTS HIGHER QUARTER PROFIT

Line Equipment Maker Nets $1.17 a Share.

Improvement in the earnings of Joslyn Manufacturing and Supply company, Chicago manufacturer of telephone line equipment and other products, was reported by the company yesterday for the three months ended March 31.

Profit was $198,593, equal to $1.17 a share on the outstanding common stock after provision for preferred stock dividends, B. S. Handwork, vice president, announced. In the first quarter of 1939 net income was $132,080, or 73 cents a share.

General Finance Earns Less.

The announced profit was after all charges, federal income taxes, and provisions for employés' profit sharing. The company has been a leader in the profit sharing movement.

General Finance corporation, Chicago, announced earnings results for April and for the five months ended April 30. April net income declined to $25,554, equal to 2½ cents a share, from $30,814, or 3 cents a share in the 1939 month. Five month profit increased, amounting to $142,026, equal to 14 cents a share, compared with $123,265, or 11 cents a share, in the corresponding period of last year.

Utility's Earnings Higher.

Northern Indiana Public Service company reported net income of $988,247, equal to 29 cents a common share, for the four months ended April 30. In the first four months of last year profit was $765,650, or 17 cents a share.

Twentieth Century-Fox Film corporation's profit for the 13 weeks ended March 30 this year tumbled to $353,376, from $1,224,250 in the corresponding period a year earlier. The report covered wholly owned subsidiaries with the exception of Roxy Theater, Inc.

FOIL AND THERMOSTATS.

[Copyright: 1940: By The Chicago Tribune.]

What is the present business of Reynolds Metals? Are its earnings up or down?—J. F.

Answer: Reynolds Metals company manufactures metal foil for packaging and advertising, as well as aluminum powder, paste, and sheets. The company's subsidiaries make thermostats, radiators, boilers, and enamelware. The foil products are sold mainly to manufacturers and jobbers. The main plant is located in Louisville, Ky., and factories are in Chicago and four other cities.

Long term debt of the company was $2,947,950 at the end of 1939. Capitalization comprised 50,000 shares of 5½ per cent cumulative convertible preferred stock of $100 par value and 1,023,662 shares of no par common stock. The stocks are listed on the New York Stock exchange. A majority of the common stock is owned by the United States Foil company.

Earnings of Reynolds Metals in the first quarter of 1940 soared 246 per cent to $671,666, equal after preferred dividends to 59 cents a common share, from $193,933 or 12 cents a share in the first 1939 quarter.

Consolidated net income of the company and subsidiaries, earnings per common share and dividends per common share in recent years compared as follows:

	Net income.	Earned per com. shr.	Div. per. com. shr.
1935	$1,398,000	$1.26	$1.00
1936	2,172,000	1.98	2.00
1937	1,516,000	1.21	1.00
1938	571,000	0.29	0.15
1939	1,527,000	1.22	....

Dividends on the preferred stock have been paid quarterly, and on the common stock, in each year from 1929 thru 1938 in varying amounts.

Net working capital of the company and subsidiaries at the end of 1939 was $6,450,477, as indicated by deducting current liabilities of $2,405,100 from current assets of $8,855,577. Total assets were $23,627,267.

BLACKED-OUT NEON.

Somewhere I read about the effect of black-outs on outdoor advertising in Canada. Do you know anything about it?—J. M.

Answer: The Claude Neon General Advertising company, Ltd., said in its recent annual report for 1939 that illuminated advertising sales in leading cities of the maritime provinces of Canada had dwindled to practically nothing because of black-outs. The company and its subsidiaries sell about 85 per cent of the outdoor advertising in Canada.

OUTPUT OF NEW CARS THIS WEEK IS PUT AT 99,030

Automobile production this week again was close to the 100,000 level with a total of 99,030 cars and trucks, compared with 98,480 last week and with 80,145 in the corresponding 1939 week, Ward's Automotive Reports, Inc., reported yesterday. The service said, however, that production may be expected to follow a "contracting seasonal course downward."

The Chicago Automobile Trade association reported that used car stocks in the hands of Cook county dealers on May 1 were down slightly as compared with April 1, but were higher than on May 1, 1939, and are still considerably above normal. Sales during April totaled 10,507 units and the inventory on May 1 totaled 13,544 units.

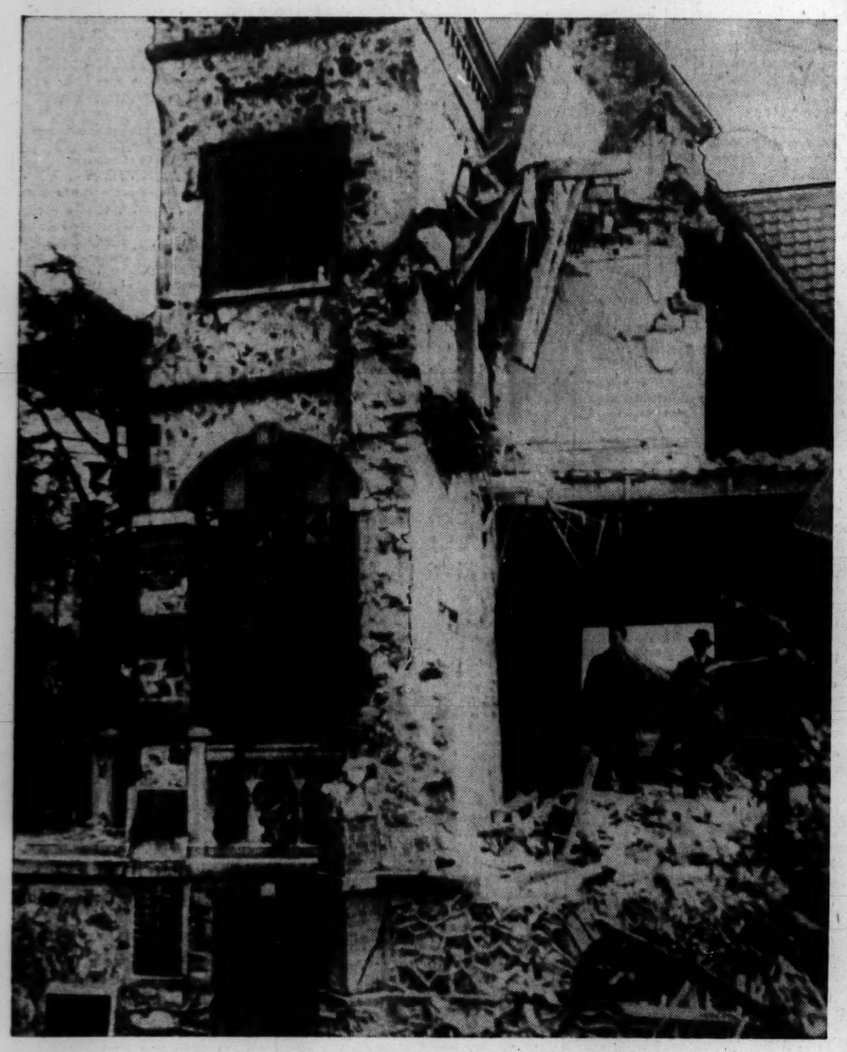
Nazi Army Sweeps Deeper Into France and Belgium—Maps Show New Territory Won by German Invaders

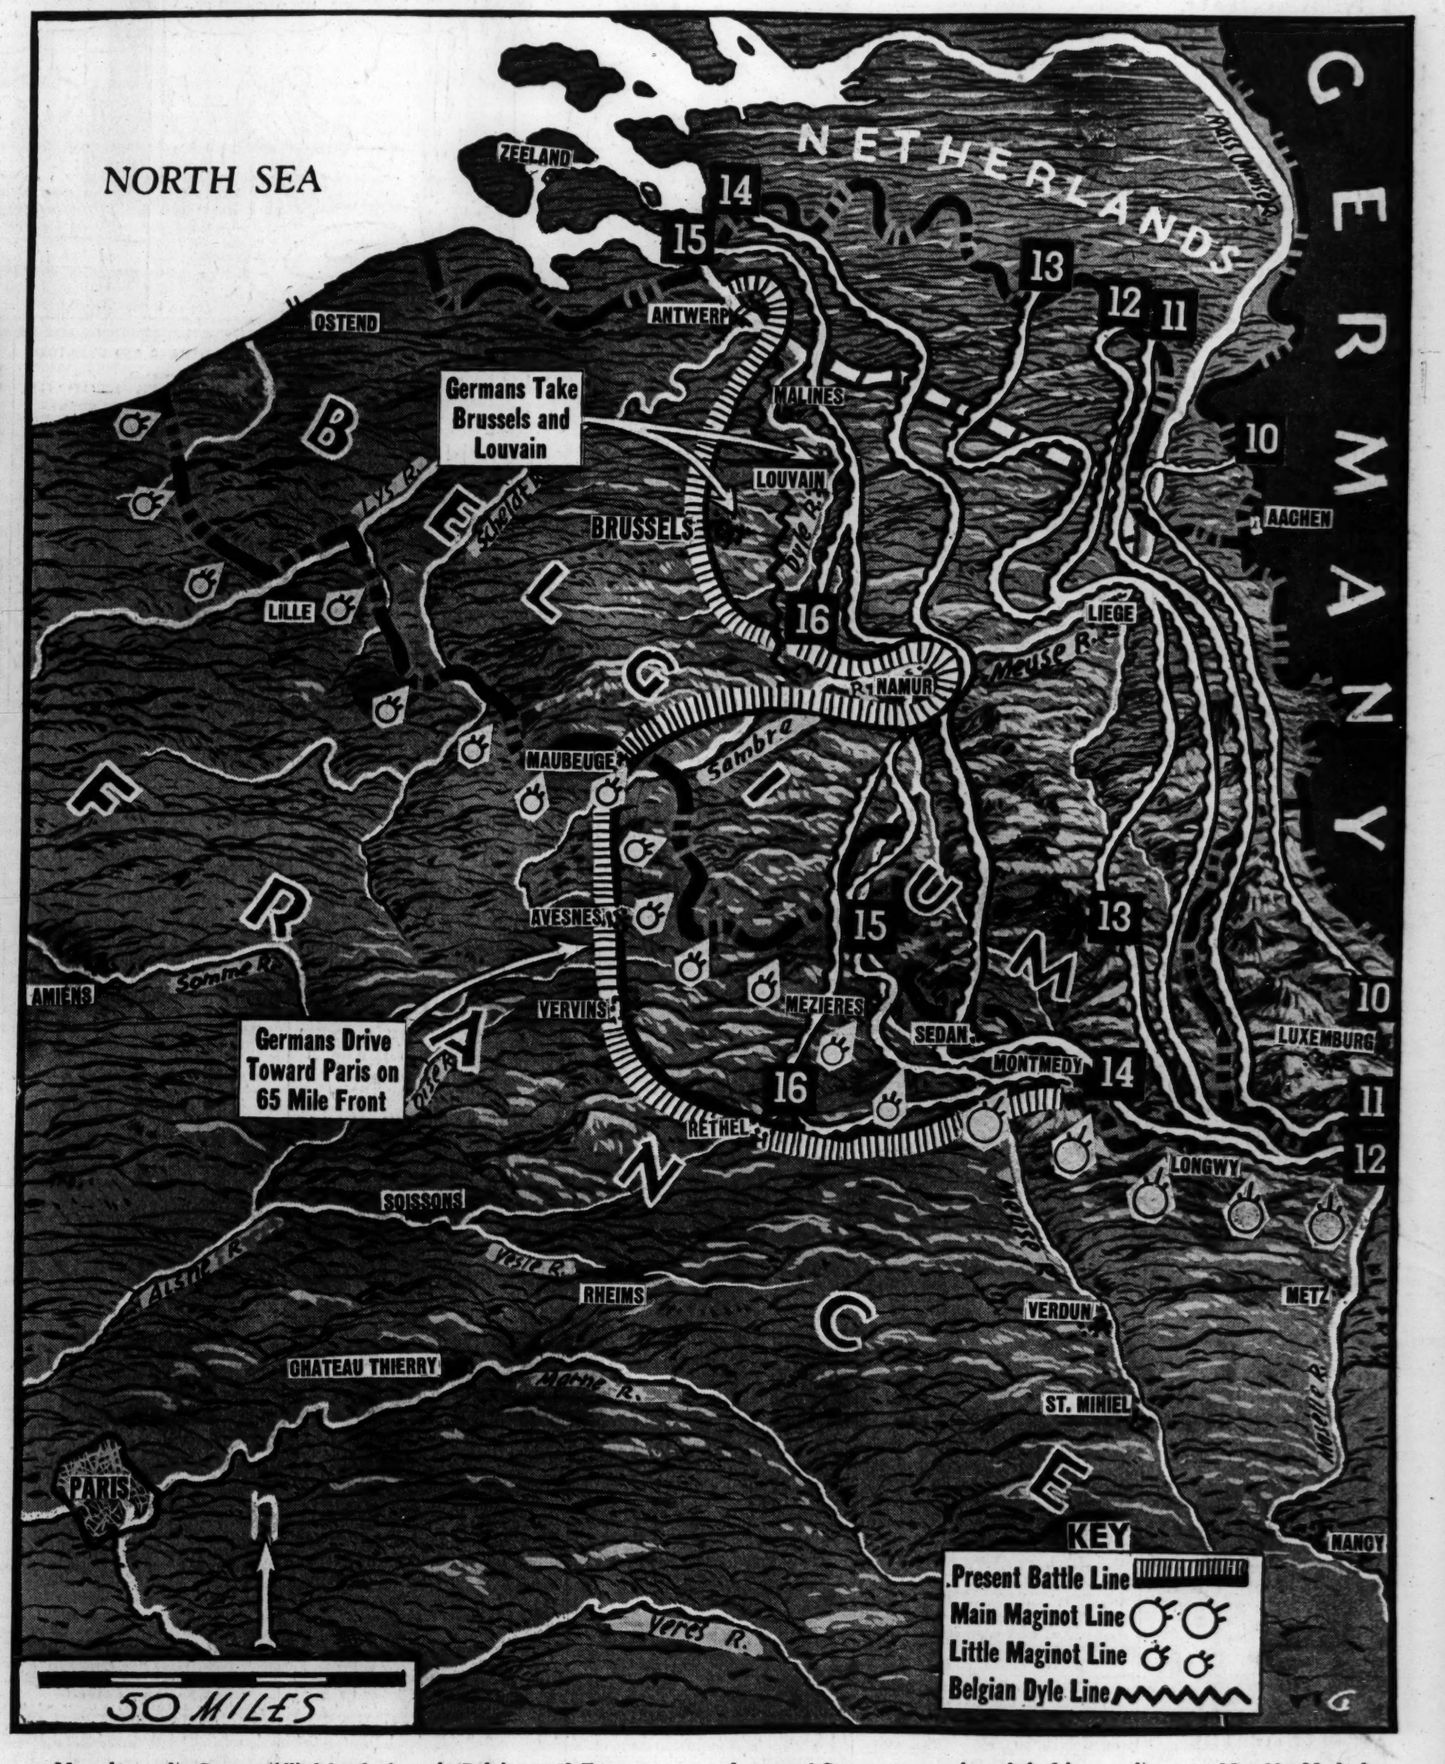


[Associated Press Wirephoto: Received in United States yesterday on Clipper plane.]

Bomb damage only 20 miles from Paris as "real war" started. This, according to French, is scene at Mery Sur Oise on May 10 after German air raid.

[Associated Press Wirephoto: Received in the United States yesterday on Clipper plane.]

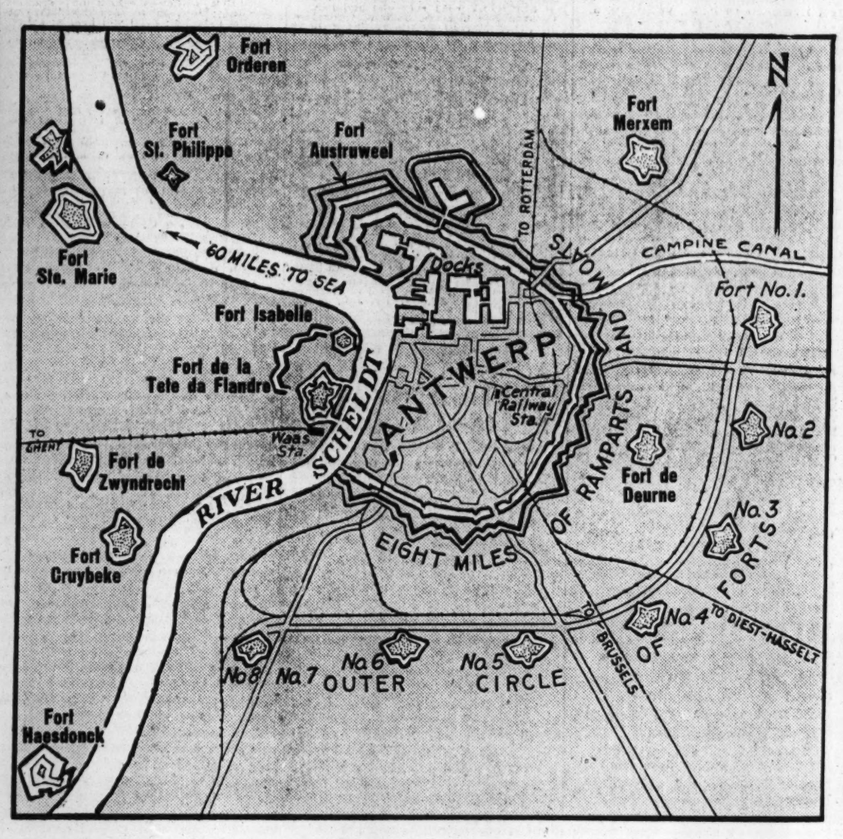
A woman "somewhere in Belgium" gives a flower to British soldiers who arrived with a motorcycle detachment on their way to battle the Germans.



Map shows the German-Allied battle front in Belgium and France, as reported in dispatches yesterday, with the great salient facing in the direction of Paris on a line from Maubeuge to Rethel. Also shown are the day by day advances of German troops since their drive was begun on May 10. Marked on each of these day by day battle lines is the May date on which the Germans held that front.

[Associated Press Wirephoto: Received in the United States yesterday on Clipper plane.]

A British light tank clatters down a street in a Belgian town on way to front, according to the British caption.



German troops were pounding at the outer fortifications of Antwerp, the largest city of Belgium, last night, according to Berlin high command. The city is 28 miles north of Brussels.

The theater of war, with the approximate extent of the German advance and the new drives that may follow if Switzerland is invaded or Italy enters the conflict.
